2 Men Charged In $439 Theft At Eagles Lodge

Local Men Await Arraignment in Municipal Court

Two men today are in jail here charged with the theft of $439.70 from the Eagles Lodge sometime during Sunday night or early Monday morning.

Gerald Franklin Coe, 44, of 1016 E. Temple St., and Milton Stapleton, 44, of 831 Sycamore St., were picked up by police Monday afternoon and held for questioning.

They were taken to the London Prison Farm Wednesday afternoon for lie detector tests and further questioning, and Thursday morning charges of theft were filed against them.

Coe was picked up at his home at 5:30 p. m., by Patrolmen Taylor and Sanderson, about four hours after Stapleton had been taken into custody at the Home Restaurant, 618 Rose Ave., by Patrolman Scott and Agent Anderson of the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Investigation at London.

They were questioned Tuesday and then taken to the lie detector the next day.

THE CHARGES were filed Thursday by Charles Osborne, secretary of the lodge, who had reported the break-in and theft to police at 5:15 a. m. Monday.

Osborne said he had been notified earlier that morning by Gene Tillett, the custodian, that he had found the glass in the door to the office, just off the main lobby of the lodge, broken a door taken off of a cabinet. The drawer from the cash register which had been placed in the cabinet, was missing when he came in, Tillett said.

The report said the outer door of the lodge had not been forced open and that none of the three safes in the office had been tampered with.

Coe and Stapleton are to be arraigned in Municipal Court Friday morning.

'REPRISAL' RAIDS AND REINFORCEMENTS—Israeli soldiers return with a truckload of booty after a bloody "reprisal" raid into Jordan. The rzid resulted in death to 50 Arab Legionaires, according to Israel, but Jordan said the Israelis lost 103 men. Jordan has reportedly asked neighboring Iraq for immediate military reinforcements.

Two More Tracts Annexed to City

The City of Washington C. H. was larger by 8.79 acres today following City Council's action Wednesday night on two annexation proposals.

Added to the city were the 7.96-acre Paul Lipschutz addition, off Highland Ave. adjacent to the Country Club and the Weldon Kaufman property on Route 35 (Dayton Ave.) with an area of .83 acre. The Kaufman home is immediately north of the Dr. Marvin H. Roszmann property which recently was annexed to the city.

Both the Lipschutz and Kaufman annexation requests had been approved previously by the Board of County Commissioners after public hearing, and Council's final action Wednesday night came after the prescribed 30-day waiting period. Both annexation ordinances were passed with suspension of the three-reading rule.

In a resolution which also reflected the continued growth of the city, Council authorized the Ohio Water Service Co. to install five fire hydrants in the Willabar Village Addition, off the Leesburg Rd., opposite the Fairgrounds. The addition is being developed by Willard Armbrust.

A PART of the 70 - minute Council session was devoted to answering questions asked by two delgations of E. Temple St. residents in connection with hot-mix resurfacing of Temple St. between Delaware St. and Memorial Hospital.

Council members and City Manager James F. Parkinson explained to the citizen groups that (1) a third 10-foot strip of asphaltic material will be added to the two strips already laid, (2) that a 30-foot surface should be more than adequate to handle traffic on that part of Temple St. even though the surfacing is 40 feet wide on more heavily traveled sections of the same street, (3) that an "offset" between the new surface and the remainder of the street, averaging about two inches, will be "feathered out" with crushed stone, (4)

Jurors Study Law, Judge Fires Them

TOLEDO (AP)—Because they decided to study the law for themselves, 12 jurors were discharged Wednesday in a murder trial.

The jurors were deliberating on the case against Leonard F. Pinkney, 38, accused of fatally stabbing Floyd Matthew Jr., 33, last March 31 in a cottage they shared.

Asst. Prosecutor Joseph J. Jan happened to walk by the jury room and heard a voice quoting from the statute governing second-degree murder.

Prosecutor Harry Friberg got a bailiff to unlock the jury room.

There were the jurors, busily pouring over a number of law books which had been left in the jury room.

"We just couldn't agree on the degree of guilty, and the books were right handy," they told Judge John W. Hackett who dismissed them.

Prosecutor Friberg is going to schedule a new trial.

Brownell Raps HST For 'Corruption'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—There have been 214 criminal indictments of Truman administration officials and employes and 101 have been convicted, says Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr.

The attorney general last night told a $100-a-plate dinner that Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has welcomed Truman's help.

"What is Stevenson's position on the matter of corruption?" the attorney general asked.

Brownell said the Truman administration was "the most scandalous and corrupt in the country's entire history."

New Tito Visit Stumps U. S. Aides

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials were amazed and bewildered today by the sudden trip of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia to Russia with Soviet Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev.

This unheralded move by the Yugoslav Communist leader could wreck the prospects for continuing U. S. aid and close friendly relations with Tito.

Acid Drink Kills Massillon Woman

MASSILLON (AP) — The death of Mrs. Carol Lee McCray, who died after drinking acid in her husband's office, was ruled accidental today by Coroner E. B. Mozes.

Police said Mrs. McCray, 38, drank sulphuric acid at the Empire Chemical and Research Co. while waiting for her husband, Joh nB. McCray, 40, to take her to lunch. McCray is plant manager for the firm.

According to police, Mrs. McCray asked her husband for a drink of water. He directed her to a sink in the rear of the room, then left momentarily. When he returned, he found her on the floor, screaming. Beside her was a jar from which she apparently drank the acid. She died an hour later.

City's Street Improvement Work Speeded

With about one third of the resurfacing of 4½ miles of Washington C. H. streets completed, prospects of finishing the remaining two thirds within the next two weeks are good, City Manager James F. Parkinson said Thursday.

"The weather will have a lot to do with the progress that can be made," Parksinson commented.

Temple St., being improved from North St. east to Memorial Hospital, is nearing completion. The hot mix resurfacing was started last Thursday and by Tuesday night it was completed as far as Delaware St. Workmen were finishing up the job from Delaware to the hospital Thursday.

The rate of progress, Parkinson explained, depends on several factors, among them the width of the street and the number of courses necessary to put it in shape. Some streets need only one course and others need as many as three on parts of them, he said.

NOW IN LINE for the improvement come Gregg St from North St. to Delaware St.; W. Ounce of Uranium May Fuel Big Plane

SANDUSKY (AP)—Today's bombers can carry more than 100,000 pounds of fuel.

But a piece of uranium 235 with the same energy content would weigh less than one ounce.

An aircraft expert made that statement Wednesday as ground was broken for the $5 million Plum Brook reactor which the government hopes will help develop an atom-powered airplane.

Abe Silverstein, associate director of the Lewis Laboratory in Cleveland, in pointing out the huge weight saving of nuclear fuel, said it is the "shining hope" for increasing the range of aircraft.

Palestine Sees Uneasy Peace

Israel, Jordan Halt Exchange of Gunfire

JERUSALEM (AP) — An uneasy calm hung over the Israeli-Jordan border today after a brief new flareup of gunfire.

A U. N. cease-fire appeal brought the short blaze of automatic weapons to an end Wednesday night with no casualties reported. It came less than 24 hours after a bloody Israeli strike into Jordan.

An Israeli army spokesman said the gunfire continued intermittently for about an hour and was the work of snipers in the Jordan-administered "Old City" of Jerusalem, shooting into the Israeli sector. He claimed there was no firing from the Israeli side.

U. N. truce observers reported that both Israeli and Jordanian forces immediately obeyed their call to halt Wednesday night's exchange in Jerusalem. But Jordan authorities hinted that large-scale Arab counteraction might be in the making unless the U. N. Security Council moves to stop such raids as the Tuesday-Wednesday overnight attack on Jordan.

IN NEW YORK, U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold called in representatives of Jordan, Israel and the Big Four powers for separate talks. He said he would ask the Security Council to act if the situation is not brought rapidly under control.

The attack at Husan, six miles southwest of Jerusalem and 2½ miles inside Jordan's border, was officially described by Israeli authorities as a warning against Arab "aggression" which the Israelis said had killed 36 of their people in the last six months.

U. N. truce headquarters announced today that 38 Jordan soldiers were killed and 9 were wounded in the Husan strike.

Accident Victim Treatment Studied

DAYTON (AP) — The Montgomery County coroner told a congressional subcommittee here Wednesday that quick medical treatment could have saved some persons he has seen fatally injured in traffic accidents.

Dr. Robert E. Zipf testified that there is a need in the medical profession to conduct research in the handling of traffic victims.

He also told the subcommittee that 52.7 per cent of the drivers who caused 28 driver-responsible deaths in Montgomery County between last Jan. 1 and Sept. 1 were between 16 and 25 years of age. The percentage is double the national average, he said.

Cancer Takes Life Of Babe Zaharias

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Babe Didrikson Zaharias, the greatest woman athlete the world has known, died today after a stubborn battle with one competitor she couldn't beat—cancer.

Into her 42 years, she packed athletic triumphs that began with AAU basketball tournaments, included AAU track, then the Olympics and finally the golf courses of the nation.

Almost from the start she was known affectionately to sports fans as The Babe, a tag hung on her by her family.

She showed versatility early. She could lick any kid in the block, won a marble tournament, and was first-place winner in a harmonica contest.

Cancer struck in 1953 just after she won the golf tournament named for her—The Babe Zaharias Open in Beaumont.

After she underwent surgery that time, she came back to win seven golf tournaments.

BUT THE CANCER couldn't be stopped and her life became a succession of operations and days following days in John Sealy Hospital here.

Last night, before the end came, her husband, George Zaharias, said the Babe was unable to speak. Her family was all at the hospital through the night.

"The Babe has been through an awful lot and if the Lord wants her, well, that's His will," the burly ex-wrestler said.

When the Babe was told she had deadly cancer, she didn't bat an eyelash.

"Well, that's the way the ball bounces," she said lightly.

The Babe lived as she played sports—with a refreshing abandon. She was always quick with the quip. She was utterly unpredictable.

After she had won the British Women's Golf championship at Gullane, Scotland, June 12, 1947, the first American to achieve that feat, staid British journalists edged close to her and inquired how she could hit a golf ball so terribly far.

"I just loosen my girdle and let the ball have it," the wisecracking Texan replied.

Mrs. Zaharias made an estimated million dollars in professional sports.

New Strategy Adds 2 or 3 Major Talks

President Says He Works in Battle as if He Had Chance to Lose

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he is going to make two or three more major campaign speeches than he had counted on.

Eisenhower told a news conference, however, he is not going to do any barnstorming, and not going out whistle - stopping. He didn't say when or where the extra speeches, beyond the five or six he originally contemplated, would be made.

As for why he is stepping up his campaign pace, Eisenhower said it is simply because so many representations have been made to him by good friends.

He said he found himself a little weak about not accepting.

And, Eisenhower said, as far as he knows there is no health question involved at the moment in increasing his campaign pace.

A reporter asked whether the enlarged campaign schedule means that Eisenhower anticipates a "closer race."

The President said he doesn't anticipate anything but always works in a battle as if he had a chance to lose it.

Earlier, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that "gosh, no," the doctors are placing no limit on the number of major speeches Eisenhower can make during the campaign. And to a question whether there were medical limits on the whole range of campaign activities, he replied that "I have heard of none."

HAGERTY GAVE no reason for the shift in campaign plans and he didn't reply to an inquiry whether Eisenhower was beginning to "run scared."

Just this week Eisenhower added a side expedition to Cleveland to a journey next Monday to Lexington, Ky. Republican Sen. George Bender has a tough fight on his hands in Ohio to hold his seat against the challenge of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

So far, Eisenhower has delivered two major campaign addresses, one from here on peace last week.

Adlai Feels Ike Shuns Leadership

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, scrapping hard right under Harry Truman's nose, accused President Eisenhower Wednesday night of "consistent rejection of the positive responsibilities of leadership."

With the former President smiling approval, Stevenson told a cheering overflow audience in the 2,300-seat Municipal Audisotium:

"There is only one question to be asked about the Eisenhower administration. That is: 'Who's in charge here, anyway?' Who in this businessman's administration keeps the store?"

Only last month at the Democratic National Convention Truman fought to keep the presidential nomination from going to Stevenson. Truman called Stevenson a "defeatist" then.

Wednesday night, in the heart of Truman's Missouri stamping grounds the former President introduced Stevenson as a man with the "ability and experience" required for the White House.

Then Truman sat and beamed as Stevenson ripped into the Eisenhower administration and fired sharp criticism at the President himself. When Stevenson concluded, Truman told newsmen:

"It was an excellent speech, right down the alley."

WHEN A REPORTER suggested Stevenson "game 'em hell" in something like the old Truman style, the former President grinned and said of the Republicans:

"You don't have to give 'em hell—just tell the truth on 'em."

Stevenson spoke of Truman as a "strong President, a man who rose with all the Missouri toughness that is in him to meet the greatest responsibility on earth."

He said that "in Mr. Truman's language" the President of the United States should be a man who does not "pass the buck." He said Truman never did.

He continued:

"I want to make it perfectly clear that, when I speak of a strong presidency, I am not talking about the Prsident's health or any personal aspect of the situation in Washington.

"I am talking about the conception of the presidency that Mr. Eisenhower has announced publicly and followed in practice. I am not 'attacking' the President, as the newspapers say.

"I am talking, rather, about what has seemed to me to be his philosophical attitude toward the office and his consistent rejection of the positive responsibilities of leadership—a rejection which began not last fall, but in January 1953."

Stevenson's mention of last fall obviously was an allusion to Eisenhower's heart attack.

Segregationists 'Losing Battle'

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — Attendance increased at the boycotted Weaverton elementary school today and a pro-segregationist said "We're losing our battle."

The Weaverton school reported 267 white students in class with 5 Negroes as compared with 226 the day before.

Tentative Tax Rates Set by Budget Board

Tentative tax rates have been set by the Budget Commission for Fayette County for next year.

The rates are tentative because four levies to be voted on at the Nov. 8 election were included, and because two bond issue, also to be voted on, were not taken into consideration, County Auditor Harry Allen, a member of the Budget Commission, explained.

If any of the levies are voted down or the bond issues are approved by the voters at the election, the rates will have to be revised, the auditor pointed out.

THE LEVIES to be voted on that are included in the rates are:

County rate —.25 of a mill for the Mt. Logan Tuberculosis Sanitorium;

Township and municipality rate—two-tenths of a mill for the Health Department;

Union Township rate—one-tenth of a mill for cemetery purposes;

Washington C. H. rate — 2.5 mills for school operation.

The Bond Issue proposals not included in computing the rates are:

Washington C. H. district — 2.18 mills for building program;

Miami Trace district — 2.58 mills for building program.

The tentative rates approved by the Budget Commission on the basis of the budgets of the subdivisions are:

Move To Enjoin Grain Tax Collection Due in Few Days

A petition for an injunction to halt the collection of the personal property tax on grain stored under contract with the federal Commodity Credit Corp. will be filed in Common Pleas Court here either the latter part of this week or the first of next.

Atty. Rollo M. Marchant, Wentz Rd., said Thursday morning that he is preparing the petition an hopes to have it completed within the next few days.

He said the petition will ask a temporary injunction until the request for a permanent injunction is decided.

Marchant's disclosure that he is planning to seek a restraining order through the court came as somewhat of a surprise. It was made to an Associated Press reporter in Columbus Wednesday at a hearing on Atty. Ray R. Maddox's case before the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals involving wheat stored with the government.

MARCHANT, a wheat grower as well as an attorney, said in Columbus that he would seek the injunction on behalf of himself and other grain growers.

He said he had consulted with officials of the Farm Bureau here before he started preparing to seek an injunction. The Farm Bureau has gone on record as opposed to the tax on stored grain, and its directors voted an appropriation to carry the fight to the state Supreme Court if necessary.

Fremont Slayer Loses in Appeal

COLUMBUS (AP)—Samuel Tannyhill, 26, must die in Ohio's electric chair Oct. 26 for the brutal 1955 slaying of Shirley Bradford, a Fremont waitress, unless Gov. Frank J. Lausche intervenes.

The Ohio Supreme Court set the execution date Wednesday when it denied Tannyhill's application for a rehearing of his first degree murder conviction.

The Ohio Pardon and Parole Board already has heard Tannyhill's plea for clemency and its secret recommendation will be sent to the governor.

U. N. Council Votes To Air Both Sides of Suez Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Security Council has voted to debate conflicting Western and Egyptian charges on the Suez dispute following U. S. refusal to go along with British-French attempts to throw out the Arab complaint.

Differing from its other big three partners, the United States voted with six other countries, including Russia, to include the Egyptian complaint on the council agenda. Britain, France, Australia and Belgium abstained.

The council debate on the Suez dispute will begin late next week, probably Thursday or Friday.

The Egyptian complaint charges Britain and France with actions threatening world peace. The British-French charge protests against Egyptian nationalization of the Suez Canal Co.

The United States joined in the council decision to debate the British-French complaint first. A Yugoslav proposal to take up the two at once received only two affirmative votes — Yugoslavia and Russia.

U. S. DELEGATE Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. explained his government, in voting to debate the charge, only wanted to see that all points of view were heard. He said this did not imply in any way that the United States supported Egypt's charges against Britain and France.

French and British officials abroad privately have made no secret of their impatience with the U. S. attitude on the Suez, which they consider much less firm than their own. They attribute the American position partly to a desire to avoid a Suez flareup before the U. S. presidential elections in November.

The 11 - nation council will come to grips with the main Suez issues after the arrival of high-ranking diplomats from Washington, London, Paris and Cairo.

Among those expected to take part in the debate are Secretary of State Dulles, Lloyd, Pineau, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic.

The council also voted Wednesday to invite Egypt, not a member of the group, to take part in the debate, but with no vote.

U. N. truce observers reported that both Israeli and Jordanian forces immediately obeyed their call to halt Wednesday night's exchange in Jerusalem. But Jordan authorities hinted that large-scale Arab counteraction might be in the making unless the U. N. Security Council moves to stop such raids as the Tuesday-Wednesday overnight attack on Jordan.

IN NEW YORK, U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold called in representatives of Jordan, Israel and the Big Four powers for separate talks. He said he would ask the Security Council to act if the situation is not brought rapidly under control.

The attack at Husan, six miles southwest of Jerusalem and 2½ miles inside Jordan's border, was officially described by Israeli authorities as a warning against Arab "aggression" which the Israelis said had killed 36 of their people in the last six months.

U. N. truce headquarters announced today that 38 Jordan soldiers were killed and 9 were wounded in the Husan strike.

Accident Victim Treatment Studied

DAYTON (AP) — The Montgomery County coroner told a congressional subcommittee here Wednesday that quick medical treatment could have saved some persons he has seen fatally injured in traffic accidents.

Dr. Robert E. Zipf testified that there is a need in the medical profession to conduct research in the handling of traffic victims.

He also told the subcommittee that 52.7 per cent of the drivers who caused 28 driver-responsible deaths in Montgomery County between last Jan. 1 and Sept. 1 were between 16 and 25 years of age. The percentage is double the national average, he said.

Cancer Takes Life Of Babe Zaharias

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Babe Didrikson Zaharias, the greatest woman athlete the world has known, died today after a stubborn battle with one competitor she couldn't beat—cancer.

Into her 42 years, she packed athletic triumphs that began with AAU basketball tournaments, included AAU track, then the Olympics and finally the golf courses of the nation.

Almost from the start she was known affectionately to sports fans as The Babe, a tag hung on her by her family.

She showed versatility early. She could lick any kid in the block, won a marble tournament, and was first-place winner in a harmonica contest.

Cancer struck in 1953 just after she won the golf tournament named for her—The Babe Zaharias Open in Beaumont.

After she underwent surgery that time, she came back to win seven golf tournaments.

BUT THE CANCER couldn't be stopped and her life became a succession of operations and days following days in John Sealy Hospital here.

Last night, before the end came, her husband, George Zaharias, said the Babe was unable to speak. Her family was all at the hospital through the night.

"The Babe has been through an awful lot and if the Lord wants her, well, that's His will," the burly ex-wrestler said.

When the Babe was told she had deadly cancer, she didn't bat an eyelash.

"Well, that's the way the ball bounces," she said lightly.

The Babe lived as she played sports—with a refreshing abandon. She was always quick with the quip. She was utterly unpredictable.

After she had won the British Women's Golf championship at Gullane, Scotland, June 12, 1947, the first American to achieve that feat, staid British journalists edged close to her and inquired how she could hit a golf ball so terribly far.

BABE ZAHARIAS

"I just loosen my girdle and let the ball have it," the wisecracking Texan replied.

Mrs. Zaharias made an estimated million dollars in professional sports.

Six times, sports editors named

New Strategy Adds 2 or 3 Major Talks

President Says He Works in Battle as if He Had Chance to Lose

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he is going to make two or three more major campaign speeches than he had counted on.

Eisenhower told a news conference, however, he is not going to do any barnstorming, and not going out whistle - stopping. He didn't say when or where the extra speeches, beyond the five or six he originally contemplated, would be made.

As for why he is stepping up his campaign pace, Eisenhower said it is simply because so many representations have been made to him by good friends.

He said he found himself a little weak about not accepting.

And, Eisenhower said, as far as he knows there is no health question involved at the moment in increasing his campaign pace.

A reporter asked whether the enlarged campaign schedule means that Eisenhower anticipates a "closer race."

The President said he doesn't anticipate anything but always works in a battle as if he had a chance to lose it.

Earlier, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that "gosh, no," the doctors are placing no limit on the number of major speeches Eisenhower can make during the campaign. And to a question whether there were medical limits on the whole range of campaign activities, he replied that "I have heard of none."

HAGERTY GAVE no reason for the shift in campaign plans and he didn't reply to an inquiry whether Eisenhower was beginning to "run scared."

Just this week Eisenhower added a side expedition to Cleveland to a journey next Monday to Lexington, Ky. Republican Sen. George Bender has a tough fight on his hands in Ohio to hold his seat against the challenge of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

So far, Eisenhower has delivered two major campaign addresses, one from here on peace last week.

Adlai Feels Ike Shuns Leadership

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, scrapping hard right under Harry Truman's nose, accused President Eisenhower Wednesday night of "consistent rejection of the positive responsibilities of leadership."

With the former President smiling approval, Stevenson told a cheering overflow audience in the 2,300-seat Municipal Audisotium:

"There is only one question to be asked about the Eisenhower administration. That is: 'Who's in charge here, anyway?' Who in this businessman's administration keeps the store?"

Only last month at the Democratic National Convention Truman fought to keep the presidential nomination from going to Stevenson. Truman called Stevenson a "defeatist" then.

Wednesday night, in the heart of Truman's Missouri stamping grounds the former President introduced Stevenson as a man with the "ability and experience" required for the White House.

Then Truman sat and beamed as Stevenson ripped into the Eisenhower administration and fired sharp criticism at the President himself. When Stevenson concluded, Truman told newsmen:

"It was an excellent speech, right down the alley."

WHEN A REPORTER suggested Stevenson "game 'em hell" in something like the old Truman style, the former President grinned and said of the Republicans:

"You don't have to give 'em hell—just tell the truth on 'em."

Stevenson spoke of Truman as a "strong President, a man who rose with all the Missouri toughness that is in him to meet the greatest responsibility on earth."

He said that "in Mr. Truman's language" the President of the United States should be a man who does not "pass the buck." He said Truman never did.

He continued:

"I want to make it perfectly clear that, when I speak of a strong presidency, I am not talking about the Prsident's health or any personal aspect of the situation in Washington.

"I am talking about the conception of the presidency that Mr. Eisenhower has announced publicly and followed in practice. I am not 'attacking' the President, as the newspapers say.

"I am talking, rather, about what has seemed to me to be his philosophical attitude toward the office and his consistent rejection of the positive responsibilities of leadership—a rejection which began not last fall, but in January 1953."

Stevenson's mention of last fall obviously was an allusion to Eisenhower's heart attack.

Jewelry Stolen

NEW YORK (AP) — The display window of the jewelry store owned by Mrs. Jolie Gabor, mother of the beauteous Gabor sisters, was looted Wednesday night of about $5,000 worth of jewelry.

Segregationists 'Losing Battle'

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — Attendance increased at the boycotted Weaverton elementary school today and a pro-segregationist said "We're losing our battle."

"One reason for this," said Rayburn Sugg Jr., chairman of the White Citizens Council, is that "we can't get enough responsible local leadership."

The Weaverton school reported 267 white students in class with 5 Negroes as compared with 226 the day before.

Brownell Raps HST For 'Corruption'

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—There have been 214 criminal indictments of Truman administration officials and employes and 101 have been convicted, says Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr.

The attorney general last night told a $100-a-plate dinner that Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has welcomed Truman's help.

"What is Stevenson's position on the matter of corruption?" the attorney general asked.

Brownell said the Truman administration was "the most scandalous and corrupt in the country's entire history."

New Tito Visit Stumps U. S. Aides

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials were amazed and bewildered today by the sudden trip of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia to Russia with Soviet Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev.

This unheralded move by the Yugoslav Communist leader could wreck the prospects for continuing U. S. aid and close friendly relations with Tito.

Acid Drink Kills Massillon Woman

MASSILLON (AP) — The death of Mrs. Carol Lee McCray, who died after drinking acid in her husband's office, was ruled accidental today by Coroner E. B. Mozes.

Police said Mrs. McCray, 38, drank sulphuric acid at the Empire Chemical and Research Co. while waiting for her husband, Joh nB. McCray, 40, to take her to lunch. McCray is plant manager for the firm.

According to police, Mrs. McCray asked her husband for a drink of water. He directed her to a sink in the rear of the room, then left momentarily. When he returned, he found her on the floor, screaming. Beside her was a jar from which she apparently drank the acid. She died an hour later.

Tentative Tax Rates Set by Budget Board

Tentative tax rates have been set by the Budget Commission for Fayette County for next year.

The rates are tentative because four levies to be voted on at the Nov. 8 election were included, and because two bond issue, also to be voted on, were not taken into consideration, County Auditor Harry Allen, a member of the Budget Commission, explained.

If any of the levies are voted down or the bond issues are approved by the voters at the election, the rates will have to be revised, the auditor pointed out.

THE LEVIES to be voted on that are included in the rates are:

County rate —.25 of a mill for the Mt. Logan Tuberculosis Sanitorium;

Township and municipality rate—two-tenths of a mill for the Health Department;

Union Township rate—one-tenth of a mill for cemetery purposes;

Washington C. H. rate — 2.5 mills for school operation.

The Bond Issue proposals not included in computing the rates are:

Washington C. H. district — 2.18 mills for building program;

Miami Trace district — 2.58 mills for building program.

The tentative rates approved by the Budget Commission on the basis of the budgets of the subdivisions are:

Move To Enjoin Grain Tax Collection Due in Few Days

A petition for an injunction to halt the collection of the personal property tax on grain stored under contract with the federal Commodity Credit Corp. will be filed in Common Pleas Court here either the latter part of this week or the first of next.

Atty. Rollo M. Marchant, Wentz Rd., said Thursday morning that he is preparing the petition an hopes to have it completed within the next few days.

He said the petition will ask a temporary injunction until the request for a permanent injunction is decided.

Marchant's disclosure that he is planning to seek a restraining order through the court came as somewhat of a surprise. It was made to an Associated Press reporter in Columbus Wednesday at a hearing on Atty. Ray R. Maddox's case before the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals involving wheat stored with the government.

MARCHANT, a wheat grower as well as an attorney, said in Columbus that he would seek the injunction on behalf of himself and other grain growers.

He said he had consulted with officials of the Farm Bureau here before he started preparing to seek an injunction. The Farm Bureau has gone on record as opposed to the tax on stored grain, and its directors voted an appropriation to carry the fight to the state Supreme Court if necessary.

When I saw the "Paint Valley Prophet" up street Tuesday, I asked him what the "varmints" had come up with as to the kind of weather we might expect during the coming winter.

He replied: "I haven't had time to investigate and see what the turtles, crawdads, muskrats and other things are doing that would indicate what kind of weather is ahead. It is just a little early, but I'll find out and tell you later."

The "Paint Valley Prophet" says he always bases his forecasts on the things in nature because they seem to know what to expect during the winter months.

Fremont Slayer Loses in Appeal

COLUMBUS (AP)—Samuel Tannyhill, 26, must die in Ohio's electric chair Oct. 26 for the brutal 1955 slaying of Shirley Bradford, a Fremont waitress, unless Gov. Frank J. Lausche intervenes.

The Ohio Supreme Court set the execution date Wednesday when it denied Tannyhill's application for a rehearing of his first degree murder conviction.

The Ohio Pardon and Parole Board already has heard Tannyhill's plea for clemency and its secret recommendation will be sent to the governor.

U. N. Council Votes To Air Both Sides of Suez Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Security Council has voted to debate conflicting Western and Egyptian charges on the Suez dispute following U. S. refusal to go along with British-French attempts to throw out the Arab complaint.

Differing from its other big three partners, the United States voted with six other countries, including Russia, to include the Egyptian complaint on the council agenda. Britain, France, Australia and Belgium abstained.

The council debate on the Suez dispute will begin late next week, probably Thursday or Friday.

The Egyptian complaint charges Britain and France with actions threatening world peace. The British-French charge protests against Egyptian nationalization of the Suez Canal Co.

The United States joined in the council decision to debate the British-French complaint first. A Yugoslav proposal to take up the two at once received only two affirmative votes — Yugoslavia and Russia.

U. S. DELEGATE Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. explained his government, in voting to debate the charge, only wanted to see that all points of view were heard. He said this did not imply in any way that the United States supported Egypt's charges against Britain and France.

French and British officials abroad privately have made no secret of their impatience with the U. S. attitude on the Suez, which they consider much less firm than their own. They attribute the American position partly to a desire to avoid a Suez flareup before the U. S. presidential elections in November.

The 11 - nation council will come to grips with the main Suez issues after the arrival of high-ranking diplomats from Washington, London, Paris and Cairo.

Among those expected to take part in the debate are Secretary of State Dulles, Lloyd, Pineau, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and Yugoslav Foreign Minister Koca Popovic.

The council also voted Wednesday to invite Egypt, not a member of the group, to take part in the debate, but with no vote.

Ohio Honored For Safety

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio received three national traffic safety awards today.

The awards are for outstanding performance last year in public safety education, compilation of accident records and driver licensing. They were presented to Gov. Frank J. Lausche by Edwin S. Smith of the National Safety Council.

The award for driver licensing came from the American Assn. of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

Ohio was judged in competition with a group of states of largest population. The others were California, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and Texas.

LONDON (AP) — Britain disclosed today it has turned down a Russian request to drop a charge of shoplifting against discus thrower Nina Ponomareva. The 27-year-old woman athlete was arrested and charged with stealing five hats worth less than $5 on Aug. 29, while in London with a Russian team to compete in a British-Soviet track meet. She is believed in hiding in the Soviet Embassy in London, which has diplomatic immunity from search.

LONDON (AP) — Peet Warrd, 30, who has been on Princess Margaret's escort list longer than most, today announced his engagement to a 19-year-old London beauty, Claire Baring.

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Britain exploded an atomic weapon today at its new Marlinga proving ground in Australia. Sir William Penney, British scientist supervising new series, said four explosons have been planned. He has said the blast tests are relatively small.

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Harriet hit Tokyo and Yokohama a glancing blow today, then churned into the Pacific to continue breaking up. The storm left two persons known dead in Japan, 13 injured and some 30 missing. It destroyed 500 homes.

Grain Tax Dispute

the State Tax Commission, have been included with the personal and classified tax bills sent out by Charles A. Fabb, county treasurer, who said he included them "reluctantly."

Fabb said Thursday, however, that "very few" farmers have been paying the assessment; instead, he explained, many of them have been signing statements that they consider they sold their wheat when they delivered it to the elevator under the Commodity Credit Corp. program.

FABB SAID last week when the tax bills, including the assessments on stored wheat were sent out that he was surprised someone had not sought to restrain the collections through court action such as that now being prepared by Marchant.

The treasurer attributed the attitude of the farmers who are not paying the grain tax now to: (1) Publicity given the questioning of the legality of the tax and (2) The knowledge that Prosecutor John Bath had said he did not feel the treasurer was obligated to require payment of the grain tax "where the taxpayer treated the transaction as a sale."

Fabb said he had not commented on possible injunction action.

INVOLVED in the Fayette County dispute over the tax is grain harvested in 1952, 1953 and 1954 as well as that of 1956. For the first three years, the unpaid taxes are estimated to amount to around $18,000, the treasurer said.

Maddox was the first to challenge the legality of the tax when he appealed for review and redetermination of the assessment against his grain by the state Tax Department.

It was in this case, which was before state Board of Tax Appeals Wednesday for hearing, that Marchant, there as an observer only, disclosed his plans for seeking an injunction.

The question now is: "Did Maddox, who is a grain producer as well as an attorney, sell or get a loan on his wheat when he put it in an elevator under the CCC program?

The board of tax appeals won't have the answer for at least another month. Wednesday a board attorney-examiner, William J. Ford, heard testimony in a case involving wheat raised by Maddox.

Maddox testified he believes the grain was sold, and therefore he should not have to pay Ohio personal property taxes on it. The state tax department says Maddox merely got a loan on the grain and still owned it.

Maddox got warehouse receipts for the grain and turned them into cash.

Now that the contentions in the case have been heard, both Maddox and the Tax Department have a month in which to file briefs, in which the law in support of the contentions will be cited, with the Board of Tax Appeals.

Two somewhat similar cases will be decided without a formal hearing. They were filed by Flora A. Goodrich of Rt. 1, New Albany, and Kermit Grener of Hilliards, both in Franklin County. Their grain was stored after the state legislature added exemptions to the personal property tax law, and they believe the exemptions apply to them.

The personal property tax was levied on the wheat at the rate of the taxing district in which it is stored, it has been pointed out by those opposing it. Much of Fayette County wheat was shipped to terminal elevators outside the county, some even outside the state. That which was store outside the state was not subject to the tax. Money from the tax goes to the district in which it is stored.

PARKINSON commented that, because the surfacing material is laid while hot, the law against removing barriers and driving over the improved streets before it cools will be enforced.

The length of time it takes for the new top surface to cool and harden, he said, depends largely on the weather, the thickness and the number of courses of hot mix laid. He added that "the barriers will be taken down as soon as the streets are in shape to bear the weight of all kinds of traffic. . . we can't let light cars go over it and keep heavy trucks off."

As for the fines that can be assessed for driving over a street before it is ready for traffic, Parkinson said: "We don't want the money; what we do want is good streets."

Ike Plans Speeches

another on the farm issue from Peoria, Ill., Tuesday night. The third one on the schedule is that set for Lexington next Monday.

Then Hagerty announced that the fourth has been arranged for Pittsburgh Oct. 9.

Under questioning, the President had some sharp comebacks to campaign statements by his Democratic rival, Adlai E. Stevenson.

Eisenhower said that he would rather let the years speak out on the question of his leadership. He was speaking in response to an inquiry about a statement by Stevenson in Kansas City Wednesday night that Eisenhower has shown "consistent rejection of the positive responsibilities of leadership."

Eisenhower was told that the Republicans are putting out comic books for campaign purposes, one of them saying that four million more people are employed today in peacetime than there were under the Democrats "in their wars."

EISENHOWER remarked that there is no such thing as a president of Republicans or a president of Democrats, and said he doesn't believe that when America gets into war we can call it anything but our war.

Eisenhower was asked whether he regards secretary of agriculture Benson as a political millstone or asset. He said he never had thought of his secretary as either. He said he considered him a man thoroughly acquainted with every phase of agriculture and one who is dedicated to the long term benefit of the American farmer.

Farm Prices — Everything he has said on this subject, Eisenhower said, is statistically correct. This was in reply to a reporter who noted that Eisenhower had said farm prices and income are up whereas August reports showed they went down.

The President said he had stated prices were 7 per cent higher than a year ago. This month, he conceded, there has been a slight drop in the curve. But he said that doesn't mean it is going to continue.

Turnabout Faces Stiff Jail Sentence

NEW YORK (AP)—Turnabout witness Harvey M. Matusow, convicted of perjury in a Communist conspiracy case, faces a possible maximum sentence of 25 years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Matusow, 29-year - old former Communist who testified for the government in many conspiracy cases, will be sentenced Friday by U. S. Judge John F. C. McGohey.

Matusow paled and slumped in his chair with his hands to his eyes as a federal court jury of 10 men and 2 women brought in its guilty verdict late Wednesday after 90 minutes of deliberation.

Defense counsel announced plans to appeal.

Matusow was convicted on five counts of perjury. The case developed from his recantation of the testimony he gave as a government witness at the 1952 conspiracy trial of 13 secondstring Communist leaders.

Matusow, who once said he would do "anything for a buck," worked for years as an FBI informer and got on government payrolls as an anti-Communist witness. He said that without any evidence he denounced 244 Americans as Red sympathizers.

Court Edict Hits Dayton Voting Setup

DAYTON (AP) — The Second District Court of Appeals ruled unanimously today the Montgomery County board of elections must furnish at least one voting machine for each 100 registered voters or supply paper ballots to give electors as alternate method of voting.

The ruling, expected to have a statewide effect, threw election board officials here into a quandary with election day less than six weeks away.

Montgomery County has only 900 voting machines for more than 215,000 registered voters, an average of one to about 240 voters. County officials said it would be impossible to buy enough machines before election to meet the requirement of one machine for every 100 voters. Prosecutor Mathias H. Heck figured the cost, even if the machines could be bought, at about $2 million and about $20 per voter.

The court action was brought by Woodrow Spencer, Democratic precinct committeeman. He based his action on a state law.

The decision gives election officials the alternative of supplying paper ballots, but Montgomery has not used them for several years and election officials said 1,250 voting booths would be necessary to meet the court's decree.

The county simply doesn't have that many booths for the marking of paper ballots in stock.

Ohio Honored For Safety

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio received three national traffic safety awards today.

The awards are for outstanding performance last year in public safety education, compilation of accident records and driver licensing. They were presented to Gov. Frank J. Lausche by Edwin S. Smith of the National Safety Council.

The award for driver licensing came from the American Assn. of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

Ohio was judged in competition with a group of states of largest population. The others were California, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and Texas.

LONDON (AP) — Britain disclosed today it has turned down a Russian request to drop a charge of shoplifting against discus thrower Nina Ponomareva. The 27-year-old woman athlete was arrested and charged with stealing five hats worth less than $5 on Aug. 29, while in London with a Russian team to compete in a British-Soviet track meet. She is believed in hiding in the Soviet Embassy in London, which has diplomatic immunity from search.

LONDON (AP) — Peet Warrd, 30, who has been on Princess Margaret's escort list longer than most, today announced his engagement to a 19-year-old London beauty, Claire Baring.

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Britain exploded an atomic weapon today at its new Marlinga proving ground in Australia. Sir William Penney, British scientist supervising new series, said four explosons have been planned. He has said the blast tests are relatively small.

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Harriet hit Tokyo and Yokohama a glancing blow today, then churned into the Pacific to continue breaking up. The storm left two persons known dead in Japan, 13 injured and some 30 missing. It destroyed 500 homes.

Grain Tax Dispute

the State Tax Commission, have been included with the personal and classified tax bills sent out by Charles A. Fabb, county treasurer, who said he included them "reluctantly."

Fabb said Thursday, however, that "very few" farmers have been paying the assessment; instead, he explained, many of them have been signing statements that they consider they sold their wheat when they delivered it to the elevator under the Commodity Credit Corp. program.

FABB SAID last week when the tax bills, including the assessments on stored wheat were sent out that he was surprised someone had not sought to restrain the collections through court action such as that now being prepared by Marchant.

The treasurer attributed the attitude of the farmers who are not paying the grain tax now to: (1) Publicity given the questioning of the legality of the tax and (2) The knowledge that Prosecutor John Bath had said he did not feel the treasurer was obligated to require payment of the grain tax "where the taxpayer treated the transaction as a sale."

Fabb said he had not commented on possible injunction action.

INVOLVED in the Fayette County dispute over the tax is grain harvested in 1952, 1953 and 1954 as well as that of 1956. For the first three years, the unpaid taxes are estimated to amount to around $18,000, the treasurer said.

Maddox was the first to challenge the legality of the tax when he appealed for review and redetermination of the assessment against his grain by the state Tax Department.

It was in this case, which was before state Board of Tax Appeals Wednesday for hearing, that Marchant, there as an observer only, disclosed his plans for seeking an injunction.

The question now is: "Did Maddox, who is a grain producer as well as an attorney, sell or get a loan on his wheat when he put it in an elevator under the CCC program?

The board of tax appeals won't have the answer for at least another month. Wednesday a board attorney-examiner, William J. Ford, heard testimony in a case involving wheat raised by Maddox.

Maddox testified he believes the grain was sold, and therefore he should not have to pay Ohio personal property taxes on it. The state tax department says Maddox merely got a loan on the grain and still owned it.

Maddox got warehouse receipts for the grain and turned them into cash.

Now that the contentions in the case have been heard, both Maddox and the Tax Department have a month in which to file briefs, in which the law in support of the contentions will be cited, with the Board of Tax Appeals.

Two somewhat similar cases will be decided without a formal hearing. They were filed by Flora A. Goodrich of Rt. 1, New Albany, and Kermit Grener of Hilliards, both in Franklin County. Their grain was stored after the state legislature added exemptions to the personal property tax law, and they believe the exemptions apply to them.

The personal property tax was levied on the wheat at the rate of the taxing district in which it is stored, it has been pointed out by those opposing it. Much of Fayette County wheat was shipped to terminal elevators outside the county, some even outside the state. That which was store outside the state was not subject to the tax. Money from the tax goes to the district in which it is stored.

PARKINSON commented that, because the surfacing material is laid while hot, the law against removing barriers and driving over the improved streets before it cools will be enforced.

The length of time it takes for the new top surface to cool and harden, he said, depends largely on the weather, the thickness and the number of courses of hot mix laid. He added that "the barriers will be taken down as soon as the streets are in shape to bear the weight of all kinds of traffic. . . we can't let light cars go over it and keep heavy trucks off."

As for the fines that can be assessed for driving over a street before it is ready for traffic, Parkinson said: "We don't want the money; what we do want is good streets."

Ike Plans Speeches

another on the farm issue from Peoria, Ill., Tuesday night. The third one on the schedule is that set for Lexington next Monday.

Then Hagerty announced that the fourth has been arranged for Pittsburgh Oct. 9.

Under questioning, the President had some sharp comebacks to campaign statements by his Democratic rival, Adlai E. Stevenson.

Eisenhower said that he would rather let the years speak out on the question of his leadership. He was speaking in response to an inquiry about a statement by Stevenson in Kansas City Wednesday night that Eisenhower has shown "consistent rejection of the positive responsibilities of leadership."

Eisenhower was told that the Republicans are putting out comic books for campaign purposes, one of them saying that four million more people are employed today in peacetime than there were under the Democrats "in their wars."

EISENHOWER remarked that there is no such thing as a president of Republicans or a president of Democrats, and said he doesn't believe that when America gets into war we can call it anything but our war.

Eisenhower was asked whether he regards secretary of agriculture Benson as a political millstone or asset. He said he never had thought of his secretary as either. He said he considered him a man thoroughly acquainted with every phase of agriculture and one who is dedicated to the long term benefit of the American farmer.

Farm Prices — Everything he has said on this subject, Eisenhower said, is statistically correct. This was in reply to a reporter who noted that Eisenhower had said farm prices and income are up whereas August reports showed they went down.

The President said he had stated prices were 7 per cent higher than a year ago. This month, he conceded, there has been a slight drop in the curve. But he said that doesn't mean it is going to continue.

Turnabout Faces Stiff Jail Sentence

NEW YORK (AP)—Turnabout witness Harvey M. Matusow, convicted of perjury in a Communist conspiracy case, faces a possible maximum sentence of 25 years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Matusow, 29-year - old former Communist who testified for the government in many conspiracy cases, will be sentenced Friday by U. S. Judge John F. C. McGohey.

Matusow paled and slumped in his chair with his hands to his eyes as a federal court jury of 10 men and 2 women brought in its guilty verdict late Wednesday after 90 minutes of deliberation.

Defense counsel announced plans to appeal.

Matusow was convicted on five counts of perjury. The case developed from his recantation of the testimony he gave as a government witness at the 1952 conspiracy trial of 13 secondstring Communist leaders.

Matusow, who once said he would do "anything for a buck," worked for years as an FBI informer and got on government payrolls as an anti-Communist witness. He said that without any evidence he denounced 244 Americans as Red sympathizers.

Election Officials Attending Parley

CINCINNATI (AP) — Election officials from Ohio's 88 counties began arriving here today for their annual conference.

On the program today were registration and a "hospitality hour" at a local hotel.

General sessions, headed by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, will start Friday, when the officials will discuss such subjects as "public relations," "registration", "precinct officials" and "voting machines."

Court Edict Hits Dayton Voting Setup

DAYTON (AP) — The Second District Court of Appeals ruled unanimously today the Montgomery County board of elections must furnish at least one voting machine for each 100 registered voters or supply paper ballots to give electors as alternate method of voting.

The ruling, expected to have a statewide effect, threw election board officials here into a quandary with election day less than six weeks away.

Montgomery County has only 900 voting machines for more than 215,000 registered voters, an average of one to about 240 voters. County officials said it would be impossible to buy enough machines before election to meet the requirement of one machine for every 100 voters. Prosecutor Mathias H. Heck figured the cost, even if the machines could be bought, at about $2 million and about $20 per voter.

The court action was brought by Woodrow Spencer, Democratic precinct committeeman. He based his action on a state law.

The decision gives election officials the alternative of supplying paper ballots, but Montgomery has not used them for several years and election officials said 1,250 voting booths would be necessary to meet the court's decree.

The county simply doesn't have that many booths for the marking of paper ballots in stock.

Something New In Heart Trouble Diagnosis

The apparently increasing number of heart disorders which seem to be a source of worry to the American people has turned medical, surgical and laboratory attention to greater effort, particularly in the field of diagnosis.

Distinct progress is being made and one of the newest reported discoveries is that instead of the stethoscope, in many cases, to diagnose various heart ailments, the physicians may some day soon rely on X-ray films that will show the blood as it speeds through the heart valves.

This will be of interest to nearly all of those who are addicted to "heart trouble" in every community in the land, possibly in the world. We have scores of people so afflicted here in Fayette County.

This guess is hazarded by Dr. Charles T. Dotter, head of the Department of Radiology, University of Oregon Medical School, who has helped develop a new electronic switch that makes possible X-ray exposures at speeds as short as one thousandth of a second. This is fast enough to "freeze" the motion of the blood within a patient's heart, and is far faster than the X-ray speeds of one sixteenth to one hundredth of a second now provided by most equipment.

Angiocardiographs, or special X-ray pictures, taken in sequence with this new high speed device, permit radiologists to make an even more accurate study of the blood's flow, Dr. Dotter says, and hence give the doctor new insight into certain heart ailments.

He compares the high voltage tube, that turns X-ray current on and off with such incredible speed, to the motion-stopping stroboscopic camera used in engineering research to examine the action of engine or machine parts operating at high velocities.

"Until now," Dr. Dotter says, "the radiologist attempting to make X-ray films which would record the movement of substances in the blood, or the contraction of the heart, has been just as disappointed as the small boy trying to take pictures with a box camera of an automobile race or a plane in flight.

All in all, it looks like the familiar old stethoscope might well go the way of the horse and buggy — at least insofar as its role in this particular phase of medical work is concerned. However, we imagine, the stethoscope will serve other purposes for some time to come.

Open Mouth Ups Dental Bill

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Odd facts and fancies a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That one way to reduce your dental expenses is to keep your mouth shut. If you breathe through your mouth, you dry out your porcelain fillings and they don't last as long.

That more than half the people who had to get a tooth drilled now ask for a local anesthetic.

That there are 37,836 local postmasters in the United States, all of them now supplied with ballpoint pens.

That Edward Fields, a custom rug manufacturer, has trained Koko, his French poodle, to lift the receiver when the phone rings and bark a greeting. We also have heard of a talking dog who learned to use the phone and before his owner could stop him the pooch ordered 10 tons of dog food, a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica and a mink wrap for a lady great Dane down the street.

That if you can't afford to give your wife a diamond - studded wristwatch on her birthday, you might surprise her with a clepsydra. It operates like an hour glass but uses water instead of sand to tell the time.

That a nationwide safety check showed one out of every 10 cars on the highway has defective front or rear lights.

That young newspapers reporters, although more likely to have a college degree than old reporters, are poorer spellers. One of the words they most frequently misspell is "misspell" itself.

That the nation's 30 million anglers spend an average of $90 a year each trying to land that "one that got away."

That the office of the Fisherman Magazine here is in a building called the Salmon Tower.

That a survey showed men highly satisfied with their jobs turned out less work than those mildly discontented with their jobs. The second group was more ambitious, less stagnant.

That if you're looking for a field less competitive than the one you're in, here's a tip: The musicians' local here lists only one qualified performer for each of the following instruments—clavoline, bandoline, bandoneon, fluegal horn, mandola, mandolute and viola de gamba.

That just 20 years ago young college engineering graduates were glad to get jobs at $120 a month. Now they often start at more than that a week.

Religion in the Schools

By George Sokolsky

From the Parent-Teacher Assn. of the Jamaica High School of New York comes a letter addressed to Charles Silver of the board to establish a program for "The Development of Moral and Spiritual deals in the Public Schools."

The letter is one of protest against the program, lest somehow sectarian religion creep in. The gist of the letter is in this paragraph:

"...no safeguards have been set up to prevent the expression of religious views under the guise of moral or spiritual teaching. I need not remind the members of the Board of Education that there are over 200 religious sects in this country. Nor that each one is entitled, under our Constitution, to practice and teach its own beliefs in its own way. Nor ought we to forget the rights of non-believers and of that numerous body of believers not affiliated with any particular sect.'

One might ask this association whether its members prefer juvenile delinquents who are likely to be young people who have been safe-guarded from moral and spiritual teaching of any kind and who have no respect for God, for their parents, for the laws of their country or for the rights and opinions of other human beings. The question arises where in the Constitution is there any such statements as the quoted statement says there is?

The only mention in the Constitution of religion is in the First Amendment, and that only forbids the government to establish a church, perhaps providing its revenue out of taxes.

It is impossible to understand the fear of religion, despite the historic fact that those nations thrived best and their people lived most decently when they believed in a power outside themselves that makes for righteousness. We call that power God and when our people accepted God's guidance and His moral law, we were on the up-building phase of our history. During the present sophisticated times, when it is possible for an association composed of parents and teachers to send a letter containing such a paragraph I have quoted expressing a fear of religion, we are no longer on the up-building phase of our history. We are involved in such problems as broken homes, juvenile delinquency, excessive divorce, increasing crime, particularly sex crimes.

We have become a confused people, not because we have "over 200 religious sects," but because we have forsaken God and have substituted for Him something called human rights which can only be sustained as rights if they emanate from a power greater than man. Otherwise what man establishes, other men can disestablish as Khrushchev has declared false what was true in Stalin's time—three years ago.

The letter I quoted further states:

"Teachers are human beings. Their abilities vary, including the one enabling them to keep strong personal views from being expressed tacitly or openly. We know there have been flagrant examples of such religious statements in the classrooms. We can only guess at the frequency of vaguer but equally disturbing expressions that have confused and confounded the minds of our children."

It would be interesting to know what the "flagrant examples of such religious statements" were. What is a "flagrant example"? It might be one of those old Anglo - Saxon words which are bad but become less bad when spoken in a lengthened derivative from the Latin. It might be the restatement of the moral law as the teacher learned it from her parents which might be slightly different from what the child's mother learned in her childhood.

Five years ago I attended a most interesting meeting of the Natural Law Institute of the University of Notre Dame at which for several days, Jews, Catholics, Protestants, Confucians, Moslems, Buddhists and Hindus discussed the natural law, each from his own standpoint, and when the sessions were over, there was no disagreement as to the moral law of God, but there were also no conversions. Each went his own way but all really went the same way, that is in the same direction.

The parents and teachers of the Jamaica High School truly need not fear God or any expression of reverence for Him; what they should fear is that their children will believe that those whom they hope to emulate will be not saints but sinners.

Insecurity Blamed For Breath-Holding

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Many a youngster has found that he can get his own way with a simple and generally safe technique— holding his breath.

If your child tries to wrap you around his finger by frequently staging a breath - holding tantrum, chances are it's your own fault.

Disturbed Relationship

Often such actions are symptoms of insecurity on behalf of the child. Generally, they can be traced directly to a disturbed child-parent relationship.

In most cases, I think, you'll find the parents have tried to protect the youngster too well, have been oversolicitous or too strict or demanding, or started too early in habit training. The child simply resists these actions.

Maybe you have been too vehement about feeding, toilet training or in other training.

Sometimes marital discord between the parents might be the underlying factor. Kids, remember, are a lot smarter than you may think.

Usually, breath-holding incidents begin after the child falls accidentally or is frightened. Then when he is hurt or frightened again, or when he becomes angry, he repeats them.

Less Severe Cases

Of course, in less severe cases, the youngster doesn't lose consciousness.

To eliminate the cause, the first step is to end the family conflict whatever it might be.

Establish a tolerant disciplinary regime instead of insisting on strict enforcement of rigid rules. Don't try too early or too hard to establish rigid toilet training and eating habits.

I think you'll have a happier child if you follow this advice.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

T. R.: Both my parents are allergic. Does this mean that I will have allergies also?

Answer: Children who have two allergic parents are much more likely to have an allergy than those who do not or have only one allergic parent. There is a greater tendency also for the allergy to appear at an earlier age.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the election just 40 days away President Eisenhower, campaigning pretty leisurely so far, has decided to work harder for votes.

His press secretary, James C. Hagerty, announced late Wednesday that Eisenhower will not limit himself to the five or six nationwide radio-TV broadcasts that had previously been planned for him.

Whether the Republicans are getting concerned about their Nov. 6 chances is something only the White House inner circle knows. Vice President Nixon has been making a whirlwind speaking tour since Sept. 18. But Eisenhower has made just two major speeches speeches since the campaign began.

Meanwhile, this month Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, the Democrats' presidential and vice presidential candidates, have been setting a terrific campaign pace.

If Republicans think they have this election in the bag, they may be right. But reports from around the country indicate that an Eisenhower victory this year—if there is one—will not be by the same landslide margin of 1952.

For most of his White House term Eisenhower has been comparatively free of personal attacks. But he has found out by now he was wrong if he thought he could enjoy the same kind of immunity in this presidential campaign.

Stevenson and Kefauver have both fired at him hard and personally, at his administration and at the men around him.

They have painted him as a passive character, a kind of Republican party captive who, if he wins, will be overshadowed by Nixon in running the country the next four years.

Eisenhower's campaigning has been pretty much limited to the past nine days. Watching his speeches unfold seems to indicate that he's getting tired of being attacked and would like to uncork a few wallops of his own.

Then on Tuesday, at Peoria, Ill., Eisenhower got down to cases on farming with a major speech. In this one he ripped into the Democrats, blaming them for the farmers' woes.

He offered nothing new in the way of solutions beyond what the Republican party platform already contained. Stevenson had no advantage of him on this. He hasn't offered anything that isn't contained in the Democratic platform.

But Stevenson, in his extensive tours of the country, has met and talked with more farmers personally, getting as much mileage as possible out of what he has to offer, and doing his best to turn farmers against the Republicans.

It is possible that Eisenhower, noting Stevenson's personal kind of campaigning, will try to do more of what he himself did on his visit to Iowa last Friday.

Eisenhower rode over 100 miles through the Iowa countryside, made two talks, shook hands and walked among the farmers.

Hagerty said Wednesday he knows of no plans for Eisenhower to drop the ban he laid down for himself on barnstorming and whistlestopping.

Perhaps "barnstorming" — a speaking tour in rural areas—and "whistlestopping"—short speeches to crowds from the rear of a train as it rolls across country—need a new, modern-day definition.

What Eisenhower did in Iowa was real barnstorming.

Wolf Whistle Reserved for Men

EAST GREENWICH, R. I. (AP)—Miss Thelma E. Magnone, 23, was brought into District Court for a wolf whistle.

She pleaded guilty to having an illegal wolf whistle in her car. The whistle was described as a mechanical device.

Miss Magnone was assessed costs on the charge and fined $5 for speeding in connection with the same incident after Judge James W. Leighton asserted he thought the wolf whistle belonged exclusively to the male.

Health Department Exams Scheduled

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Civil Service Commission plans a series of exams for State Health Department posts now held by provisional employes.

The examinations will be given Oct. 24 at Akron, Athens, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Lima, Mansfield, Portsmouth, Toledo and Youngstown.

Jobs include several posts as public health physician paying $980 a month, chief of the legal division which pays $660 a month and a host of technical jobs

Air Force Using Weather Computer

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—The Air Force now has a fantastic computer to process more swiftly the flood of weather records it receives from around the world.

Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Moorman Jr., commander of the Air Weather Service, said the device will make available immediate long range climate studies for the nation's military planners.

The machine condenses vast quantities of weather information on coded tapes. When a weather problem for some area comes up, it will quickly deliver a detailed analysis.

Something New In Heart Trouble Diagnosis

The apparently increasing number of heart disorders which seem to be a source of worry to the American people has turned medical, surgical and laboratory attention to greater effort, particularly in the field of diagnosis.

Distinct progress is being made and one of the newest reported discoveries is that instead of the stethoscope, in many cases, to diagnose various heart ailments, the physicians may some day soon rely on X-ray films that will show the blood as it speeds through the heart valves.

This will be of interest to nearly all of those who are addicted to "heart trouble" in every community in the land, possibly in the world. We have scores of people so afflicted here in Fayette County.

This guess is hazarded by Dr. Charles T. Dotter, head of the Department of Radiology, University of Oregon Medical School, who has helped develop a new electronic switch that makes possible X-ray exposures at speeds as short as one thousandth of a second. This is fast enough to "freeze" the motion of the blood within a patient's heart, and is far faster than the X-ray speeds of one sixteenth to one hundredth of a second now provided by most equipment.

Angiocardiographs, or special X-ray pictures, taken in sequence with this new high speed device, permit radiologists to make an even more accurate study of the blood's flow, Dr. Dotter says, and hence give the doctor new insight into certain heart ailments.

He compares the high voltage tube, that turns X-ray current on and off with such incredible speed, to the motion-stopping stroboscopic camera used in engineering research to examine the action of engine or machine parts operating at high velocities.

"Until now," Dr. Dotter says, "the radiologist attempting to make X-ray films which would record the movement of substances in the blood, or the contraction of the heart, has been just as disappointed as the small boy trying to take pictures with a box camera of an automobile race or a plane in flight.

All in all, it looks like the familiar old stethoscope might well go the way of the horse and buggy — at least insofar as its role in this particular phase of medical work is concerned. However, we imagine, the stethoscope will serve other purposes for some time to come.

Open Mouth Ups Dental Bill

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Odd facts and fancies a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That one way to reduce your dental expenses is to keep your mouth shut. If you breathe through your mouth, you dry out your porcelain fillings and they don't last as long.

That more than half the people who had to get a tooth drilled now ask for a local anesthetic.

That there are 37,836 local postmasters in the United States, all of them now supplied with ballpoint pens.

That Edward Fields, a custom rug manufacturer, has trained Koko, his French poodle, to lift the receiver when the phone rings and bark a greeting. We also have heard of a talking dog who learned to use the phone and before his owner could stop him the pooch ordered 10 tons of dog food, a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica and a mink wrap for a lady great Dane down the street.

That if you can't afford to give your wife a diamond - studded wristwatch on her birthday, you might surprise her with a clepsydra. It operates like an hour glass but uses water instead of sand to tell the time.

That a nationwide safety check showed one out of every 10 cars on the highway has defective front or rear lights.

That young newspapers reporters, although more likely to have a college degree than old reporters, are poorer spellers. One of the words they most frequently misspell is "misspell" itself.

That the nation's 30 million anglers spend an average of $90 a year each trying to land that "one that got away."

That the office of the Fisherman Magazine here is in a building called the Salmon Tower.

That a survey showed men highly satisfied with their jobs turned out less work than those mildly discontented with their jobs. The second group was more ambitious, less stagnant.

That if you're looking for a field less competitive than the one you're in, here's a tip: The musicians' local here lists only one qualified performer for each of the following instruments—clavoline, bandoline, bandoneon, fluegal horn, mandola, mandolute and viola de gamba.

That just 20 years ago young college engineering graduates were glad to get jobs at $120 a month. Now they often start at more than that a week.

Religion in the Schools

By George Sokolsky

From the Parent-Teacher Assn. of the Jamaica High School of New York comes a letter addressed to Charles Silver of the board to establish a program for "The Development of Moral and Spiritual deals in the Public Schools."

The letter is one of protest against the program, lest somehow sectarian religion creep in. The gist of the letter is in this paragraph:

"...no safeguards have been set up to prevent the expression of religious views under the guise of moral or spiritual teaching. I need not remind the members of the Board of Education that there are over 200 religious sects in this country. Nor that each one is entitled, under our Constitution, to practice and teach its own beliefs in its own way. Nor ought we to forget the rights of non-believers and of that numerous body of believers not affiliated with any particular sect.'

One might ask this association whether its members prefer juvenile delinquents who are likely to be young people who have been safe-guarded from moral and spiritual teaching of any kind and who have no respect for God, for their parents, for the laws of their country or for the rights and opinions of other human beings. The question arises where in the Constitution is there any such statements as the quoted statement says there is?

The only mention in the Constitution of religion is in the First Amendment, and that only forbids the government to establish a church, perhaps providing its revenue out of taxes.

It is impossible to understand the fear of religion, despite the historic fact that those nations thrived best and their people lived most decently when they believed in a power outside themselves that makes for righteousness. We call that power God and when our people accepted God's guidance and His moral law, we were on the up-building phase of our history. During the present sophisticated times, when it is possible for an association composed of parents and teachers to send a letter containing such a paragraph I have quoted expressing a fear of religion, we are no longer on the up-building phase of our history. We are involved in such problems as broken homes, juvenile delinquency, excessive divorce, increasing crime, particularly sex crimes.

We have become a confused people, not because we have "over 200 religious sects," but because we have forsaken God and have substituted for Him something called human rights which can only be sustained as rights if they emanate from a power greater than man. Otherwise what man establishes, other men can disestablish as Khrushchev has declared false what was true in Stalin's time—three years ago.

The letter I quoted further states:

"Teachers are human beings. Their abilities vary, including the one enabling them to keep strong personal views from being expressed tacitly or openly. We know there have been flagrant examples of such religious statements in the classrooms. We can only guess at the frequency of vaguer but equally disturbing expressions that have confused and confounded the minds of our children."

It would be interesting to know what the "flagrant examples of such religious statements" were. What is a "flagrant example"? It might be one of those old Anglo - Saxon words which are bad but become less bad when spoken in a lengthened derivative from the Latin. It might be the restatement of the moral law as the teacher learned it from her parents which might be slightly different from what the child's mother learned in her childhood.

Five years ago I attended a most interesting meeting of the Natural Law Institute of the University of Notre Dame at which for several days, Jews, Catholics, Protestants, Confucians, Moslems, Buddhists and Hindus discussed the natural law, each from his own standpoint, and when the sessions were over, there was no disagreement as to the moral law of God, but there were also no conversions. Each went his own way but all really went the same way, that is in the same direction.

The parents and teachers of the Jamaica High School truly need not fear God or any expression of reverence for Him; what they should fear is that their children will believe that those whom they hope to emulate will be not saints but sinners.

Insecurity Blamed For Breath-holding

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Many a youngster has found that he can get his own way with a simple and generally safe technique— holding his breath.

If your child tries to wrap you around his finger by frequently staging a breath - holding tantrum, chances are it's your own fault.

Disturbed Relationship

Often such actions are symptoms of insecurity on behalf of the child. Generally, they can be traced directly to a disturbed child-parent relationship.

In most cases, I think, you'll find the parents have tried to protect the youngster too well, have been oversolicitous or too strict or demanding, or started too early in habit training. The child simply resists these actions.

Maybe you have been too vehement about feeding, toilet training or in other training.

Sometimes marital discord between the parents might be the underlying factor. Kids, remember, are a lot smarter than you may think.

Usually, breath-holding incidents begin after the child falls accidentally or is frightened. Then when he is hurt or frightened again, or when he becomes angry, he repeats them.

Less Severe Cases

Of course, in less severe cases, the youngster doesn't lose consciousness.

To eliminate the cause, the first step is to end the family conflict whatever it might be.

Establish a tolerant disciplinary regime instead of insisting on strict enforcement of rigid rules. Don't try too early or too hard to establish rigid toilet training and eating habits.

I think you'll have a happier child if you follow this advice.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

T. R.: Both my parents are allergic. Does this mean that I will have allergies also?

Answer: Children who have two allergic parents are much more likely to have an allergy than those who do not or have only one allergic parent. There is a greater tendency also for the allergy to appear at an earlier age.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the election just 40 days away President Eisenhower, campaigning pretty leisurely so far, has decided to work harder for votes.

His press secretary, James C. Hagerty, announced late Wednesday that Eisenhower will not limit himself to the five or six nationwide radio-TV broadcasts that had previously been planned for him.

Whether the Republicans are getting concerned about their Nov. 6 chances is something only the White House inner circle knows. Vice President Nixon has been making a whirlwind speaking tour since Sept. 18. But Eisenhower has made just two major speeches speeches since the campaign began.

Meanwhile, this month Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, the Democrats' presidential and vice presidential candidates, have been setting a terrific campaign pace.

If Republicans think they have this election in the bag, they may be right. But reports from around the country indicate that an Eisenhower victory this year—if there is one—will not be by the same landslide margin of 1952.

For most of his White House term Eisenhower has been comparatively free of personal attacks. But he has found out by now he was wrong if he thought he could enjoy the same kind of immunity in this presidential campaign.

Stevenson and Kefauver have both fired at him hard and personally, at his administration and at the men around him.

They have painted him as a passive character, a kind of Republican party captive who, if he wins, will be overshadowed by Nixon in running the country the next four years.

Eisenhower's campaigning has been pretty much limited to the past nine days. Watching his speeches unfold seems to indicate that he's getting tired of being attacked and would like to uncork a few wallops of his own.

Then on Tuesday, at Peoria, Ill., Eisenhower got down to cases on farming with a major speech. In this one he ripped into the Democrats, blaming them for the farmers' woes.

He offered nothing new in the way of solutions beyond what the Republican party platform already contained. Stevenson had no advantage of him on this. He hasn't offered anything that isn't contained in the Democratic platform.

But Stevenson, in his extensive tours of the country, has met and talked with more farmers personally, getting as much mileage as possible out of what he has to offer, and doing his best to turn farmers against the Republicans.

It is possible that Eisenhower, noting Stevenson's personal kind of campaigning, will try to do more of what he himself did on his visit to Iowa last Friday.

Eisenhower rode over 100 miles through the Iowa countryside, made two talks, shook hands and walked among the farmers.

Hagerty said Wednesday he knows of no plans for Eisenhower to drop the ban he laid down for himself on barnstorming and whistlestopping.

Perhaps "barnstorming" — a speaking tour in rural areas—and "whistlestopping"—short speeches to crowds from the rear of a train as it rolls across country—need a new, modern-day definition.

What Eisenhower did in Iowa was real barnstorming.

Wolf Whistle Reserved for Men

EAST GREENWICH, R. I. (AP)—Miss Thelma E. Magnone, 23, was brought into District Court for a wolf whistle.

She pleaded guilty to having an illegal wolf whistle in her car. The whistle was described as a mechanical device.

Miss Magnone was assessed costs on the charge and fined $5 for speeding in connection with the same incident after Judge James W. Leighton asserted he thought the wolf whistle belonged exclusively to the male.

Health Department Exams Scheduled

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Civil Service Commission plans a series of exams for State Health Department posts now held by provisional employes.

The examinations will be given Oct. 24 at Akron, Athens, Canton, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Lima, Mansfield, Portsmouth, Toledo and Youngstown.

Jobs include several posts as public health physician paying $980 a month, chief of the legal division which pays $660 a month and a host of technical jobs

Air Force Using Weather Computer

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—The Air Force now has a fantastic computer to process more swiftly the flood of weather records it receives from around the world.

Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Moorman Jr., commander of the Air Weather Service, said the device will make available immediate long range climate studies for the nation's military planners.

The machine condenses vast quantities of weather information on coded tapes. When a weather problem for some area comes up, it will quickly deliver a detailed analysis.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am an unmarried woman, 34, and the thought of getting up and going out to work every day until I am 65 is repellent to me. I am a college graduate, with average looks; and in college I spent most of my time working, so never went out with boys much. I regret that now.

I never meet anyone at my place of work, nor have I ever met anybody at church. Once a week I go to a public dance, but such people as I meet there aren't interested in marriage, apparently. Do you think I am too particular with regard to men?

There is one man who comes to see me occasionally. He is divorced and has two children, but I don't know whether he is interested in marrying again, as I have known him only a month.

Most of my friends are married; those I know in college are scattered over a wide area, settled down in marriage, and I have grown away from them. I am very lonely and quite depressed over the situation into which I have let myself fall.

In wanting to marry, am I headed in the right direction, do you think? Am I doing everything I can to meet a marriageable man? Please tell me how I can speed things up, because I am interested in getting married soon, without wasting any more time.

J. B.

DEAR J. B.: As I get the picture, the divorced man's attentions, slight as they are, have rekindled a spark of hope in your breast, that possibly it isn't too late to get yourself a man, if you exert yourself, and play your cards right. And the desperate new urgency of your thinking along this line indicates that you'd counted yourself out of the struggle some time ago, even though you'd continued to go through motions of looking for somebody —by going to church, to a weekly dance, and so on.

Beating the bushes for a man isn't the way to achieve your heart's desire, I think. Sages and mystics, who have intuitive insight into the creative principles of being, tell us that it is more important to be the right person, than to find the right person (so-called), if we want more of life, and more of love—which in brief is what you yearn for.

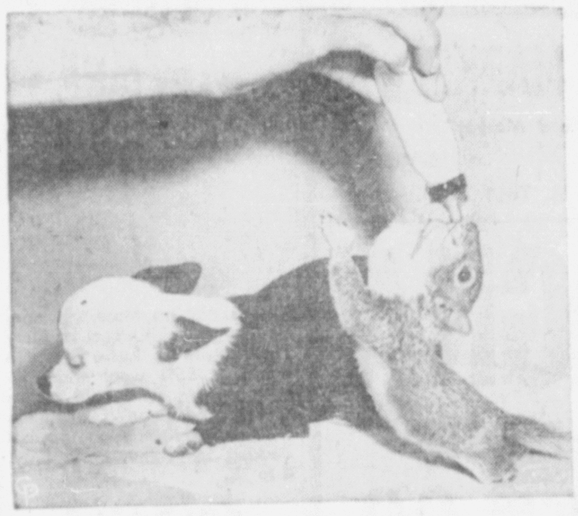
The crucial change to make, in your psychology, is a change of emphasis: from wanting, to giving.

My advice is, throw off your wet blanket (so to speak). Develop the psychology of a woman who has much to give, of time, interest, helpfulness, etc., to the good causes in her environment. Become a Red Cross volunteer (its fields of usefulness are endless). Or put your shoulder to the wheel of church work. Or get behind the nominees of your political party, and, plug for campaign funds and votes on their behalf.

The idea is, start giving to life for the very exercise of giving; and the result will be, the currents of universal life will begin to course more abundantly in your experience. Then opportunities for courtship and marriage will unfold, without your trying to conjure them.

M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column and not by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of this newspaper.



WHEN MR. AND MRS. CLIFFORD KING of Albany, N.Y., found a baby squirrel that had fallen from a tree, they named it "Tiger" and brought it into the house. Their doubts about it getting along with the family chihuahua were set at rest when "Tiger" proceeded to adopt the dog. Here, the pooch relaxes patiently while the ex-tree climber goes for his bottled dinner. (International Soundphoto)

Stock Market Jitters Fail To Faze Public

Spending, Borrowing Plan Unchanged by Wall Street Moves

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market jitters appear today to be confined largely to brokers boardrooms.

The public — according to government statistics — hasn't let the uncertainty change its habit or plans. The public continues to up its total spending, cutting back only on such things as autos, houses and stocks.

And businessmen have stretched their spending and borrowing plans once more. Neither higher prices nor steeper interest charges appear to have deterred the consumer or the industrialist.

The farmer is also getting a reassuring pat. The Agriculture Department looks for production of livestock and its products to increase enough to offset slightly lower crop output and expects prices to be fairly stable on a seasonable basis.

Retail sales are continuing to rise this month, the Department of Commerce reports. Dollar volume is swelled both by higher prices and by larger unit sales.

Industrial production snapped back sharply in August from the July slowdown due to the steel strike. The department looks for the increased pace to continue the rest of the year. The retail and industrial stepups are keeping the labor market strong.

Where some of the money is coming from for all this spending is shown in a report by the National Assn. of Mutual Savings Banks. Depositors have been withdrawing more money this year than last. Others have continued to put in more money so that total deposits are higher, but the rate of increase is less than a year ago.

And how some of the money is being spent is also shown in the same report. These banks increased their holdings of mortgages in August by 227 million dollars, compared with 224 million dollars in the 1955 month.

The Securities and Exchange Commission in its latest survey finds businessmen planning to spend still more on new plant and equipment in the final three months of the year. The latest figure is 38 billion dollars as an annual rate. Earlier the SEC had estimated total 1956 spending would be 35 billion.

In spite of their big spending spree, corporations have been more liberal this year in dividend payments. Government figures report corporate cash dividends in the first eight months of this year 15 per cent higher than last, with the total nearly 6½ billion dollars.

Some of the industries that had a slowdown earlier in the year are now picking up. The cotton textile industry reports a sudden spurt this week in cotton goods buying — which they hope won't prove a flash in the pan.

The Commerce Department reports sales picking up for furniture and floor coverings, appliances, heating apparatus and radio and television sets.

TV Sets in U. S. Outnumber Tubs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—As mothers of dirt-tinged little boys have long known, the bathtub runs a poor second to television in popularity.

"There are now more TV sets than bathtubs in American homes," Robert S. Bell, executive vice president of the Packard-Bell Co., reports.

U. S. manufacturers in eight years have produced 49 million TV sets, he told a National Television Week meeting of industry representatives.

Florida Shuns Queen's Swans

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth of England can just keep her swans.

Seems she had offered her swans to this city which always has gone in for the big birds as sightseeing attractions.

It would cost about $300 to get the swans over. A drive was started to raise the money.

Only $7 was raised so the project was dropped.

Ike Overrules Ellis Island Sale

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has oveeruled the General Services Administration plan to sell Ellis Island.

The White House said the President acted in the belief some way may be found to preserve the historic entry point through which some 15 million immigrants have passed.

The Immigration Service has not used the island in New York Harbor since Nov. 12, 1954. GSA had advertised for bids, to be opened Nov. 19, for sale to private interests. The area is appraised at $6,277,000.

Christmas Gifts Lost in Blaze

DALLAS (AP)—About $500,000 in Christmas toys, gifts and decorations burned here when fire destroyed a warehouse in the Trinity industrial area.

More than 75 firemen fought the blaze at the New York Merchandising Co. warehouse, filled with dime-store items. The cause was not immediately determined.

You'll never know a hungry moment while reducing with RENNEL.

Conference Call Limitation Relaxed

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state utilities commission has permitted the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to change its conference call regulations to remove the limit on the number of persons that can talk at the same time on such a call.

These calls are used primarily by businessmen. Up to now, the company limited the number who could participate in the conference call, before special facilities were needed, to six. Now the company has more facilities and does not need the limitation. The ruling does not change rates for the calls or the way for figuring them, the commission said.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am an unmarried woman, 34, and the thought of getting up and going out to work every day until I am 65 is repellent to me. I am a college graduate, with average looks; and in college I spent most of my time working, so never went out with boys much. I regret that now.

I never meet anyone at my place of work, nor have I ever met anybody at church. Once a week I go to a public dance, but such people as I meet there aren't interested in marriage, apparently. Do you think I am too particular with regard to men?

There is one man who comes to see me occasionally. He is divorced and has two children, but I don't know whether he is interested in marrying again, as I have known him only a month.

Most of my friends are married; those I know in college are scattered over a wide area, settled down in marriage, and I have grown away from them. I am very lonely and quite depressed over the situation into which I have let myself fall.

In wanting to marry, am I headed in the right direction, do you think? Am I doing everything I can to meet a marriageable man? Please tell me how I can speed things up, because I am interested in getting married soon, without wasting any more time.

J. B.

DEAR J. B.: As I get the picture, the divorced man's attentions, slight as they are, have rekindled a spark of hope in your breast, that possibly it isn't too late to get yourself a man, if you exert yourself, and play your cards right. And the desperate new urgency of your thinking along this line indicates that you'd counted yourself out of the struggle some time ago, even though you'd continued to go through motions of looking for somebody —by going to church, to a weekly dance, and so on.

Beating the bushes for a man isn't the way to achieve your heart's desire, I think. Sages and mystics, who have intuitive insight into the creative principles of being, tell us that it is more important to be the right person, than to find the right person (so-called), if we want more of life, and more of love—which in brief is what you yearn for.

The crucial change to make, in your psychology, is a change of emphasis: from wanting, to giving.

My advice is, throw off your wet blanket (so to speak). Develop the psychology of a woman who has much to give, of time, interest, helpfulness, etc., to the good causes in her environment. Become a Red Cross volunteer (its fields of usefulness are endless). Or put your shoulder to the wheel of church work. Or get behind the nominees of your political party, and plug for campaign funds and votes on their behalf.

The idea is, start giving to life for the very exercise of giving; and the result will be, the currents of universal life will begin to course more abundantly in your experience. Then opportunities for courtship and marriage will unfold, without your trying to conjure them.

M. H.

Their doubts about it getting along with the family chihuahua were set at rest when "Tiger" proceeded to adopt the dog. Here, the pooch relaxes patiently while the ex-tree climber goes for his bottled dinner. (International Soundphoto)

Stock Market Jitters Fail To Faze Public

Spending, Borrowing Plan Unchanged by Wall Street Moves

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market jitters appear today to be confined largely to brokers boardrooms.

The public — according to government statistics — hasn't let the uncertainty change its habit or plans. The public continues to up its total spending, cutting back only on such things as autos, houses and stocks.

And businessmen have stretched their spending and borrowing plans once more. Neither higher prices nor steeper interest charges appear to have deterred the consumer or the industrialist.

The farmer is also getting a reassuring pat. The Agriculture Department looks for production of livestock and its products to increase enough to offset slightly lower crop output and expects prices to be fairly stable on a seasonable basis.

Retail sales are continuing to rise this month, the Department of Commerce reports. Dollar volume is swelled both by higher prices and by larger unit sales.

Industrial production snapped back sharply in August from the July slowdown due to the steel strike. The department looks for the increased pace to continue the rest of the year. The retail and industrial stepups are keeping the labor market strong.

Where some of the money is coming from for all this spending is shown in a report by the National Assn. of Mutual Savings Banks. Depositors have been withdrawing more money this year than last. Others have continued to put in more money so that total deposits are higher, but the rate of increase is less than a year ago.

And how some of the money is being spent is also shown in the same report. These banks increased their holdings of mortgages in August by 227 million dollars, compared with 224 million dollars in the 1955 month.

The Securities and Exchange Commission in its latest survey finds businessmen planning to spend still more on new plant and equipment in the final three months of the year. The latest figure is 38 billion dollars as an annual rate. Earlier the SEC had estimated total 1956 spending would be 35 billion.

In spite of their big spending spree, corporations have been more liberal this year in dividend payments. Government figures report corporate cash dividends in the first eight months of this year 15 per cent higher than last, with the total nearly 6½ billion dollars.

Some of the industries that had a slowdown earlier in the year are now picking up. The cotton textile industry reports a sudden spurt this week in cotton goods buying — which they hope won't prove a flash in the pan.

The Commerce Department reports sales picking up for furniture and floor coverings, appliances, heating apparatus and radio and television sets.

TV Sets in U. S. Outnumber Tubs

LOS ANGELES (AP)—As mothers of dirt-tinged little boys have long known, the bathtub runs a poor second to television in popularity.

"There are now more TV sets than bathtubs in American homes," Robert S. Bell, executive vice president of the Packard-Bell Co., reports.

U. S. manufacturers in eight years have produced 49 million TV sets, he told a National Television Week meeting of industry representatives.

Florida Shuns Queen's Swans

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth of England can just keep her swans.

Seems she had offered her swans to this city which always has gone in for the big birds as sightseeing attractions.

It would cost about $300 to get the swans over. A drive was started to raise the money.

Only $7 was raised so the project was dropped.

Ike Overrules Ellis Island Sale

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has oveeruled the General Services Administration plan to sell Ellis Island.

The White House said the President acted in the belief some way may be found to preserve the historic entry point through which some 15 million immigrants have passed.

The Immigration Service has not used the island in New York Harbor since Nov. 12, 1954. GSA had advertised for bids, to be opened Nov. 19, for sale to private interests. The area is appraised at $6,277,000.

Christmas Gifts Lost in Blaze

DALLAS (AP)—About $500,000 in Christmas toys, gifts and decorations burned here when fire destroyed a warehouse in the Trinity industrial area.

More than 75 firemen fought the blaze at the New York Merchandising Co. warehouse, filled with dime-store items. The cause was not immediately determined.

REDUCING WITH RENNEL
CINCINNATI, OHIO—"I am 32 years old, and had been fat all my life until a friend told me about Rennel Concentrate," writes Mrs. James Robinson, 1333 Linn St., Cincinnati, O. "I have lost 50 lbs. and am now down to 140. I look and feel so much better."
Ask your druggist for 4 ounces of liquid RENNEL Concentrate. You'll never know a hungry moment while reducing with RENNEL.

Conference Call Limitation Relaxed

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state utilities commission has permitted the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to change its conference call regulations to remove the limit on the number of persons that can talk at the same time on such a call.

These calls are used primarily by businessmen. Up to now, the company limited the number who could participate in the conference call, before special facilities were needed, to six. Now the company has more facilities and does not need the limitation. The ruling does not change rates for the calls or the way for figuring them, the commission said.

Social Happenings

Mrs. Satterfield Is Hostess To Church Society

Members of the Virginia Circle of the Jeffersonville W.S.C.S. met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Al. Satterfield.

The meeting was opened by the leader, Mrs. Leora Booco, who read a poem.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Albert Vannorsdall which included Scripture reading by Mrs. Roy Baber, and prayer by Mrs. James Boren for peace.

Fourteen members responded to roll call and Miss Lillian Barnes was introduced as a guest.

During the business session the usual reports were heard and approved and the president announced the names of officers for the coming year who are: Mrs. Booco as leader; Mrs. John Ritenour, assistant leader; Mrs. Ruth Williams, secretary; Mrs. James Boren, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Keller, press correspondent; Mrs. Roy Baber, chairman of sunshine fund, and the ways and means committee, Mrs. Warren Williams, Mrs. Charles Seibert and Miss Maud Routson.

Two projects were discussed and adopted as a means to replenish the treasury, and two new members, Mrs. Lola Rector and Mrs. Frances Snodgrass were welcomed into the society.

Mrs. Albert Vannorsdall reviewed most interestingly the book "Paul's Letters To The Local Churches" by Bishop Francis Gerald Ensley.

Garden Club Makes Plans For Flower Show

Mrs. Charles Duff was hostess to an afternoon meeting of the Town and Country Club at her home near Bloomingburg Wednesday and Mrs. Robert Browning was the assisting hostess.

Mrs. Eli Craig, the new president, called the meeting to order and read the poem entitled "Our Gardens".

The usual reports were followed with a lengthy discussion on the countywide Flower Show to be held Friday, Sept. 28 at the Washington Country Club, and plans were made for the assignment of the club, which is registration and Mrs. Harold McConnaughey, Mrs. Howard Nessell, Mrs. Ronald Thompson and Mrs. Donald Denen will be in charge of registration, and the entire club will function as the restoration committee, with Mrs. Richard Rankin and Mrs. Darrell Coil, heading this committee.

The club welcomed Mrs. Dwight Duff and Mrs. Carl Scott as new members, and the next meeting on October 24 will be held at the home of Mrs. Rex Bloomer when the club will have a guest speaker.

During the social hour the members further discussed flower arrangements and the hostesses served dainty refreshments.

Browning Club Dinner Meeting Opens 61st Year

Browning Club will open its 61st year of literary study, when the members will hold a dinner meeting Tuesday, October 2, at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church.

The dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. and the 1956-57 officers, Mrs. Charles Fults, Mrs. John P. Case, Mrs. Robert Angus and Mrs. Willard Bitzer will make up the hostess group.

Members are priviledged to bring guests and Mrs. Darrell Weinrich will accept reservations.

The program committee has chosen for the year's study the subject "Great Religions of The World."

Each department chairman for meetings has been assigned a title relating to the department to the world of religion.

The papers will include material on religion, both past and present.

Opening the year's programs also setting the stage for the study following the guest speaker for the evening will be Father Richard R. Connelly, pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church, who is well known as an after dinner speaker.

Mrs. Herbert Perrill will present two musical selections during the evening.

The dinner will be served by the ladies of St. Andrew's Church.

Sorority Holds Social Meeting

The September social meeting of Beta Iota Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority was held at the home of Luberta Jinks.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Marlyn Reno during which final plans were made for the rummage sale to be held Oct. 20th at the Armory from 9 a. m. to 12 p. m.

Plans were also made for the rushing party which will be an event of Oct. 23rd. Pledges were voted on and approved and committees were appointed by the vice president, Mrs. Richard Smith.

Miss Madeline Denen was elected first alternate delegate and Miss Jean Ann Boylan second alternate delegate to state council.

The remainder of the evening was spent in counting sales tax stamps, and making posters for the rummage sale.

Later refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Carol White, Oct. 9th.

Add raw mushrooms to your tossed green salad; the vinegar and oil mixture enhances their flavor.

Newcomers Club Bridge Group Enjoys Party

Mrs. Robert Anderson was hostess to the Newcomers Club bridge group, for their regular monthly bridge party. Four tables of ladies were at play in the progressive game and at the conclusion awards were presented to Mrs. Clarence Maddox, who was the holder of high score, Mrs. Richard Filbin, second and Mrs. George Arnold, third.

Mrs. Anderson was assisted by Mrs. Philip Binzel and Mrs. Fred Domenico, in the serving of light refreshments throughout the evening.

Members present were: Mrs. Maddox, Mrs. Filbin, Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Fred Braddock, Jr., Mrs. William D'Andrea, Mrs. Larry Soldan, Mrs. J. F. Parkinson, Mrs. Herb Russell, Mrs. Robert Harris, Mrs. Ralph Cook, Mrs. Robert Shoemaker, Mrs. LaVern Haugen, Mrs. Michael Harrison, Mrs. Ned V. Abbott, Mrs. Wayne Hagan and Mrs. Jack Montgomery.

BBW Presidents Entertained by Mrs. Dellinger

Mrs. Howard Dellinger was hostess to past presidents of the Business and Professional Woman's Club Wednesday evening for a delightful social event and the group motored to Greenfield for dinner at the Cowgill Restaurant.

Mrs. Dellinger later entertained her guests at her home which was tastefully decorated with fall flowers for an evening of progressive canasta.

Past presidents included were: Miss Frances White, Miss Ruth Sexton, Miss Norma Dodd, Miss Kathleen Stookey, Mrs. Wilbur S. Wilson, Mrs. J. Lowell Miller, Mrs. William Rogers, Miss Jeannette Haver, Miss Edith Wilson, Miss Gretchen Darlington, Mrs. Smith Mace and Miss Helen Slavens.

Miss Mary Frances Snider, the 1956-57 president was included as a special guest.

A little diced leftover ham and cooked rice plus diced celery cooked until soft in butter make a fine stuffing for green peppers. Cut off ends of peppers and scoop out seeds and membranes; parboil the peppers for about five minutes in lightly salted water, then stuff and top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven, in a pan with about a half-inch of water in it, until the peppers are tender and the tops browned— about half an hour.

Mrs. Satterfield Is Hostess To Church Society

Members of the Virginia Circle of the Jeffersonville W.S.C.S. met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Al. Satterfield.

The meeting was opened by the leader, Mrs. Leora Booco, who read a poem.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Albert Vannorsdall which included Scripture reading by Mrs. Roy Baber, and prayer by Mrs. James Boren for peace.

Fourteen members responded to roll call and Miss Lillian Barnes was introduced as a guest.

During the business session the usual reports were heard and approved and the president announced the names of officers for the coming year who are: Mrs. Booco as leader; Mrs. John Ritenour, assistant leader; Mrs. Ruth Williams, secretary; Mrs. James Boren, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Keller, press correspondent; Mrs. Roy Baber, chairman of sunshine fund, and the ways and means committee, Mrs. Warren Williams, Mrs. Charles Seibert and Miss Maud Routson.

Two projects were discussed and adopted as a means to replenish the treasury, and two new members, Mrs. Lola Rector and Mrs. Frances Snodgrass were welcomed into the society.

Mrs. Albert Vannorsdall reviewed most interestingly the book "Paul's Letters To The Local Churches" by Bishop Francis Gerald Ensley.

At the close of the book review Mrs. Satterfield was assisted by Mrs. Willis Ray in the serving of a delicious dessert course.

Rome Is in Us

We Do as the Romans Did

By FRANK WATSON
(Central Press Association)

"When in Rome," so that old saying goes, "do as the Romans do," but few of us today realize just how much the world has followed that advice down through the centuries.

The debt we owe to the ancient Romans—and to other nations as well—might be shoved aside in the rush to acclaim every new invention of the atomic age.

Let's take a Bridey Murphy-like trip back to the days when the Roman legions held sway over most of the so-called civilized world and all roads did, indeed, lead to Rome.

Take the matter of voting, for example—a vital one in this election year. Do you know why we use the terms "casting a ballot" and "candidate"?

Well, when the ancient Roman voted to choose a man for office, he tossed a little clay ball into a round container which resembled a wastebasket. White balls meant "Yes," and black balls "No."

Today we vote by "casting a ballot" which originally meant "throwing a ball."

Office seekers in Rome whitened their robes with chalk as a sign of clean politics. The word for white was "candid"— hence our present-day term, "candidate."

SINGERS might be surprised to learn that the notes of the scale are known as "do-re-mi-fa," etc., because those are the first syllables of the words beginning an early Latin song which was used to teach the scale.

Another custom which dates back to the ancient Romans is that of firing three volleys over the grave of a soldier. That originated with the act of casting earth over the coffin, calling the dead by name three times and then saying "vale" (the word for "farewell") three times. The firing of three volleys is saying farewell to the deceased.

The Roman influence can be seen every time we write a letter. The Romans took over the alphabet of the Greeks, adapted it to the writing of their language and perfected the capital letters which we now use.

Whenever workers go on strike nowadays, they merely are copying a maneuver which dates at least back to the Romans. It was in 494 B. C. that the world's first "general strike" took place. The plebians (common people) of Rome walked out in a body and didn't return to the city until the patricians (ruling class) promised to institute reforms.

Remember "bank night"? Whether you are bored by it or not, Nero, the Roman emperor, was responsible for it. He used to give public entertainments and, during the evening, threw numbered balls into the crowd. When the lucky ones turned the balls into the treasury they received gifts ranging from a small spot of cash to a mansion complete with food, clothes, jewels, slaves, etc.

HOUSEWIVES are indebted to the ancients for many innovations in the kitchen. The early Romans, for example, divided pans into sections to make possible the baking of many cakes at one time.

Every time you eat a loaf of freshly-baked bread, you can thank the Roman emperor Trajan, for he was the one who originated the idea of daily delivery of fresh bread to the people.

Newlyweds who have ducked their share of rice after the marriage ceremony have a kinship with couples back in the days of Julius Caesar. In that day, though, things were a bit more dangerous. Friends threw nuts at newly married couples.

If you dislike dressing for dinner, you know where to put the blame. The Romans started this custom by changing to a loose white robe before sitting down to dinner.

ANOTHER custom which can be traced back to the Romans is the one of vintage dating. Each container of the choicest wines served at banquets bore the entire pedigree, from the grape planting to the final production of the wine.

Wearers of false teeth and owners of insurance policies could find their counterpart in the Rome of old. The insurance idea probably stems from the Roman soldiers who deposited half their spoils of war to be returned to them when they retired from the army, or to their families if they were killed.

This sample of "old" customs and practices prompts one to wonder if we are ancient or the Romans were modern.

Good Ol' Pappy

SEATTLE (AP) — A father here was trying to explain to his 5-year-old the meaning of money.

"Daddy goes to work every day to earn money to buy you and sister food and clothes and toys," the father explained.

The boy reflected duly, then replied: "Say, dad; you're a good sport."

Former Russian Minister To Speak In City Friday

The Rev. Peter Varonof, former Russian minister who has declared that the Communists plan to conquer the world by 1973, will speak at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the House of Prayer on Washington Ave.

THE REV. PETER VARONOF

He will illustrate his talk with colored pictures.

Varonof, who lived in Russia believes the Communists will some day attack the North American continent from the north. "Fifty-four miles from Alaska are 32 Russian divisions ready to establish a beachhead on our continent," he declares.

The speaker also believes the Communists will not use physical force for a while. "They are waiting for a depression in the United States to bankrupt our economy."

It is Mr. Varonof's contention that the Communists plan to take over Asia by 1960. He said they expect to win the general election in India.

The speaker has declared in other appearances in this country that the Communists have a list of 50,000,000 Americans they will put to death the day they take over the continent. They will get rid of independent-minded Christian men so they can brainwash the rest of the people and make them Communists, he believes.

"Communism can overtake the world unless we see the western nations returning to the faith of their fathers — the Christian church," he says.

The National Statuary Hall, in the Capitol at Washington, contains the statue of only one woman—Frances E. Willard of Illinois, a noted temperance leader.

Fancy Color Phones Cause Some Trouble

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The color hasn't been holding up too well on some of the new colored telephones, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. says.

And it is asking the state utilities commission to let it exchange them for phones with more durable colors—at no cost to the subscribers.

The company's rules provide for a $3.30 charge for that service now. And the company has to get commission approval every time it wants to change its charges.

In its request for the approval, the company says that some telephones in special colors are suffering from faded, chipped or worn off paint.

These the company wants to replace with instruments in standard colors it knows will attain the strain.

There's a growing demand for the colored telephone, the company says, and it is able to get enough of them to keep installing new colored telephones and still replace the worn out ones.

The company now advertises eight shades of phones "to blend with or accent your room colors."

French Draftees To Free Reserves

PARIS (AP)—The French Cabinet has approved the release of about 200,000 reservists recalled to active duty during the big buildup of forces in Algeria.

Most of them will be home by Christmas.

Max Lejeune, secretary of state for armed forces with special responsibility for Algerian military matters, said that the increase in recent months of draftees has assured the stability of the size of the forces planned for Algeria. He said this made the release possible.

Sweepstakes Swag Brings Troubles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Municipal Judge Alvin Weinberger ordered psychiatric examination for Joseph Francis O'Brien, 56, winner of $140,000 in Irish Sweepstakes money two years ago.

O'Brien, a $65-a-week night hotel clerk when he won the sweepstakes prize, came before Judge Weinberger on a drunk charge.

O'Brien said, "Don't let anybody ever tell you it's lucky to win money. I wish I had never seen the dough." Much of his money, he said, had gone in Nevada gambling.

American Can Co. OKs Union Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new contract between American Can Co. and United Steelworkers of America will go into effect Monday, providing 21½ cents an hour in wage increases over a three-year period.

The agreement, covering 20,000 workers in 37 plants from coast to coast, was signed Wednesday.

Wages will be increased 7½ cents an hour Oct. 1, 7 cents Oct. 1, 1957, and 7 cents Oct. 1, 1958. The current basic starting wage is $1.82 an hour.

New Father Faints, Heads for Rooftop

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Luigi Caruso, 21, became a father for the first time and after a look at his new-born son, fainted.

When he was revived, the exuberant Luigi put his hand through a glass telephone booth in the hospital corridor.

When police came to see what the noise was all about, Luigi, who doesn't speak English, feared he was in trouble and ran up to the hospital roof. He refused to come down until the police went away.

When he came down, doctors gave him a sedative and he was sent home to calm down.

Mother and son were doing much better, the hospital reported.

Contract Awaited

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Columbus Municipal Airport Commission has set Nov. 20 as the contract letting day for $3 million worth of construction at Port Columbus, including a new terminal, cargo and mail and service buildings.

Take the matter of voting, for example—a vital one in this election year. Do you know why we use the terms "casting a ballot" and "candidate"?

Well, when the ancient Roman voted to choose a man for office, he tossed a little clay ball into a round container which resembled a wastebasket. White balls meant "Yes," and black balls "No."

Today we vote by "casting a ballot" which originally meant "throwing a ball."

Office seekers in Rome whitened their robes with chalk as a sign of clean politics. The word for white was "candid"— hence our present-day term, "candidate."

SINGERS might be surprised to learn that the notes of the scale are known as "do-re-mi-fa," etc., because those are the first syllables of the words beginning an early Latin song which was used to teach the scale.

Another custom which dates back to the ancient Romans is that of firing three volleys over the grave of a soldier. That originated with the act of casting earth over the coffin, calling the dead by name three times and then saying "vale" (the word for "farewell") three times. The firing of three volleys is saying farewell to the deceased.

The Roman influence can be seen every time we write a letter. The Romans took over the alphabet of the Greeks, adapted it to the writing of their language and perfected the capital letters which we now use.

Whenever workers go on strike nowadays, they merely are copying a maneuver which dates at least back to the Romans. It was in 494 B. C. that the world's first "general strike" took place. The plebians (common people) of Rome walked out in a body and didn't return to the city until the patricians (ruling class) promised to institute reforms.

Remember "bank night"? Whether you are bored by it or not, Nero, the Roman emperor, was responsible for it. He used to give public entertainments and, during the evening, threw numbered balls into the crowd. When the lucky ones turned the balls into the treasury they received gifts ranging from a small spot of cash to a mansion complete with food, clothes, jewels, slaves, etc.

HOUSEWIVES are indebted to the ancients for many innovations in the kitchen. The early Romans, for example, divided pans into sections to make possible the baking of many cakes at one time.

Every time you eat a loaf of freshly-baked bread, you can thank the Roman emperor Trajan, for he was the one who originated the idea of daily delivery of fresh bread to the people.

Newlyweds who have ducked their share of rice after the marriage ceremony have a kinship with couples back in the days of Julius Caesar. In that day, though, things were a bit more dangerous. Friends threw nuts at newly married couples.

If you dislike dressing for dinner, you know where to put the blame. The Romans started this custom by changing to a loose white robe before sitting down to dinner.

ANOTHER custom which can be traced back to the Romans is the one of vintage dating. Each container of the choicest wines served at banquets bore the entire pedigree, from the grape planting to the final production of the wine.

Wearers of false teeth and owners of insurance policies could find their counterpart in the Rome of old. The insurance idea probably stems from the Roman soldiers who deposited half their spoils of war to be returned to them when they retired from the army, or to their families if they were killed.

This sample of "old" customs and practices prompts one to wonder if we are ancient or the Romans were modern.

Good Ol' Pappy

SEATTLE (AP) — A father here was trying to explain to his 5-year-old the meaning of money.

"Daddy goes to work every day to earn money to buy you and sister food and clothes and toys," the father explained.

Former Russian Minister To Speak In City Friday

The Rev. Peter Varonof, former Russian minister who has declared that the Communists plan to conquer the world by 1973, will speak at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the House of Prayer on Washington Ave.

THE REV. PETER VARONOF

He will illustrate his talk with colored pictures.

Varonof, who lived in Russia believes the Communists will some day attack the North American continent from the north. "Fifty-four miles from Alaska are 32 Russian divisions ready to establish a beachhead on our continent," he declares.

The speaker also believes the Communists will not use physical force for a while. "They are waiting for a depression in the United States to bankrupt our economy."

It is Mr. Varonof's contention that the Communists plan to take over Asia by 1960. He said they expect to win the general election in India.

The speaker has declared in other appearances in this country that the Communists have a list of 50,000,000 Americans they will put to death the day they take over the continent. They will get rid of independent-minded Christian men so they can brainwash the rest of the people and make them Communists, he believes.

"Communism can overtake the world unless we see the western nations returning to the faith of their fathers — the Christian church," he says.

Fancy Color Phones Cause Some Trouble

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The color hasn't been holding up too well on some of the new colored telephones, the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. says.

And it is asking the state utilities commission to let it exchange them for phones with more durable colors—at no cost to the subscribers.

The company's rules provide for a $3.30 charge for that service now. And the company has to get commission approval every time it wants to change its charges.

In its request for the approval, the company says that some telephones in special colors are suffering from faded, chipped or worn off paint.

These the company wants to replace with instruments in standard colors it knows will attain the strain.

There's a growing demand for the colored telephone, the company says, and it is able to get enough of them to keep installing new colored telephones and still replace the worn out ones.

The company now advertises eight shades of phones "to blend with or accent your room colors."

French Draftees To Free Reserves

PARIS (AP)—The French Cabinet has approved the release of about 200,000 reservists recalled to active duty during the big buildup of forces in Algeria.

Most of them will be home by Christmas.

Max Lejeune, secretary of state for armed forces with special responsibility for Algerian military matters, said that the increase in recent months of draftees has assured the stability of the size of the forces planned for Algeria. He said this made the release possible.

Sweepstakes Swag Brings Troubles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Municipal Judge Alvin Weinberger ordered psychiatric examination for Joseph Francis O'Brien, 56, winner of $140,000 in Irish Sweepstakes money two years ago.

O'Brien, a $65-a-week night hotel clerk when he won the sweepstakes prize, came before Judge Weinberger on a drunk charge.

O'Brien said, "Don't let anybody ever tell you it's lucky to win money. I wish I had never seen the dough." Much of his money, he said, had gone in Nevada gambling.

American Can Co. OKs Union Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new contract between American Can Co. and United Steelworkers of America will go into effect Monday, providing 21½ cents an hour in wage increases over a three-year period.

The agreement, covering 20,000 workers in 37 plants from coast to coast, was signed Wednesday.

Wages will be increased 7½ cents an hour Oct. 1, 7 cents Oct. 1, 1957, and 7 cents Oct. 1, 1958. The current basic starting wage is $1.82 an hour.

Contract Awaited

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Columbus Municipal Airport Commission has set Nov. 20 as the contract letting day for $3 million worth of construction at Port Columbus, including a new terminal, cargo and mail and service buildings.

New Father Faints, Heads for Rooftop

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Luigi Caruso, 21, became a father for the first time and after a look at his new-born son, fainted.

When he was revived, the exuberant Luigi put his hand through a glass telephone booth in the hospital corridor.

When police came to see what the noise was all about, Luigi, who doesn't speak English, feared he was in trouble and ran up to the hospital roof. He refused to come down until the police went away.

When he came down, doctors gave him a sedative and he was sent home to calm down.

Mother and son were doing much better, the hospital reported.

Border-Hopping Soars as $$$ Lure Mexicans

500,000 Cross Rio Grande in Last 5 Years

By EMIL ZUBRYN
(Central Press Association)

MEXICO CITY — The strange phenomenon of hundreds of thousands of workers and farmers, who want to abandon Mexico for the "greener pastures" of the United States, has officialdom and industry worried.

The movement has accelerated gravely in the past five years and, while the government has clamped down on providing data, unofficially it is known that at least 500,000 Mexicans, including skilled workers and industry specialists, have made the "jump" across the Rio Grande legally, in the period.

The total for the past 15 years is estimated conservatively at over 1,500,000 workers.

THESE FIGURES do not include braceros (migrant laborers), who storm contracting centers here when Texas and California ranchers need them for harvesting time. And in the heart of most braceros is the hope that, somehow, they remain in the Estados Unidos.

Even the Indians have learned about the "Yankee dollar" and a steady trickle applies for seasonal work as migrant laborers in "gringo land." And Indian who comes back to his rancheria (settlement) with three or four hundred dollars is a wealthy man, indeed. Sometimes, though, his U. S. wealth is a curse, for he is murdered for the money. But sober, hard-working Indians usually use the "grubstake" earned across the border to set themselves up as minor entrepreneurs and powers in their communities.

REAL REASON for the "flight" of skilled and unskilled labor to the United States is economic. As Prisciliano Elizondo and Jose Rodolfo Garcia, representatives of large Monterrey industrial interests, recently put it, Mexico just can't compete with salaries paid in the U. S.

For example, large steel mills, glass works, the government oil monopoly, automobile assembly plants and foundries are noted for paying "good salaries" here. Their technical specialists receive from 25 to 35 pesos a day ($2.00 to $2.80).

Across the Rio Grande these workers can earn anywhere from $15 to $25 dollars a day, and this is the magnet that is syphoning away Mexico's skilled labor pool, particularly.

EVEN in Baja California, because of its close proximity and dependence on the U. S., the salaries (tops for the republic) range from 45 to 55 pesos ($3.60 to $4.40) a day. But with today's high costs of living most workers find they cannot provide a decent living for their loved ones.

Therefore, the Department of Foreign Relations and the U. S. Embassy have been stormed by as many as 1,000 applicants a day, eager to go through the complicated, official red - tape that gives them the right to emigrate to the U. S.

The lucky ones are those who have relatives in the United States who comply with United States requirements to guarantee that newcomers will not be public charges. Also, a requisite is that the emigrant actually has an offer of employment. These, and other stiff requirements, appear to be no stumbling block to the astounding numbers hypnotized by the prospects of dollar earnings.

CHIEF ERROR in Mexico today has been to underestimate the worker above the level of an ignorant day laborer. And while unions have upped wages and are negotiating for further increases this year, the gap between earnings and cost of living continues to widen.

The Department of Foreign Relations has admitted that it has processed around 8,000 passports monthly, since the beginning of the year, with 80 per cent of these for farmers and workers who want to reside permanently in the U. S.

Unofficially it is claimed the mass migration probably is double the officially released Relations figure.

THOSE are the legal emigrants. As for the dollar-hungry Mexicans who enter the U. S. illegally (as braceros, for example, also with a legal permit but who abandon their jobs and seek employment elsewhere), no one can venture to guess what this total comes to.

Really worried by the tide of workers leaving the plants and the farms, managements are calling on the government to put an "end" to the negira that is making a "gift" of Mexican skilled labor to the United States.

60 Pct. Drop Seen in Ohio Polio Listings

COLUMBUS (AP)—The state health director, Dr. Ralph Dwork, has told Ohio commissioners that so far this year there has been a 60 per cent decrease in polio cases compared to 1955.

Dr. Dwork made that statement as he opened the 37th annual conference of Ohio health commissioners. His annual report to the conference said that how much of the decrease can be attributed to the Salk anti-polio vaccine is a difficult question to answer.

Through the first 38 weeks of this year 433 polio cases were reported to the state health department compared with 1,047 through the corresponding period of last year, Dr. Dwork said.

Dr. Dwork said the department plans to continue to buy vaccine until next June 30 if the federal funds the department has for that purpose last that long. He said so far $860,804 has been spent and the department has about the same amount still available.

Dr. Dwork also said that 45 per cent of Ohio's population that gets its water from public supplies is drinking fluoridated water. Some 76 communities served by 18 water suppliers for a population of 2,435,000 are now fluoridating their water, he reported. This represents 41.5 per cent of the population served by public water supplies.

Contractor Faces Prison Sentence

WOOSTER (AP) — A Sherrodsville contractor, Earl L. Baughman, 47, is awaiting sentence on his plea of guilty to conspiring to defraud the village of Dalton in a sewage plant project.

Judge Walter J. Mougey said he would await a report from the probation department before imposing sentence.

Baughman was charged with giving $15,500 to a Cincinnati man, Richard B. Harrison, to "grease the palms of the city fathers" of Dalton. Actually, a state auditor's investigation showed none of the "city fathers" benefitted.

Harrison, who had been posing as an engineer, is charged with taking the money. He jumped bond of $5,000 in Los Angeles last June.

Galion Firm Buys Louisville Company

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A Louisville trailer manufacturing company has been sold to the Hercules Galion Products, Inc., of Galion, Ohio, for an amount reportedly in excess of $1 million.

Announcement of the sale of Kingham Trailer Co. was made by officers of the Citizens Fidelity Bank and Trust Co.

Dr. Dwork made that statement as he opened the 37th annual conference of Ohio health commissioners. His annual report to the conference said that how much of the decrease can be attributed to the Salk anti-polio vaccine is a difficult question to answer.

Through the first 38 weeks of this year 433 polio cases were reported to the state health department compared with 1,047 through the corresponding period of last year, Dr. Dwork said.

Dr. Dwork said the department plans to continue to buy vaccine until next June 30 if the federal funds the department has for that purpose last that long. He said so far $860,804 has been spent and the department has about the same amount still available.

Dr. Dwork also said that 45 per cent of Ohio's population that gets its water from public supplies is drinking fluoridated water. Some 76 communities served by 18 water suppliers for a population of 2,435,000 are now fluoridating their water, he reported. This represents 41.5 per cent of the population served by public water supplies.

Contractor Faces Prison Sentence

WOOSTER (AP) — A Sherrodsville contractor, Earl L. Baughman, 47, is awaiting sentence on his plea of guilty to conspiring to defraud the village of Dalton in a sewage plant project.

Judge Walter J. Mougey said he would await a report from the probation department before imposing sentence.

Baughman was charged with giving $15,500 to a Cincinnati man, Richard B. Harrison, to "grease the palms of the city fathers" of Dalton. Actually, a state auditor's investigation showed none of the "city fathers" benefitted.

Harrison, who had been posing as an engineer, is charged with taking the money. He jumped bond of $5,000 in Los Angeles last June.

Galion Firm Buys Louisville Company

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A Louisville trailer manufacturing company has been sold to the Hercules Galion Products, Inc., of Galion, Ohio, for an amount reportedly in excess of $1 million.

Announcement of the sale of Kingham Trailer Co. was made by officers of the Citizens Fidelity Bank and Trust Co.

Round about Fayette County

By B. J. KELLEY

Herbert Hoppes, of Route 753, two miles south of Good Hope, is one of the Fayette County farmers who find that by using dryers they can start their corn picking much ahead of the usual time.

At the present time Herbert has one large crib filled with new corn. In fact he started early last week, 10 days to two weeks ahead of the time that he ordinarily would if he had not had a dryer.

By using the dryer the corn is soon in condition to shell, and can be removed from the crib, shelled and room made for additional corn.

Indications are that demand for dryers will increase, inasmuch as it affords farmers an opportunity to get the jump on their corn picking, and permits wheat sowing one to two weeks earlier than would otherwise be possible.

Farmers who have the dryers figure they are a good investment, I am told.

KATYDIDS STILL SING

Regardless of the recent frost, the katydids are still scraping away on their membranous fiddles, although the notes of some of them are growing quite harsh after six weeks of "singing" "Katydid." I heard them Sunday night as we halted at the Bon-Day Fruit Farm on top of Brays Hill, east of Frankfort, for a short visit with Arthur R. Davis and his wife, formerly from Fayette County, who own the fruit farm.

IT REALLY WAS "TRADE"

I still hear the old expression which originated during the pioneer days in this part of Ohio, "I must go to town and do my trading" or "I am going up town to do my trading."

In the early days in Fayette County most of the business was done by trading farm produce (of whatever kind it was, from wild turkeys, venison and other game killed, on down to potatoes), for a few staple articles carried by the general stores.

In yesteryears nearly every place of business accepted butter, poultry, eggs, fruits and other produce, allowing enough so the produce could be turned at a profit, and selling to the producer such articles as spices, salt, coffee, tea, etc., also at a profit.

Practically all of the farm produce is now sold for cash at stations operated for that purpose, so the dealer does not have to accept farm produce, unless he desires, and is relieved of the necessity of hauling it to a central market for shipment.

In years gone by, butter was one of the staple farm products sold, and now practically all farmers sell their cream and buy creamery butter. Yes, indeed, times have changed.

NEW GAS MAIN

The Dayton Power and Light Co. is laying a new six inch gas main from Paint to East streets, in the alley between Fayette and North Sts.

This line takes the place of an old three - inch line, and will give more equal distribution of gas in the down town area. The line is approximately 1900 feet in length.

DEER FENCES

It was the custom during the pioneer days in Fayette County to build high, spiked pole fences about gardens to prevent deer from leaping the fences and devouring the garden produce. Raising corn, wheat and barley also was a problem until deer were thinned out and the countless gray squirrels slaughtered in regular organized hunts.

AN OLD DUTCH UNCLE

While I was visiting Perry B. Carr at his home just west of Jonesboro Tuesday, we were discussing old-time farming, and I told him that one of the happiest moments of my life was when I started using a Dutch Uncle riding cultivator while I was in my teens and residing on the William J. Selsor farm in Paint Township.

"Would you like to see an old Dutch Uncle cultivator?" Perry asked.

"I sure would", I replied, and he led the way to the rear barnlot, and there, with other old machinery stood a Dutch Uncle cultivator, complete except for the wooden tongue which had vanished by reason of exposure to the weather.

Perry said he had purchased the cultivator from Charles F. Bonham, implement and buggy dealer, who was located on W. Court St. in a wooden structure where the Kroger Store now stands.

"I bought it in 1904 and used it until 1938" Perry said.

I was surprised to know that he had all parts of the Dutch Uncle cultivator, even to the wrench and wooden pins for the shanks.

OLD CAST IRON GAS PIPE

While workmen were busy digging on East St. at the first alley intersection east of Fayette St., Tuesday, they uncovered a three-inch cast iron gas pipe, part of considerable pipe line laid when artificial gas was being piped about the uptown area some 65 years ago. It is still in top condition.

The Washington Gas and Electric Co. was formed in 1888 by Jerome Penn, (father of Ralph Penn), and associates, and the plant for producing artificial gas from coal for private and street lighting was built and utilized for many years. I will tell you more about that later.

Lausche Shorted At Kenton Fair

KENTON (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche was shortchanged at the Hardin County Fair.

When the governor's car stopped at the gate to the fairgrounds, Lausche stuck out a $20 bill to pay the five 50-cent admissions for his party.

The gate attendant, flustered by his recognition of the governor, handed Lausche change for $5 and hustled on to the next car in line.

Lausche, muttering his exasperation, tried in vain to get the ticket seller's attention again.

An onlooker joked that "you'll have to overlook that, governor. He's a Republican."

Old Clothes for Sale? Sell 'Em in Leningrad

EDITOR'S NOTE: The writer, a student of Russian affairs reports on life in Leningrad.

By FREDRIK HETTER

LENINGRAD, USSR — A black market on the old clothes of foreign visitors is in full swing here and Communist officials are looking the other way.

I discovered this when a Danish student friend rushed into my hotel room and asked, "You speak Russian, come help us. We've got some guy who wants to buy our clothes. He'll give me 450 rubles for this old suit." That means over $110.

Five years ago, that old Danish suit would have cost $30. This could be a money-maker for me, too. It would pay for the costs of the trip, because I had some old clothes, but I shied away from the deals. My Dahish friend and another Dane persisted. Two hours later, they came back with over 500 rubles each for two more suits. That night they celebrated at the Park of Rest and Culture, an expensive night spot, with the very best Soviet champagne.

American and Swedish visitors touring Leningrad.

OTHER STUDENTS caught onto the old clothes trade. Swedes, Danes and Americans disposed of shirts, neckties, cheap wrist watches (the Danes had a supply of them), and even cigaret lighters, far above the purchase price of 1950 or 1951.

An American label, especially one from New York, brought the top price in Leningrad.

A beaming young Swedish lawyer from Gothenburg showed me a sales list he had kept: "One necktie, poor condition, $6.; one necktie, fair condition, $6.50; one pair nylon stockings (only one run), $5.00; one raincoat, very poor condition, $11.00 (American exchange rates).

ALTHOUGH THESE transactions are in direct violation of existing Soviet law, no one interfered, least of all our guides, the Intourist (official Soviet travel agency) representatives.

People stopped us in the streets with "Got anything you want to sell?" spoken in broken English or German.

The young black marketeers were well-dressed in the Russian style, talked in English and Russian slang. They prided themselves on American styles and books and frequently do not follow the official line. They showed no signs of fearing police, and expressed no interest in politics, national or international.

Dean & Barry House Paint

makes your home look like a million

new super processed linseed oil gives the best paint jobs ever

Dean & Barry house paint with Poly-Lin keeps homes looking better, longer, keeps dollars in your pocket, too. Poly-Lin is the super processed linseed oil that gives Dean & Barry house paint a tighter, tougher, locked-together film. It flows on easier, levels better, covers more uniformly to defend against weather and wear.

That's why Dean & Barry white looks whiter, colors look brighter. That's why a Dean & Barry house paint job stands out in any neighborhood, stands-up much better to give you economy at its practical best.

Practical, too, is the fact that Dean & Barry house paint with super processed Poly-Lin sells for less than many brands using ordinary linseed oil. Now available in a wider range of bright dress-up colors, plus D&B's whiter white. Come see—come soon. Or ask your painter-decorator to quote on a "looks like a million" house paint job. He will know what you mean.

Dean & Barry House Paint

THIS — Dean & Barry Poly-Lin
NOT THIS — Regular Linseed Oil

Here you can see for yourself the loose and open structure of regular linseed oil, as compared to the tighter, tougher, locked-together strength of super-processed Poly-Lin. Here you see why Dean & Barry house paint makes your home "look like a million."

THIS — Dean & Barry Poly-lin
Brush marks
NOT THIS — Regular Linseed Oil

You'll like the free-flowing and easy-going action of Dean & Barry house paint with super-processed Poly-Lin. It's self-leveling, goes on uniformly smoother to give a better paint job.

Poly-Lin is the Dean & Barry trade name for 100% pure polymeric linseed oil

new super processed linseed oil gives the best paint jobs ever

Dean & Barry house paint with Poly-Lin keeps homes looking better longer, keeps dollars in your pocket, too. Poly-Lin is the super processed linseed oil that gives Dean & Barry house paint a tighter, tougher, locked-together film. It flows on easier, levels better, covers more uniformly to defend against weather and wear.

That's why Dean & Barry white looks whiter, colors look brighter. That's why a Dean & Barry house paint job stands out in any neighborhood, stands-up much better to give you economy at its practical best.

Practical, too, is the fact that Dean & Barry house paint with super processed Poly-Lin sells for less than many brands using ordinary linseed oil. Now available in a wider range of bright dress-up colors, plus D&B's whiter white. Come see—come soon. Or ask your painter-decorator to quote on a "looks like a million" house paint job. He will know what you mean.

New Kind of Movie Star Pops Up from Down Under

By MEL HEIMER
(Central Press Association)

NEW YORK — A new kind of movie star has popped up, completely confusing show business people who are talking endlessly about their Art or dreaming of one day playing Juliet.

"What I want," says Victoria Shaw, "is money—and lots of it. And you can quote me."

The green - eyed Miss Shaw, possibly the most candid — and by her own admission, one of the most tactless — newcomers in the cinema industry, already is in mild hot water over some remarks attributed to her about her native Australia. She says sadly she was misquoted, but the damage is done.

Now she undoubtedly is inviting scorching comment from all the leading ladies and ingenues who shiver breathlessly at the thought of a great role.

"DON'T ASK ME what famous part I want to play," she declared, shrugging her shoulders. "I just don't know enough about acting. I understand Columbia is thinking of casting me in either "Andersonville" or "The Last Hurrah".

Victoria Shaw
"—and lots of it."

"Either one sounds fine. I understand they're both popular, best - selling books and probably will arouse a lot of interest—and make a lot of money at the box office. I'm very mercenary, you know."

Miss Shaw, nee Jeanette Elphick of New South Wales, is a beautiful, sharp - minded — and tongued — girl of 21 who resembles Jeannie Crain. She is in this country because a year ago Bob Hope had her on his TV show in Australia (she was a model known as "The Face" down under) and told her, "If you ever go to Hollywood, call my agent and tell him I recommend you."

SHE DID just that, shortly after—and almost immediately was cast in "The Eddie Duchin Story" with Tyrone Power. This necessitated two weeks' shooting in New York—and the blunt Miss Shaw doesn't gurgle girlishly about Manhattan, either.

"I hate it," she says flatly. "It's so cold — and so terribly lonely if you're by yourself. I like it better now, but I don't think I could live here. It's just too crowded. Southern California, I like. I could be happy there."

Lest one get the idea that Miss Shaw is like Thurber's Jackie (Pal) Smurch in "The Greatest Man in the World"—the story of a man who flew non - stop around the world and then said roughly, "All right, let's cash in—where's the moolah?"—let it be noted that she is charming, fun - loving, mischievous and genial.

"It's just that I like money," she said. "I'm going to marry Roger Smith, an Australian actor who's also here in America, and I want lots of children. Wouldn't it be great to have a great deal of money to start out with? Of course it would."

MISS SHAW is 5 feet 6, weighs 120 and, in her direct way, can't understand why some Americans spoil a good steak by putting catsup on it. She considers American men extremely well - mannered, and drinks something called "moose juice" — half coke and half milk — which may explain many things.

The reason she has softened toward New York is understandable. "The first time here," she said, "I had to struggle financially and eat hamburgers. Now"—she waved at the plush Ambassador suite around her—"I'm traveling first class, with all bills paid, and any time I want anything I just pick up the phone. At the studio's expense. Isn't it wonderful?"

Doctor Too Busy To Accept Honor

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Henry W. Godfrey, 79, of Newton, was chosen as "Massachusetts General practitioner of the Year." But he was too busy with his medical chores to accept the honor in person. Dr. Godfrey explained: "It is my responsibility to see that some 17,000 children, mostly in public schools, get ample protection against polio. I'm right in the middle of the ground phase and I just can't take the time off."

Lugosi Estate Said only $2900

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Once wealthy actor Bela Lugosi, who died Aug. 16 at 74, left an estate worth $2,900.

His will, filed in Superior Court for probate, left everything to a son, Bela Jr., 18. Under California community property law, the son must share the property with Lugosi's widow, Mrs. Hope Liniger Lugosi, to whom he was married Aug. 24, 1955. The will was dated Jan. 12, 1954.

Turkey, Ham Pork Getting Feature Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Turkey, ham and several varieties of pork will be featured this weekend in the nation's supermarkets and grocery stores.

In addition, chickens still are surprisingly popular for this time of year, and steaks are featured at lower prices in some scattered sections. Generally, however, the housewife looking for beef will have to settle for hamburger or chuck roast.

Butter was reported one to four cents higher in various sections, while egg prices ranged from down three cents to up two cents.

Turkeys are likely to be "specials" for some time. The 1956 crop is expected to hit 76 million head, which is 16 per cent more than in 1955.

As a partial counterbalance, however, cranberry sauce — a "must" with turkey — is likely to cost more money. Frost nipped the crop, which will be about 7 per cent smaller than last year.

The pork varieties to be featured this weekend include chops, butts, loin, shoulder and sausage. The future outlook, however, is for smaller supplies than last year and prices somewhat higher than the unusually low 1955 figures. Hog markets in the fall are from the spring crop, and the department of agriculture points out this crop was down 8 per cent from the previous year.

Cabbage and potatoes still top the "best buy" list at vegetable counters, as they have in recent weeks.

The mangosteen, an East Indian fruit tree, grows from 25 to 30 feet high, has dark green foliage and looks somewhat like a rubber tree.

Cincinnati Zoo Plotting To Catch Runaway Swan

CINCINNATI (AP) — Officials of the Cincinnati Zoo found their missing black swan but they couldn't catch it.

The swan, one of two at the zoo, disappeared last Friday.

It finally was spotted Wednesday on one of five small lakes in Spring Grove Cemetery. But when the zoo's animal keeper, approached, it flew away.

Zoo officials now plan to use "bait" in an effort to trap the swan. Bait will be corn, bits of bread—and the other black swan. They're hoping, of course, the swans are the opposite sex and that the wanderer will be enticed to rejoin its partner.

The difficulty is that the sex of the swans isn't known.

Mower Wheels On Stolen Car

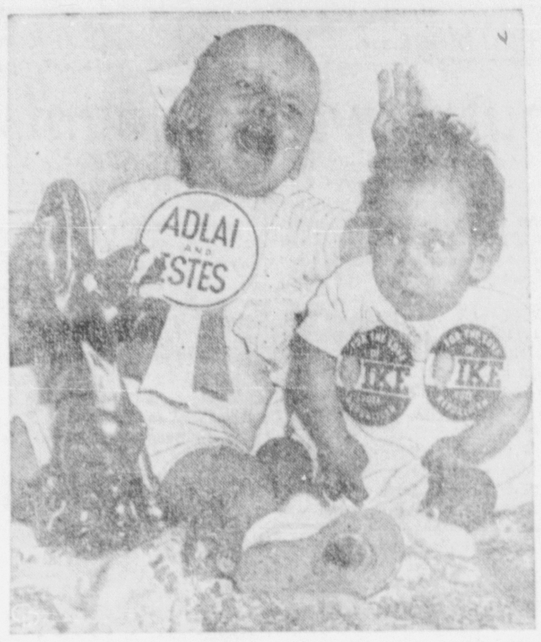
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Robert Svob reported his car stolen and gave police this description: Lawn mower wheels on back, tubular pipe frame, powered by a gasoline motor from a washing machine. Svob, 13, said he built the car at a cost of $25.

51 Traffic Tickets Prove To Be Costly

CINCINNATI (AP)—John C. Austin, 23, was fined $1,439 for 51 traffic violations Wednesday by Judge Clarence Denning.

He also lost his driver's license for a year.

Judge Denning said Austin's "contempt of the law is fantastic."



POLITICAL B(r)AWL—Joe Smith (left), Democrat, and Joe Smith (right), Republican, each three months old, engage in a noisy political debate at the Pittsburgh Home for Babies. No decision was reached, except that the Republican Joe refused to take off his Ike buttons, because they were holding his pants up.

State Lakes Panel To Hold Meeting

COLUMBUS (AP) — Sen. Theodore M. Gray (R-Miami) has called a meeting of a legislative study group for 8 p. m. Friday at Bay View Lodge near St. Marys.

Gray's group is making a study of laws and regulations governing the licensing of boat docks and the leasing of state canal reservoir lands to private persons.

The Legislative Service Commission will report on the study to the next Legislature.

Hen Lays 342 Eggs In 50-Week Span

STORRS, Conn. (AP)—A crossbred hen from the North Brookfield, Mass., farm of J. J. Warren, producing an egg almost every day for 50 weeks, is the winner of the annual Storrs Egg Laying Test.

Francis A. Ryan, associate professor of poultry husbandry at the University of Connecticut, said in announcing the winner that by laying 342 eggs Warren's hen compiled 370.4 points. Scores are based on production and size.

Lee's Poultry Farm of Brookville, Ohio, entered the best pen of White Rocks. Its score was 3,167 eggs for 3,331.75 points.

You Didn't Register as a Voter? Don't Fret--It's Not Required Here

The deadline for registering to vote in the Nov. 8 election was Wednesday, but that doesn't mean a thing to Fayette County voters.

It was explained by the Board of Elections here that, under the law, voters in municipalities under 16,000 population at the last census do not have to register, unless registration is ordered by the board of elections of the county in which they are located—and the board has not ordered registration here.

Registration is not required in counties either, unless the board orders it—and it has not been ordered for Fayette County.

A board spokesman pointed out that in a city the size of Washington C. H. and a county the size of Fayette, virtually all voters are known personally to at least one of the four judges and two clerks in each of the 45 voting places. This is the reason the board has felt that registration here is not necessary.

HAROLD McLEAN, clerk of the board, said he and Mrs. Ruth Witherspoon, deputy, has been kept busy the last few days answering the telephone to tell people they do not have to register to vote either in Washington C. H. or Fayette County. Mrs. Witherspoon estimated an average of 50 calls a day has been coming in for the last week. The answer has been: "No, you don't have to register".

To be eligible to vote here, you must have been a resident of Ohio for at least one year, of the county and precinct for at least 40 days and be at least 21 years old.

If you move from the county for temporary purposes only, and expect to return, you may retain your voting privileges in the county. But, if you move from one precinct to another within the county, no temporary move is recognized and you must vote in the precinct in which you live at election time, regardless of whether you own property in, or expect to return to, the precinct from which you moved.

THIS EXAMPLE was given: If you have moved from your farm, established a home in Washington C. H., or moved to another precinct within the county, more than 40 days before the election, you must vote in the precinct in which you live at the time of the election.

However, if you move within the 40-day period immediately prior to the election, (between now and election day) you will vote in the precinct from which you moved.

You may apply for an absentee ballot if you will be unavoidably absent from the county and more than 10 miles from your precinct on election day.

You may apply for a disabled voter's ballot if you are unable to travel to the voting booth because of physical infirmity or illness.

No assistance may be given the voter of an absentee ballot, but a close relative or two judges may help the physically handicapped mark one. Assistance may be given for no other causes, it was emphasized.

Republicans Meet, Plan Fall Activities

The newly organized Republican Club met Wednesday evening in the Hotel Washington banquet room with 40 members present.

After Miss Garnet Huston, president, called the meeting to order, Mrs. Fred Johnson offered prayer, and Miss Huston introduced Miss Mildred Smith, Republican committeewoman, who announced plans for an all-day Republican conference in Columbus on Oct. 8.

The club president named Mrs. Dwight Bell, Mrs. Charles Lutz, Mrs. Ellsworth Vannorsdall and herself as delegates to the meeting and Mrs. Fred Johnston, Miss Florence Purcell, Mrs. Robert Fichthorn and Miss Edna Thompson as alternates.

MISS HUSTON also named the following committees: Membership, Mrs. Bell, chairman, and Mrs. Lutz, co-chairman; Publicity, Mrs. Charles Hurtt and Miss Mary Wright.

A membership drive is now under way with a goal of 215 by Oct. 2.

Preliminary plans were announced for a Republican dinner Oct. 15. The speaker and the place will be disclosed later. The group also decided to meet quarterly after the November election.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Kefauver Rips 'Big Business' Administration

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today the Democrats are pledged "to save the small farmer and the small businessman." He said the existence of both is threatened by the Eisenhower administration.

This was the message the Democratic vice-presidential candidate took with him as he set off for a 250-mile motorcade through 10 towns in southern Illinois.

Kefauver contended in his prepared speech for a rally in the courthouse square in Belleville that "the Eisenhower-Nixon administration has been indifferent to both the small farmer and the small businessman."

"The Republican party, the Eisenhower - Nixon administration," he said, "has taken its stand behind the forces of monopolies and the giant corporations."

"And if left alone to continue," he added, "they will ultimately achieve the destruction of small business and the small farm as independent economic entities in American life."

Kefauver also had this to say:

"Today we may not be in a major depression, but the handwriting has begun to appear on the wall, and once again the security of these two groups is threatened.

"The largest merger movement in our history, soaring monopoly profits while wages lag and the clost of living rises, declining farm income while stockholder income rises, increased small business failures—these are symptoms we cannot ignore."

Kefauver said the Democrats are pledged to fight against "the encroachment of monopolies, to restore true competitive conditions," and "to halt the growth of economic concentration."

Union, Swift Trying Again For Accord

CHICAGO (AP)—Negotiations between Swift & Co. and the firm's 25,000 strikers continued today in the wake of new contract agreements between unions and four other big packing houses.

Swift is the only firm in the industry whose workers have walked out. They left their jobs at 38 Swift plants a week ago, demanding "substantial" wage increases and a union shop.

Meetings between union and company officials, sponsored by federal mediators were held Wednesday and more were scheduled today.

The two major unions in the meat packing industry and three firms Wednesday announced they had reached agreements covering a total of 37,000 workers.

Union leaders said settlements with Cudahy Packing Co., John Morrell & Co., and Hygrade Food Products followed the same basic patterns as that in the agreement Tuesday with Armour & Co. The Armour contract covered 35,000 workers in 37 plants.

The increase will bring the wage range from about $1.79 for common labor to $2.79 for skilled workers.

The Armour agreement provided wage increase Oct. 1 ranging from 10 to 22½ cents an hour in most plants, varying with job classifications. High classifications in some plants bring the raises to as high as 25 cents.

Workers received across the board wage increases of 7½ cents effective Sept. 1, 1957 and another 7 cents on Sept. 1, 1958.

Heavy Vote Seen Coming In November

COLUMBUS (AP) — Secretary of State Ted W. Brown says it looks like a "banner year" for voter registration after the deadline passed Wednesday night.

However, officials were generally cautious in predicting the registration until all figures are in.

State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman of Marysville said an approach to a record registration "would be favorable to our cause." Ray Bliss, state Republican chairman, said he has "no comment until I see the final compilation."

Montgomery County (Dayton) had passed its 1952 record even before the deadline came. More than 212,000 persons had registered by Wednesday while the 1952 mark was 205,000 registrations.

Hamilton County (Cincinnati) registration, with some precincts still unreporting, totaled 399,058 compared to the 1952 total of 392,844. Its neighbor, Butler County, has 76,492 registered, just off the 76,740 figure in the last presidential election year.

Normally Democratic Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) fell 18,815 short of the 788,547 four years ago.

Lucas County (Toledo) was almost in sight of its 209,979 record set in 1952. It had a total of 202,973 Wednesday. Franklin County (Columbus), with 279,799 registered, was slightly ahead of the 1952 total of 278,727.

The election board was jammed at Springfield where the Clark County total stood at 53,975, only 2,889 below 1952.

Ohio Dems Predict Victory; Bender Warns Republicans

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio Democrats were predicting victory for themselves today while U. S. Sen. George H. Bender urged Republicans to get out the vote so that President Eisenhower will carry the state by a landslide.

Bender, seeking reelection to the Senate against Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, told a Williamsburg audience Wednesday night not to underestimate "the opponents."

"They are workers," he declared. "They are planners. They are phrase makers. For years they have built up the Republican party as a Goliath and they have cast themselves in the role of David. To hear them tell it, we are the big bad fellows and they are the good little boys. It's high time for us to smash this myth."

Meanwhile, Lausche was to meet with aides today to plan his campaign itinerary. So far, his only political address was one he made at the Democratic State Convention. A spokesman for the governor said Lausche has made no firm commitments yet.

Bender made six speeches Wednesday in western counties finishing up the tour at Williamsburg. He predicted President Eisenhower would carry Ohio by 750,000 votes "if we just get out the vote."

"President Eisenhower and the Republican party offer America a team performance," he said. "We must not fail him as he has not failed us. It would be easy—and tragic—to repeat the mistakes we made eight years ago."

In the gubernatorial race, Democrat Michael V. DiSalle listed reasons at New Lexington why he said "there will be a switch to the Democrats this year."

His list included low farm prices, high cost of living, too many small business failures, low small business earnings, high cost of government, high national debt with high interest on it.

DiSalle said 21 counties in Ohio have fewer job opportunities than they had seven years ago and that 18 counties had a smaller population in 1950 than in 1940.

"We must take those counties and find the answer to their problems," he said. "In many cases, industrial expansion is possible if they can get the water supply."

DiSalle's opponent, Republican Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, made a brief television appearance in Dayton Wednesday night and planned a full day of campaigning in Columbus today.

Sophomore Y-Teens Elect New Officers

The Washington High School Sophomore Y-Teen club elected officers at its first meeting of the year in the Little Theatre of the high school Wednesday.

The president, Jowanda Wilson, was elected last spring. Other officers elected at this meeting were Maureen Smith, vice president; Peg Bacon treasurer; Cookie Lentz, secretary and Pat Hagan, news reporter.

Judy Cahall reported at the meeting on the Otterbein Y-Teen camp she attended this summer.

Four girls were appointed to work in the refreshment stands at Friday's game with St. Charles.

The opening devotions were led by Rosalyn Marting.

Burglary Suspect Released on Bond

DAYTON (AP)—Albert G. Fouts, 65, Ohio Penitentiary parolee now accused of burglary of the Citizens Bank in Ansonia, has been released after posting bond of $15,000.

Fouts was paroled from the penitentiary last Thursday after serving 10 years for a 1946 Dayton holdup. He was indicted by a U. S. grand jury for the Ansonia burglary.

Also indicted for the Ansonia crime, which took place in 1946, are George (Bugs) Moran, once a notorious Chicago gangster, and Virgil (Doc) Summers. Both are in Ohio Penitentiary serving time for a Dayton holdup, but will be paroled Nov. 8.

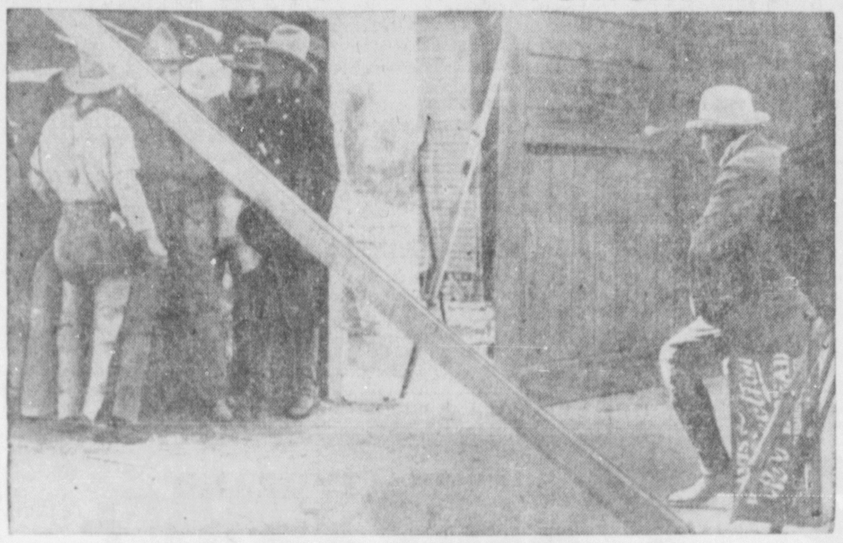
He's 75, but 'Mr. Motion Pictures' Isn't Interested in Retirement Now



Back in 1913, Cecil B. DeMille, seated on a box, starts work on first feature length movie made in America, "The Squaw Man." It cost only $15,450 to make — then a large sum.

By WALTER LOWE
(Central Press Association)

HOLLYWOOD — Some brash interviewer recently asked Cecil B. DeMille when he planned to retire.

The veteran producer - director —he's just turned 75—shot him a withering look.

"Never," he said flatly. "I cannot live unless I create."

Creating movie entertainment on a grand scale, the kind that draws broadly on the whole range of human experience and reaches its pinnacle in the Bible, has been a life time occupation with DeMille. There is no one to begrudge him his uncontested title of "Mr. Motion Pictures."

In the past 43 years, from that day in 1913 when he gave up a promising acting career to start chasing the rainbow at the still-dim horizon of the "flickers," C. B. has made no fewer than 70 pictures, including the gigantic, yet-to-be-released "The Ten Commandments."

Some eager - beaver statistician has figured out that the 69 released DeMille movies cost $40 million to make and grossed around $650 million at the world's boxoffices where some four billion persons paid to see them.

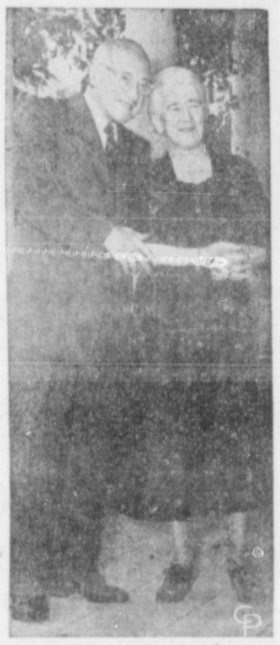
HIS FIRST FILM, The Squaw Man, which, incidentally, served to put Hollywood on the map, cost all of $15,450 and it earned $255,000. When he made "The Ten Commandments" for the first time, back in 1923, the budget went to a hair - raising $1,300,000.

"They couldn't take it any more. This had never happened before, so they got mad and fired me," DeMille recollects with a smile. "But then," he adds, "they needed someone to finish it. So they hired me back." It so happens the film was a fabulous success.

However, its cost is dwarfed by the new "Ten Commandments", which is the most expensive movie ever made in Hollywood — $13 million. However, studio executives already are predicting confidently a $100 million gross. And with DeMille's name on the picture, such optimism is not misplaced.

DeMille at 75 could put many a 50-year-old to shame. He puts in a full working day and in the evening still finds it possible to scan the day's "rushes." His eye is sharp and his mind clear. An almost ruthless taskmaster during production, when he rules his large crew with an iron fist, he dissolves into a grandfatherly charm in the off - hours. And, often, he will set the pace.



Off the set, De Mille spends a quiet interlude with his wife.

WHEN "Ten Commandments" was on location, DeMille led the difficult trek up Mt. Sinai, leaving his exhausted crew behind. Another time, he took a chariot around a course for a fast spin. "Just to make sure it's safe," he grinned as he dismounted.

While DeMille has searched far and wide for movie topics—his bathtub scenes became a DeMille hallmark for a period in the Twenties—his best work still has been done in making the Bible a living thing for millions the world over.

"The King of Kings", "Sign of the Cross", "The Crusades," "Samson and Delilah", and, of course, "The Ten Commandments" all lavish spectacles, taught Hollywood the lesson that people are thirsting for a spiritual message. Almost all these pictures returned huge sums to their maker, even though DeMille occasionally has been criticized for an undue accent on sex in his Biblical films.

DeMille, however, is a showman with a finely - developed sense for what the public wants. And he is a sincere student of the Bible, too. In his parents' home, a chapter from the Bible was read every evening. "To me a mighty warrior like Joshua was as much of a hero as today's generation might consider Flash Gordon or Daniel Boone" he says.

THE DeMILLE movie career started with "The Squaw Man", which he made in association with Jesse L. Lasky and Samuel Goldwyn. They offered the star, Dustin Farnum, a $5,000 share in the movie. He preferred a $250-a-week salary. A couple of years later he could have sold his share for a fortune.

Around DeMille the movies grew, and he grew with them. He became the prototype of the film director, affecting riding breeches, puttees and a visor cap. He had an eye for talent. Among those he groomed for screen fame were Gloria Swanson, Wallace Reid, Thomas Meighan, Richard Dix, Jack Holt and Agnes Ayres. Hedy Lamarr and Gary Cooper gained stature in roles he assigned to them. However, the most durable name of them all was his own.

The DeMilles are grandparents many times over. Someone once asked his 9-year-old granddaughter, Diana, what her grandfather did. "Oh," replied Diana wide-eyed, "he tells me wonderful stories."

To C. B. that's the nicest compliment he could ask for.

No Early End Seen To Tight Money

AKRON (AP) — An Akron banker told Ohio realtors he sees no early end to the government's tight money policy, but said that he doesn't think it will succeed in curbing inflation.

Paul E. Belcher, vice president of the First National Bank of Akron, predicted home building next year will keep pace with 1956, despite the difficulty in obtaining mortgages.

The bank economist, addressing the Ohio Assn. of Real Estate Boards, predicted no major war in 1957, greater spending for defense and highways, and a short labor market for the next four years.

Hospital Chief Gives Testimony

WOOSTER (AP)—Dr. John Porterfield, state hospital and prison chief, has testified he verbally authorized construction of a residence for the business manager of Apple Creek State Hospital.

But he said he did not authorize "use of materials which were not on hand at the hospital."

Porterfield appeared at a state civil service hearing on whether Col. P. E. Mosier should be reinstated as Apple Creek business manager.

Mosier was fired Aug. 7 after a state auditor's examiner turned up alleged irregularities in financing of Mosier's hospital residence.

New Idle Pay Claims Decline

COLUMBUS (AP) — Total of new claimants for unemployment compensation for the week ended Sept. 22 totaled 6,030 compared to 6,752 the previous week, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports.

Continuing claims of persons unemployed one week ended Sept. 22 compared to 38,695 the previous week.

"ITS SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Marilyn Monroe is coming to the Fayette Theater here Sunday as the star in the motion picture, "Bus Stop" based on the broadway comedy. It is in CinemaScope and Technicolor.

Civic Leadership Said College Goal

COLUMBUS (AP)—The most basic of all missions of Ohio State University is not only preparation of students for worthy citizenship, but 'inspiring of them to civic leadership in later adult life," President Novice G. Fawcett says.

OSU's new president spoke to an orientation week audience of some 5,000 freshmen assembled in Ohio Stadium.

Girls OK Ban On Crinolines

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — The girls at Ward High School have agreed not to wear crinolines under their skirts.

School authorities asked them not to. They said the bouffancy caused congestion in the corridors. You couldn't get from one class to the next in the allotted three minutes.

Helicopter Saves Plane in Storm

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C. (AP)—A helicopter plucked a damaged light airplane from the storm-tossed sands of Shackleford Banks Tuesday and carried it to the safety of nearby Ft. Macon.

The Air Force helicopter from Ft. Bragg was buffeted by rains and winds of close to 50 miles per hour as it picked up the light National Guard Plane.

The plane, based at Norfolk, Va., crash landed on the outer banks island Sunday morning.

It weighs about 2,300 pounds.

Kennedy Family Thankful to Dixie

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Robert Kennedy, brother of Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass), says his family sings "Dixie" at meals as well as saying grace.

Kennedy mentioned Southern support given to his brother at the recent Democratic National Convention, where the senator was beaten for the vice presidential nomination by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn).

He said "my family is so grateful to the South for supporting John that we sing 'Dixie' after we say grace before eating."

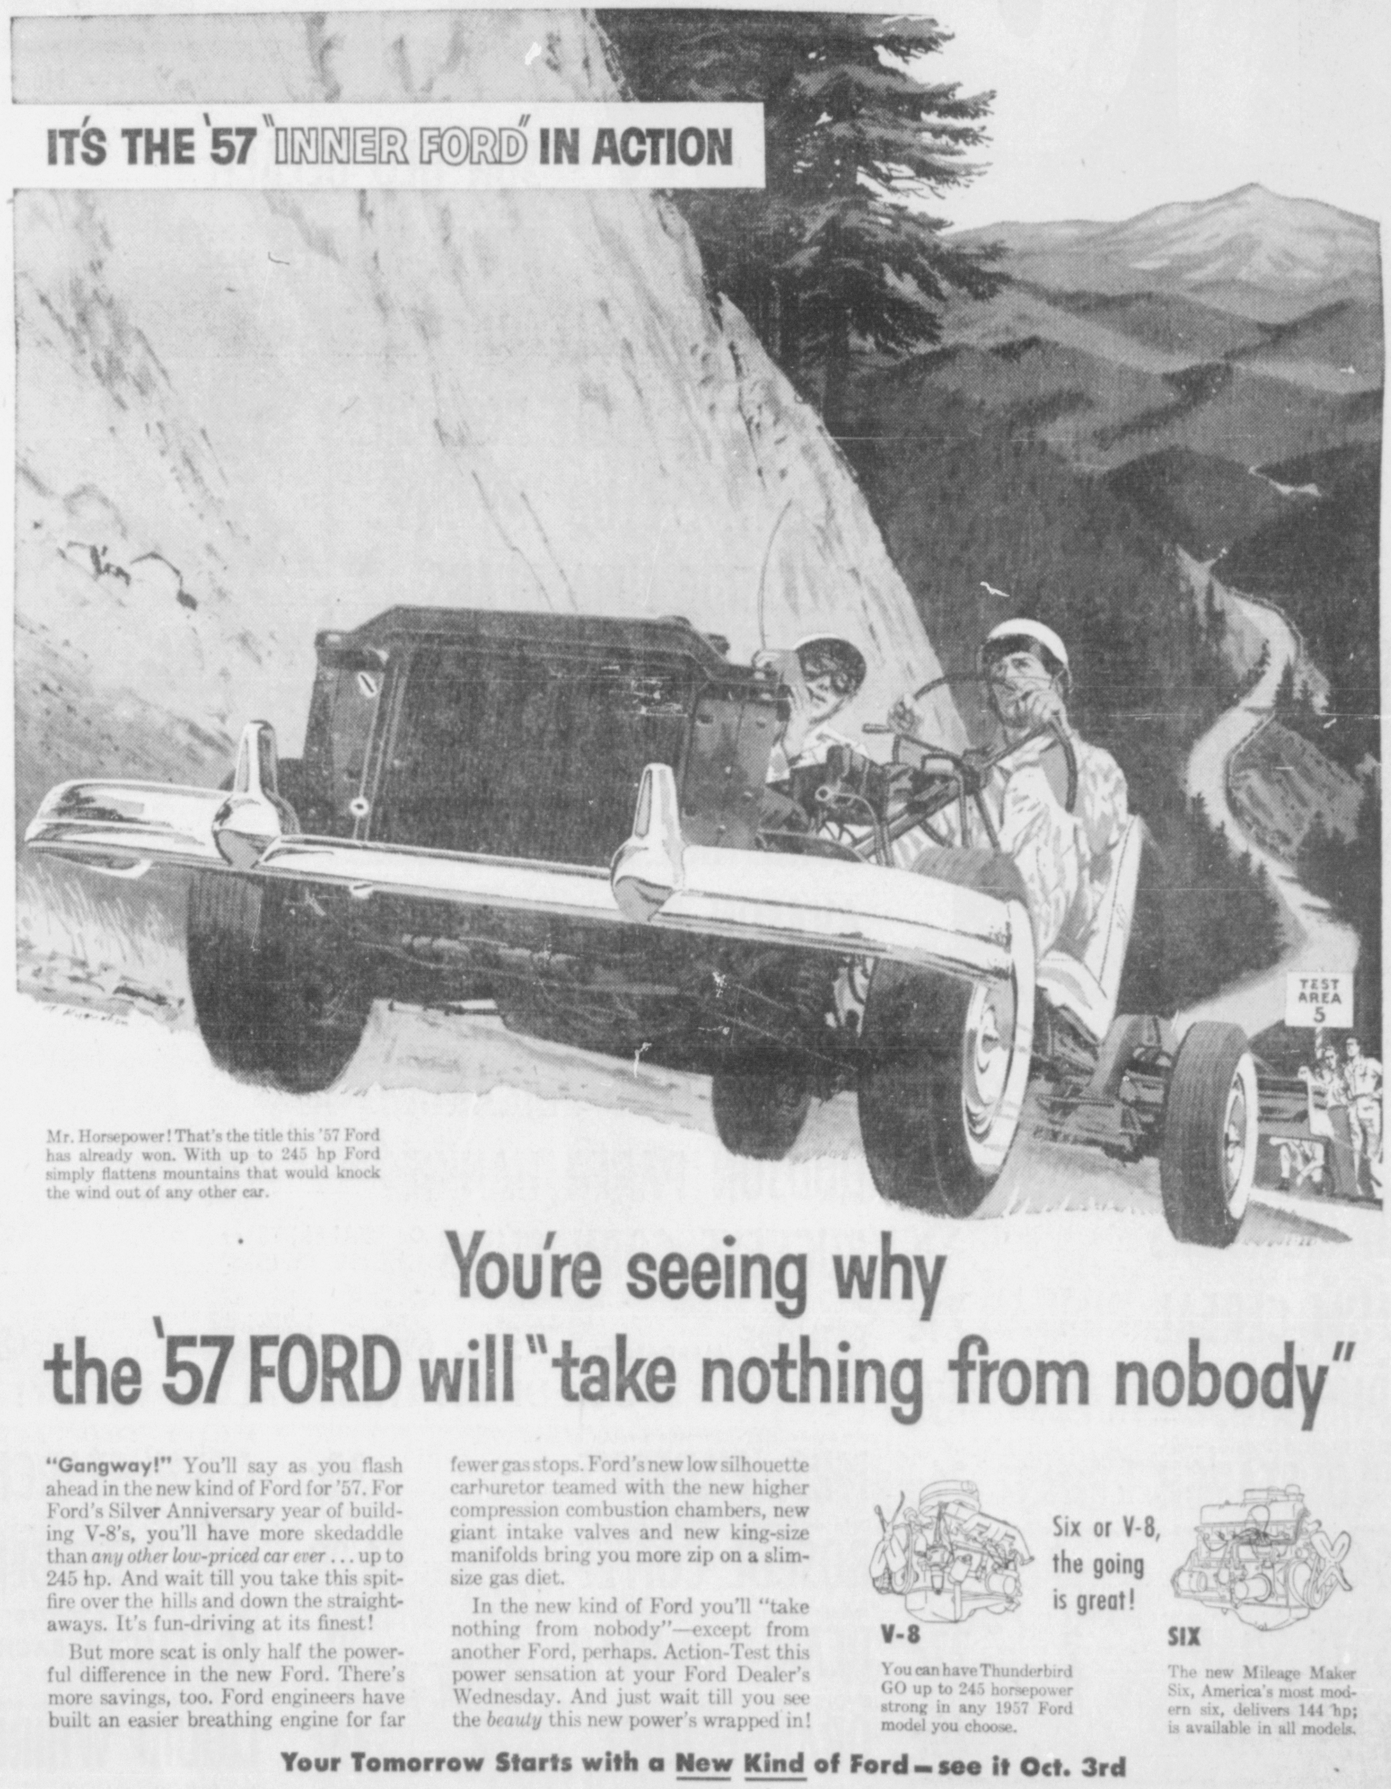
IT'S THE '57 "INNER FORD" IN ACTION



Mr. Horsepower! That's the title this '57 Ford has already won. With up to 245 hp Ford simply flattens mountains that would knock the wind out of any other car.

You're seeing why the '57 FORD will "take nothing from nobody"

"Gangway!" You'll say as you flash ahead in the new kind of Ford for '57. For Ford's Silver Anniversary year of building V-8's, you'll have more skedaddle than any other low-priced car ever ... up to 245 hp. And wait till you take this spitfire over the hills and down the straightaways. It's fun-driving at its finest!

But more seat is only half the powerful difference in the new Ford. There's more savings, too. Ford engineers have built an easier breathing engine for far fewer gas stops. Ford's new low silhouette carburetor teamed with the new higher compression combustion chambers, new giant intake valves and new king-size manifolds bring you more zip on a slim-size gas diet.

In the new kind of Ford you'll "take nothing from nobody"—except from another Ford, perhaps. Action-Test this power sensation at your Ford Dealer's Wednesday. And just wait till you see the beauty this new power's wrapped in!

Six or V-8, the going is great!

V-8
You can have Thunderbird GO up to 245 horsepower strong in any 1957 Ford model you choose.

SIX
The new Mileage Maker Six, America's most modern six, delivers 144 hp; is available in all models.

THE DeMILLE movie career started with "The Squaw Man", which he made in association with Jesse L. Lasky and Samuel Goldwyn. They offered the star, Dustin Farnum, a $5,000 share in the movie. He preferred a $250-a-week salary. A couple of years later he could have sold his share for a fortune.

Around DeMille the movies grew, and he grew with them. He became the prototype of the film director, affecting riding breeches, puttees and a visor cap. He had an eye for talent. Among those he groomed for screen fame were Gloria Swanson, Wallace Reid, Thomas Meighan, Richard Dix, Jack Holt and Agnes Ayres. Hedy Lamarr and Gary Cooper gained stature in roles he assigned to them. However, the most durable name of them all was his own.

The DeMilles are grandparents many times over. Someone once asked his 9-year-old granddaughter, Diana, what her grandfather did. "Oh," replied Diana wide-eyed, "he tells me wonderful stories."

To C. B. that's the nicest compliment he could ask for.

No Early End Seen To Tight Money

AKRON (AP) — An Akron banker told Ohio realtors he sees no early end to the government's tight money policy, but said that he doesn't think it will succeed in curbing inflation.

Paul E. Belcher, vice president of the First National Bank of Akron, predicted home building next year will keep pace with 1956, despite the difficulty in obtaining mortgages.

The bank economist, addressing the Ohio Assn. of Real Estate Boards, predicted no major war in 1957, greater spending for defense and highways, and a short labor market for the next four years.

Hospital Chief Gives Testimony

WOOSTER (AP)—Dr. John Porterfield, state hospital and prison chief, has testified he verbally authorized construction of a residence for the business manager of Apple Creek State Hospital.

But he said he did not authorize "use of materials which were not on hand at the hospital."

Porterfield appeared at a state civil service hearing on whether Col. P. E. Mosier should be reinstated as Apple Creek business manager.

New Idle Pay Claims Decline

COLUMBUS (AP) — Total of new claimants for unemployment compensation for the week ended Sept. 22 totaled 6,030 compared to 6,752 the previous week, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports.

Continuing claims of persons unemployed one week ended Sept. 22 compared to 38,695 the previous week.

Civic Leadership Said College Goal

COLUMBUS (AP)—The most basic of all missions of Ohio State University is not only preparation of students for worthy citizenship, but 'inspiring of them to civic leadership in later adult life," President Novice G. Fawcett says.

OSU's new president spoke to an orientation week audience of some 5,000 freshmen assembled in Ohio Stadium.

Girls OK Ban On Crinolines

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — The girls at Ward High School have agreed not to wear crinolines under their skirts.

School authorities asked them not to. They said the bouffancy caused congestion in the corridors. You couldn't get from one class to the next in the allotted three minutes.

Helicopter Saves Plane in Storm

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C. (AP)—A helicopter plucked a damaged light airplane from the storm-tossed sands of Shackleford Banks Tuesday and carried it to the safety of nearby Ft. Macon.

The Air Force helicopter from Ft. Bragg was buffeted by rains and winds of close to 50 miles per hour as it picked up the light National Guard Plane.

The plane, based at Norfolk, Va., crash landed on the outer banks island Sunday morning.

It weighs about 2,300 pounds.

Kennedy Family Thankful to Dixie

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Robert Kennedy, brother of Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass), says his family sings "Dixie" at meals as well as saying grace.

Kennedy mentioned Southern support given to his brother at the recent Democratic National Convention, where the senator was beaten for the vice presidential nomination by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn).

He said "my family is so grateful to the South for supporting John that we sing 'Dixie' after we say grace before eating."

IT'S THE '57 "INNER FORD" IN ACTION

Mr. Horsepower! That's the title this '57 Ford has already won. With up to 245 hp Ford simply flattens mountains that would knock the wind out of any other car.

You're seeing why the '57 FORD will "take nothing from nobody"

"Gangway!" You'll say as you flash ahead in the new kind of Ford for '57. For Ford's Silver Anniversary year of building V-8's, you'll have more skedaddle than any other low-priced car ever . . . up to 245 hp. And wait till you take this spitfire over the hills and down the straightaways. It's fun-driving at its finest!

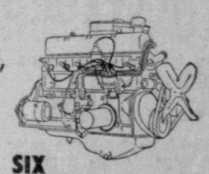
But more scat is only half the powerful difference in the new Ford. There's more savings, too. Ford engineers have built an easier breathing engine for far fewer gas stops. Ford's new low silhouette carburetor teamed with the new higher compression combustion chambers, new giant intake valves and new king-size manifolds bring you more zip on a slim-size gas diet.

In the new kind of Ford you'll "take nothing from nobody"—except from another Ford, perhaps. Action-Test this power sensation at your Ford Dealer's Wednesday. And just wait till you see the beauty this new power's wrapped in!

V-8

You can have Thunderbird GO up to 245 horsepower strong in any 1957 Ford model you choose.

Six or V-8, the going is great!



SIX

The new Mileage Maker Six, America's most modern six, delivers 144 hp; is available in all models.

Your Tomorrow Starts with a New Kind of Ford—see it Oct. 3rd

Bonus, Senate Issues on Ohio Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bonuses for Korean War veterans and four-year terms for state senators.

Ohio voters will decide those two proposals in the Nov. 6 election. They will be on ballots in the form of amendments to the Ohio Constitution. A majority vote is required for approval of each.

The bonus resolution as approved by the Legislature calls for a 90-million-dollar bond issue. It would pay bonuses up to $400 to legal residents of Ohio who served in the Korean conflict between June 25, 1950, and July 19, 1953.

Payments would be at the rate of $10 for each month of domestic service and $15 for each month of foreign service to the maximum amount. The surviving spouse, parents or children would be eligible for bonus payments due deceased veterans.

The Legislative Service Commission, fact-finding arm of the Legislature, estimated that some 280,000 Ohio veterans would be eligible for bonuses.

Ohio, with more than a million living war veterans, was ranked fourth among the states in that respect.

The state floated a 25-million-dollar bond issue to pay bonuses to World War I veterans and a 300-million-dollar issue for War II bonuses to 775,950 recipients.

The latest report by State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy showed that World War II bonus bonds totaling slightly more than 100 million dollars still remained to be paid off. World War I bonds were retired long ago.

Two years ago voters turned down a proposal to give both state senators and representatives four-year terms. Both now serve two-year terms.

The proposal to give senators four-year terms stemmed from claims that they should serve longer because most of them are elected in districts composed of several counties, a fact which makes campaigning more difficult and more expensive.

Should voters approve, half of the 34 senators elected in 1958 would serve four-year terms and the other half two-year terms. In 1960, senators in those districts still having two-year terms would be elected for four years, making all senatorial terms uniform.

Basic Line of New Fall Dress Is To Achieve Slender Effect

"Ease without bulk" defines the newest trend in fashion, as a pleasing variety of silhouettes and styles make a graceful fall entrance. The basic line of new-season dresses, costumes, suits and coat may be slim or full, but either way, the effect created is slender— and dramatic.

One reason for this is that fall '56 fashion features back interest in exciting ways — in floating panels, deep pleats from a normal or empire waistline, big and dashing bows, curving belts to gather in fullness, and blousing above the waist.

These back details give ease and grace to dresses that may appear, from the front, as slender, almost narrow, empire sheaths. Conversely, back or side-to-back pleats and belts take away bulk and hold the slim line as they control the fullness newly evident in coats.

Another focal point is at the top of the silhouette, where draped necklines, bows or other treatments add softness to simple, elegant fashions.

Since this season's fashions so often combine simplicity with intricate back or top details, fabrics assume special importance. They are interesting in texture and appearance, enhancing the most deceptively simple designs, yetthey also have fluidity, for graceful draping, tying or pleating.

SILKS, alone or blended with wool or cotton; lightweight woolens, alone or blended with fur or silk; and distinctively textured jerseys are among the news-makers. Texture contrasts are liked— for example, satin trimming on wool, and leather or fur trims for just about every type of fabric.

There's drama, too, in the fall color scheme. Sophisticated blacks, electric blues, resplendent reds, muted greens and daring combinations of black with brown look particularly new. The whole range of browns, from beige to taupe, attracts fashion attention.

Along with the new approach to the slender look, several trends are significant for fall. Empire effects, for instance, have almost completely taken over the center of the stage.

COSTUMES, again important, divide their favor between several jacket lengths. Newest is a jacket that is waist-length in front, curving downward in the back — more back interest and more than a hint of cutaway styling.

Brief caraco jackets with eased sheath dresses carry out the top-interest motif. In other costumes, topper-length jackets are effective.

Style trends for necklines, sleeve lengths, shoulder lines and hemlines show several new developments. There's an away-from-the-neck movement in necklines, with the standaway collar especially popular. Even tiny collars usually dip slightly awwy from the back of the neck.

Below - elbow or bracelet lengths are liked for sleeves, with dropped shoulder lines and raglan-dolman effects appearing frequently.

Hemlines high in front and low in back are noted in late-day dresses, as are harem skirts with blousing at the hem.

Cleveland Schools Short on Space

CLEVELAND (AP)—A shortage of classroom space and of teachers has put more than 2,300 of Cleveland's public school elementary pupils on half days. And there are 1,500 kindergarten youngsters who can't get in at all.

The board of education today cited these figures to back its appeal to voters to approve an additional 1.3 mills tax levy for school operation and renew the old 7.1 mill levy. The board also asks a new eight-tenths of a mill levy to provide $2,200,000 a year for construction in 1958 and 1959. The levies will be up for vote Nov. 6.

Americans first tried to reach the North pole back in 1733 when a group of men from Philadelphia set out on an expedition that failed to reach its goal.

Maumee Conservancy Area Operating Within Income

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Directors of the Maumee Watershed Conservancy District, embracing 15 counties, have reported that the district is operating within its income from invested funds.

The report has been filed with the 15-judge conservancy court, one judge representing each county in the valley.

Directors also reported that engineering plans for the district are being held in abeyance awaiting completion of drainage studies by the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

Judges were told that the district is in a period of enforced awaiting until the engineer corps determines on which Maumee River tributaries the federal government will help pay costs of flood reduction and improving major drainage outlets.

The report said improvements on various streams should not be proposed until the corps of engineers determines how much of the cost is federal responsibility.

The conservancy district became effective in 1950 and started engineering work in 1951. Agreements were made in 1952 with the corps of engineers and Indiana and Michigan for development of a coordinated water conservation plan for the entire Maumee basin, a tri-state area of 6,500 square miles.

Litigation and court injunction tied up the district's funds during most of 1953 and 1954. During 1955 the program was reactivated, and the district presented to the court an interim engineering report. This showed 10 tributaries of the Maumee are deficient at major drainage outlets.

These streams are the Tiffin, St. Joseph, St. Marys, Little Auglaize, Blanchard, Ottawa and Upper Auglaize rivers, and Flat Rock Gordon and Grassy creeks. On these channels the district is awaiting completion of studies by the corps of engineers.

The district formerly raised preliminary funds by an assessment against all real property in the 15-county district. But now the district has no further taxing power. It must complete the engineering and study phase of its work, as well as the hearings and appraisals of benefits, with funds now on hand, amounting to $262,025.

Purposes assigned to the district by the court include flood control, drainage, water supply and pollution abatement. The directors are required to present an official plan to accomplish these purposes.

Next session of the court will be at the call of the presiding judge, Russell V. Maxwell of Williams County.

Greater Output In Steel Expected

CLEVELAND (AP)—J. L. Mauthe, president of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. predicts greater production in the steel industry, but warned against over-optimism.

Mauthe told the Assn. of Iron and Steel Engineers that the new three-year labor contract, plant expansions and growing diversification of products will work for greater stability in the industry.

But he warned that steel is still at the mercy of the business cycle, although he said he hoped violent cycles are a thing of the past.

Sentence Awaiting Draft Dodger, 26

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jack Lamont Hall, 26, of Damascus has pleaded guilty in federal court to failure to report for duty with the armed services in 1953.

Sentence was deferred pending a report from the federal probation office here.

Hall, classified as a conscientious objector as a member of Jehovah's Witnesses, failed to report for duty at Trumbull County Memorial Hospital in Warren as ordered under the Selective Service Training Act of 1948. He was assigned non-combatant work as an alternative to military duty.

Maumee Conservancy Area Operating Within Income

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Directors of the Maumee Watershed Conservancy District, embracing 15 counties, have reported that the district is operating within its income from invested funds.

The report has been filed with the 15-judge conservancy court, one judge representing each county in the valley.

Directors also reported that engineering plans for the district are being held in abeyance awaiting completion of drainage studies by the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

Judges were told that the district is in a period of enforced awaiting until the engineer corps determines on which Maumee River tributaries the federal government will help pay costs of flood reduction and improving major drainage outlets.

The report said improvements on various streams should not be proposed until the corps of engineers determines how much of the cost is federal responsibility.

The conservancy district became effective in 1950 and started engineering work in 1951. Agreements were made in 1952 with the corps of engineers and Indiana and Michigan for development of a coordinated water conservation plan for the entire Maumee basin, a tri-state area of 6,500 square miles.

Litigation and court injunction tied up the district's funds during most of 1953 and 1954. During 1955 the program was reactivated, and the district presented to the court an interim engineering report. This showed 10 tributaries of the Maumee are deficient at major drainage outlets.

These streams are the Tiffin, St. Joseph, St. Marys, Little Auglaize, Blanchard, Ottawa and Upper Auglaize rivers, and Flat Rock Gordon and Grassy creeks. On these channels the district is awaiting completion of studies by the corps of engineers.

The district formerly raised preliminary funds by an assessment against all real property in the 15-county district. But now the district has no further taxing power. It must complete the engineering and study phase of its work, as well as the hearings and appraisals of benefits, with funds now on hand, amounting to $262,025.

Purposes assigned to the district by the court include flood control, drainage, water supply and pollution abatement. The directors are required to present an official plan to accomplish these purposes.

Next session of the court will be at the call of the presiding judge, Russell V. Maxwell of Williams County.

Greater Output In Steel Expected

CLEVELAND (AP)—J. L. Mauthe, president of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. predicts greater production in the steel industry, but warned against over-optimism.

Mauthe told the Assn. of Iron and Steel Engineers that the new three-year labor contract, plant expansions and growing diversification of products will work for greater stability in the industry.

But he warned that steel is still at the mercy of the business cycle, although he said he hoped violent cycles are a thing of the past.

Mauthe said buyers can help smooth cycles by gearing purchases more closely to actual needs.

Sentence Awaiting Draft Dodger, 26

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jack Lamont Hall, 26, of Damascus has pleaded guilty in federal court to failure to report for duty with the armed services in 1953.

Sentence was deferred pending a report from the federal probation office here.

Hall, classified as a conscientious objector as a member of Jehovah's Witnesses, failed to report for duty at Trumbull County Memorial Hospital in Warren as ordered under the Selective Service Training Act of 1948. He was assigned non-combatant work as an alternative to military duty.

East Liverpool Plant Is Sold

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ferro Corp. has purchased Patterson Machine & Foundry Co. of East Liverpool for around $2 million and the Patterson works will become a subsidiary of Ferro Oct. 1.

Executives of the two companies announced that Ferro will exchange an as yet undetermined amount of common stock for Patterson properties.

Gonna Rain Today?

HUTCHINSON, Minn (AP) — The jokester who asks the Hutchinson resident "do you think it's going to rain? better get ready to duck. Over one eight-day period this summer the skies dumped almost 11 inches of rain. One farmer reported carp swimming in his cornfield.

Guesspert Trying Again To Select Football Winners

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Eenie, meenie, miney, mo; there's no harm in saying so; last week's upsets left us low; eenie, meenie, miney, mo.

There's not much hope that the upsets will be fewer in this second list of college football picks than they were last week when such stalwarts as Notre Dame and Maryland were spilled. Last week's record: 24 correct, 9 wrong average .727.

Oklahoma over North Carolina: Coach Bud Wilkinson says the left side of the Oklahoma line is weak. But he is three deep there. This will be No. 32 in the Sooner victory skein.

Michigan over UCLA: Michigan still has Ronnie Kramer, UCLA no longer has Ronnie Knox.

Georgia Tech over Southern Methodist: Last year Georgia Tech took this annual affair by 20-7. Should be about the same this time.

Colgate over Cornell: Colgate isn't set at end and tackle and that may be fatal against Cornell's known speed. But the home field advantage should prevail.

Illinois over California: California has learned that penalties, off or on the field, can hurt a football team.

Michigan State over Stanford: In belief that the opening whistle will cure Walt Kowalczyk's throbbing ankle.

Army over VMI: Both are military colleges but Army gets the salute here.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

EAST: Navy over William & Mary, Dartmouth over New Hampshire, Penn State over Pennsylvania, Yale over Connecticut, Boston University over Massachusetts, Holy Cross over Dayton (Sunday), Columbia over Brown, Princeton over Rutgers, Pittsburgh over Syracuse.

SOUTH: Tennessee over Auburn Florida over Clemson, George Washington over Furman, Georgia over Florida State, Mississippi over Kentucky, Texas A&M over Louisiana State, Tulane over Texas, Vanderbilt over Chattanooga, Virginia Tech over North Carolina State, Duke over Virginia, Maryland over Wake Forest, West Virginia over Richmond, Miami over South Carolina.

MIDWEST: Tulsa over Cincinnati, Colorado over Kansas State, Iowa over Indiana, College of Pacific over Kansas, Northwestern over Iowa State, Ohio State over Nebraska, Purdue over Missouri, Wichita over Hardin Simmons, Wisconsin over Marquette, Detroit over Villanova (Sunday).

SOUTHWEST: Arkansas over Oklahoma A&M, Houston over Mississippi State, Baylor over Texas Tech.

FAR WEST: Arizona over South Dakota State, Colorado A&M over Brigham Young, Utah State over New Mexico, Oregon over Idaho, Utah over Montana, Washington State over San Jose State, Minnesota over Washington, Wyoming over Denver, Southern California over Oregon State.

Dartmouth halfback Lou Rovero gained 20 yards in five carries as a sophomore but in 1955 he led the Big Green in ground gaining with 421 yards on 91 attempts.

Jackson Set For Crack at Heavy Title

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson's second straight victory over Bob Baker moved the New Yorker into line for a crack at the heavyweight title. The assurance comes from president Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club.

"Hurricane certainly deserves consideration," said Norris, after Jackson, 25, roared to his 28th victory in 34 fights here Wednesday night in a gruelling 12-round televised bout with Bob Baker.

"He (Jackson) made a creditable showing," said Norris, "and I think he rates a shot at either Archie Moore or Floyd Patterson, but the Patterson - Moore fight comes first."

Both Moore and Patterson have agreed to a title fight but it is still unsigned.

Jackson, the No. 3 heavyweight, whipped Baker for the second time in seven months. Many ring observers felt it was a larger margin than the split decision of the officials. Jackson also won the Feb. 3 bout at New York City on a split decision.

Baker, dabbing a cut over his left eye in the dressing room, said he thought he'd won. "I knew I had him stunned a couple of times but it's tough to follow up with a man like Hurricane," said Baker.

Women Golfers Share Top Honors

Mrs. Willard McLean and Mrs. Mike Harrison shared the golfing honors on Wednesday's Ladies' Day at the Country Club, Mrs. McLean with the low actual score of 47 and Mrs. Harrison with the low net (handicap deducted) of 38.

Mrs. Carl Mason, however, gave Mrs. Harrison keen competition with a net of 39.

On the greens, the low counts were by Mrs. James Martin with 15 putts and Mrs. Roger Littleton and Mrs. Elmer Reed with 16 each.

The blind bogey awards went to Mrs. Jesse Carter and Mrs. Hugh Zimmerman.

Mrs. Neil Helfrich carded the most 7s.

NET SCORES were Mrs. George Katz 41, Mrs. Reed 44, Mrs. Ed Vollette 48, Mrs. Ralph Bray 51, Mrs. Marvin Roszmann 45, Mrs. Byers Shaw 40, Mrs. Charles Buxton 43, Mrs. William Wead 41, Mrs. Helfrich 43 and Mrs. Scott Harner 63.

Although the weather is beginning to have the chill of autumn, golf for the women is planned for next Wednesday morning.

A new plan has been worked out for the women's golf program for next year. Since many of them come here from the Sabina community for their sport, Mrs. Wead and Mrs. Carter have been named co-chairmen for that group, and Mrs. Buxton and Mrs. Shaw have been named co-chairmen for those in the Washington C. H. area. They are to work together to plan the program and carry it out.

County Line Splits House in Illinois

MILLINGTON, Ill. (AP) — When the James Kepka family sits down to dinner, half of them are in Kendall County and other half in LaSalle.

The county line runs through their dining room. The Kepkas pay their real estate taxes to LaSalle County and their personal taxes go to Kendall County.

Guesspert Trying Again To Select Football Winners

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Eenie, meenie, miney, mo; there's no harm in saying so; last week's upsets left us low; eenie, meenie, miney, mo.

There's not much hope that the upsets will be fewer in this second list of college football picks than they were last week when such stalwarts as Notre Dame and Maryland were spilled. Last week's record: 24 correct, 9 wrong average .727.

Oklahoma over North Carolina: Coach Bud Wilkinson says the left side of the Oklahoma line is weak. But he is three deep there. This will be No. 32 in the Sooner victory skein.

Michigan over UCLA: Michigan still has Ronnie Kramer, UCLA no longer has Ronnie Knox.

Georgia Tech over Southern Methodist: Last year Georgia Tech took this annual affair by 20-7. Should be about the same this time.

Colgate over Cornell: Colgate isn't set at end and tackle and that may be fatal against Cornell's known speed. But the home field advantage should prevail.

Illinois over California: California has learned that penalties, off or on the field, can hurt a football team.

Michigan State over Stanford: In belief that the opening whistle will cure Walt Kowalczyk's throbbing ankle.

Army over VMI: Both are military colleges but Army gets the salute here.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

EAST: Navy over William & Mary, Dartmouth over New Hampshire, Penn State over Pennsylvania, Yale over Connecticut, Boston University over Massachusetts, Holy Cross over Dayton (Sunday), Columbia over Brown, Princeton over Rutgers, Pittsburgh over Syracuse.

SOUTH: Tennessee over Auburn Florida over Clemson, George Washington over Furman, Georgia over Florida State, Mississippi over Kentucky, Texas A&M over Louisiana State, Tulane over Texas, Vanderbilt over Chattanooga, Virginia Tech over North Carolina State, Duke over Virginia, Maryland over Wake Forest, West Virginia over Richmond, Miami over South Carolina.

MIDWEST: Tulsa over Cincinnati, Colorado over Kansas State, Iowa over Indiana, College of Pacific over Kansas, Northwestern over Iowa State, Ohio State over Nebraska, Purdue over Missouri, Wichita over Hardin Simmons, Wisconsin over Marquette, Detroit over Villanova (Sunday).

SOUTHWEST: Arkansas over Oklahoma A&M, Houston over Mississippi State, Baylor over Texas Tech.

FAR WEST: Arizona over South Dakota State, Colorado A&M over Brigham Young, Utah State over New Mexico, Oregon over Idaho, Utah over Montana, Washington State over San Jose State, Minnesota over Washington, Wyoming over Denver, Southern California over Oregon State.

Dartmouth halfback Lou Rovero gained 20 yards in five carries as a sophomore but in 1955 he led the Big Green in ground gaining with 421 yards on 91 attempts.

SPORTS

Jackson Set For Crack at Heavy Title

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson's second straight victory over Bob Baker moved the New Yorker into line for a crack at the heavyweight title. The assurance comes from president Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club.

"Hurricane certainly deserves consideration," said Norris, after Jackson, 25, roared to his 28th victory in 34 fights here Wednesday night in a gruelling 12-round televised bout with Bob Baker.

"He (Jackson) made a creditable showing," said Norris, "and I think he rates a shot at either Archie Moore or Floyd Patterson, but the Patterson - Moore fight comes first."

Both Moore and Patterson have agreed to a title fight but it is still unsigned.

Jackson, the No. 3 heavyweight, whipped Baker for the second time in seven months. Many ring observers felt it was a larger margin than the split decision of the officials. Jackson also won the Feb. 3 bout at New York City on a split decision.

Baker, dabbing a cut over his left eye in the dressing room, said he thought he'd won. "I knew I had him stunned a couple of times but it's tough to follow up with a man like Hurricane," said Baker.

Women Golfers Share Top Honors

Mrs. Willard McLean and Mrs. Mike Harrison shared the golfing honors on Wednesday's Ladies' Day at the Country Club, Mrs. McLean with the low actual score of 47 and Mrs. Harrison with the low net (handicap deducted) of 38.

Mrs. Carl Mason, however, gave Mrs. Harrison keen competition with a net of 39.

On the greens, the low counts were by Mrs. James Martin with 15 putts and Mrs. Roger Littleton and Mrs. Elmer Reed with 16 each.

The blind bogey awards went to Mrs. Jesse Carter and Mrs. Hugh Zimmerman.

Mrs. Neil Helfrich carded the most 7s.

NET SCORES were Mrs. George Katz 41, Mrs. Reed 44, Mrs. Ed Vollette 48, Mrs. Ralph Bray 51, Mrs. Marvin Roszmann 45, Mrs. Byers Shaw 40, Mrs. Charles Buxton 43, Mrs. William Wead 41, Mrs. Helfrich 43 and Mrs. Scott Harner 63.

Although the weather is beginning to have the chill of autumn, golf for the women is planned for next Wednesday morning.

A new plan has been worked out for the women's golf program for next year. Since many of them come here from the Sabina community for their sport, Mrs. Wead and Mrs. Carter have been named co-chairmen for that group, and Mrs. Buxton and Mrs. Shaw have been named co-chairmen for those in the Washington C. H. area. They are to work together to plan the program and carry it out.

County Line Splits House in Illinois

MILLINGTON, Ill. (AP) — When the James Kepka family sits down to dinner, half of them are in Kendall County and other half in LaSalle.

The county line runs through their dining room. The Kepkas pay their real estate taxes to LaSalle County and their personal taxes go to Kendall County.

Braves Say They'll Win NL Pennant

Brooklyn Confident Of Bunting, but Count On Forcing Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Can the Braves do it?

With a one-game lead and three to play, can they sweep their windup series opening Friday night at St. Louis and win their first National League pennant since 1948?

Manager Walter Alston, whose Brooklyn Dodgers were barred from a tie for the lead by Philadelphia and Robin Roberts 7-3 Wednesday says Milwaukee won't do it.

"We'll win three from Pittsburgh, the Braves will lose one to the Cardinals—and the season will start all over again Monday with the playoff opener in Ebbets Field."

"No dice," says Milwaukee boss Fred Haney. "We're going to win it by Sunday. We won't settle for a playoff."

A three-game sweep is a "must" if Milwaukee wants a neat no-fuss title. Then no matter what Brooklyn does the Braves have it.

The Dodgers, however, can't win it alone any more. They need help from the Cards. One Milwaukee loss could mean a tie. Two could give the world champs a repeat pennant.

Cincinnati? The Redlegs' best hope is a major league home run record (they need two more). They no longer can win the flag without a playoff—and they must sweep their remaining two games, starting Saturday at Chicago, and for hope for a Cardinal sweep and two Brooklyn losses for even a tie.

Chicago's last-place Cubs won 3-2 from the Cardinals, who had 15 hits, in 13 innings in the only other NL game scheduled Wednesday. Solly Drake's single did it. Old pro Murry Dickson, beaten dispite a five-hitter, not only lost his 11th but also was eliminated as a starter against the Braves.

In the American, southpaw Whitey Ford, scheduled to open the World Series for the champion New York Yankees, muffed his chance for a 20th victory with a wild pitch as Baltimore won 1-0 on a four-hit major league debut by right-hander Charlie Beamon.

Detroit, behind Paul Foytack's three-hitter, defeated Chicago 4-1; Boston smacked Washington 8-4, and Cleveland downed the Kansas City Athletics 8-4 to clinch at least a tie for second place.

A dropped fly ball by left fielder Sandy Amoros in a three-run second inning and Roberts' five-hit pitching beat the Brooklyns and 26-game winner Don Newcombe. The Phils rapped 10 hits—including a Del Ennis home run, Roy Smalley's two-run double and Willie Jones' two-run single. Newk, with only two days rest, left in the fifth trailing 4-2 for his seventh loss.

Roberts walked one, struck out 10 (his high for the season) and had trouble only with Duke Snider—who hit his 40th and 41st home runs and also added a double—in winning his 19th.

Pueblos Pressing Indians to Vote

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—The All Pueblo Council is preparing for distributing among New Mexico's 50,000 Indians a voting guide to spur Indiana registration and voting in November. The pamphlet contains both the Democratic and Republican platform statements on Indian affairs, tells how to register and gives tips on voting.

Chimney Taken From Wrong House

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Dr. Henry O. Erbland noticed something missing from the roof of his home. The chimney was gone. His wife said a man had been walking on the roof all day and making a lot of noise. Under questioning by Dr. Erbland, the roof-walker—a mason—discovered he was supposed to be working across the street.

City Dads Forego Trip So Kids Can Swim Cheap

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Flint's nine city commissioners gave up a trip to the Michigan Municipal League meeting so children won't have to pay an extra 5 cents to swim in the city pools.

The commission turned over $1,350 set aside for the league trip when advised that a deficit in park funds would make it necessary to boost swimming pool fees from 5 to 10 cents.

Fishing-Boot Brigade Conquers Forest Fire

SHERIDAN, Wyo. (AP) — A fishing-boot brigade has been credited with controlling a lightning-caused forest fire in the Big Horn mountains near here.

When Forest Service fire guards arrived at the scene of a fire they found it was nearly out. Dick Bard of Story, Wyo., and a group of fishermen he was guiding were dipping water from Snow Lake in their fishing boots and dousing the blaze.

DODGER SCORES, BUT IT WASN'T NEARLY ENOUGH—Brooklyn leftfielder Sandy Amoros is safe at home as he knocks the ball from Phillies' catcher, Stan Lopata, in the second inning at windswept Ebbets field. Robin Roberts dented the Dodgers' pennant hopes with his 7-3 victory that dropped them a full game behind Milwaukee with only three left to play.

Lions Work Hard, Long With Tough Game Ahead

The sun set on the Washington Lions football practice Wednesday evening as the gridders worked long and hard in preparation for Friday's game with a highly touted St. Charles eleven.

The practice wasn't rough, but the boys were being drilled relentlessly on the defensive assignments they will take up against the Columbus team.

"We hate to do this sort of thing," said Head Coach Fred Domenico, "but the practice wasn't rough, and the boys had to learn their material." He thinks they have, after Wednesday's session.

"We've got to play sound football," said the coach, "and we can't unless we know what we're doing whenever the opposition makes a move."

ONE REASON for the extended work is that St. Charles uses a great many offensive formations and each one has its own special threat. In most cases, the big St. Charles fullback, Lou Martin, is the threat, but it seems the Columbus boys have a great many ways of serving up their speedy backs to the opposing eleven.

Here's the way the two lines stack up, position for position: Ends— WCH Ward, 155, and Brown, 173; SC Morris, 202, and Schaefer, 203; Tackles — WCH Clark, 190, and Lucas, 198; SC DaLuca, 209, and Vechazone, 190; Guards, — WCH Wilson, 154, and Anders, 176; SC Tom Jander, 170, and Packy Sheeran, 170, (offense) and (defense) Donley, 218, and Davis, 222; Centers, — WCH Welch, 163; SC Sopko, 209;

It looks pretty grim, especially when it is noted that the St. Charles boys are fast as well as big. Sopko, the big center and co-captain, reportedly runs down the field at the end of a quarter and waits for the referee to place the ball down so he can start charging again.

BUT THE Washington Lions have not given up by any means. Every ounce of their energy this week has been put into getting ready to set the St. Charles outfit on their heels.

"We're not going to lie down and play dead," said Domenico. "If St. Charles wins, they're going to win the hard way."

The usual Thursday night signal drill will wrap up practice for the week. This one will be particularly important because of the emphasis being placed on knowing what to do and when. The signal practice is an assignment-learning session.

Amoros Goof Defended by Bum Manager

BROOKLYN (AP)—"A hero one year, a goat the next."

That was manager Walter Alston's sympathetic reference to Sandy Amoros, whose muff of an easy fly ball opened the gates for three Philadelphia runs and a subsequent 7-3 victory over Brooklyn Wednesday which may cost the Dodgers the pennant.

Amoros, scared stiff by the realization of what his damaging second inning error could mean, played in a daze the rest of the way. He later bobbled a ball, misplaced another and twice threw to the wrong base which accounted for other Philadelphia runs.

The likeable Cuban's first misplay undoubtedly unnerved Don Newcombe because the big pitcher promptly hit the next batter with a pitched ball to fill the bases and followed it up by serving a well-tagged two-bagger to Roy Smalley.

"Newk was really boiling as he came into the dugout after the inning," teammate Carl Furillo related later. "He came over to Alston and growled, 'get that guy out of there and put somebody in there who can catch the ball.' "

Alston paid no heed to his irate 26-game winner. Instead, he defended Amoros and pointed out that Sandy had saved the 1955 world championship for Brooklyn with his spectacular catch of Yogi Berra's curving fly that cut off two Yankee runs in the final game of the series.

"ITS SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Odds against Reds Figured at 64-1

CINCINNATI (AP)—An Xavier University mathematics instructor figures the Cincinnati Redlegs have only one chance in 64 to tie the National League pennant.

The "mathematically out" situation could occur Friday night. It would come about if the Milwaukee Braves win their game against St. Louis. It only takes one Brave triumph or one Redleg defeat to wipe out Cincy.

Charles Pinzka, the Xavier expert, figures Cincinnati has only once chance in 64 to tie with either Milwaukee or Brooklyn and one chance in 85 to tie with both.

Herb Score Chalks His 20th Victory

CLEVELAND (AP) — Herb Score beat the Kansas City Athletics 8-4 Wednesday and became the third Cleveland Indians pitcher to win 20 games this year.

Score joined Bob Lemon and Early Wynn in the 20-victory club. The Indians have had three 20 game winners in three of the last six years. The only other team to have three 20-game winners in the last 30 years was the 1931 Philadelphia Athletics.

The 23-year-old Score fanned 12 to run his season total to 263 in 249 innings. Last year, he set a rookie record of 245 strikeouts in 247 innings.

Magic Number For Braves Now 'Three'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The magic number is three for the confident Milwaukee Braves as they await the opener of their final three-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals Friday night.

"The combination is three," said Manager Fred Haney, "three Milwaukee victories. We're not counting on Brooklyn losing. We've got to win 'em all.

"There has been no question in our minds but that we feel we can do it. And we're not ready to settle for any tie or playoff. We want to win it outright."

Haney huddled with Charley Root, his pitching coach, to study charts of pitching performances against the Cardinals before naming his pitching selections. Bob Buhl was expected to work the opener, probably followed by Warren Spahn Saturday night.

The Braves, who have displayed no great surface enthusiasm down the stretch, happily discussed Brooklyn's defeat by Robin Roberts and the Phillies which gave them a one-game edge.

"I never thought I'd be rooting for Roberts," said shortstop Johnny Logan. "And how about that Senor" (shortstop Roy Smalley of the Phils, an ex-Brave who delivered a timely hit against the Dodgers).

"We're in good shape," said Catcher Del Crandall, "but we've still got to win our games."

"It probably will go right down to Sunday," said Spahn, the Braves' 20-game winner and star of their stretch drive. "I think it's better to go into a series right off."

Ted Kroll ran his golf earnings for 1956 to $72,855 following his $50,000 victory in the Tam O'Shanter world championship in Chicago.

St. John's University of Brooklyn had two unbeaten freshmen teams in 1956. The basketball team won all 21 games while the cross-country team won all six meets.

Braves Say They'll Win NL Pennant

Brooklyn Confident Of Bunting, but Count On Forcing Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Can the Braves do it?

With a one-game lead and three to play, can they sweep their windup series opening Friday night at St. Louis and win their first National League pennant since 1948?

Manager Walter Alston, whose Brooklyn Dodgers were barred from a tie for the lead by Philadelphia and Robin Roberts 7-3 Wednesday says Milwaukee won't do it.

"We'll win three from Pittsburgh, the Braves will lose one to the Cardinals—and the season will start all over again Monday with the playoff opener in Ebbets Field."

"No dice," says Milwaukee boss Fred Haney. "We're going to win it by Sunday. We won't settle for a playoff."

A three-game sweep is a "must" if Milwaukee wants a neat no-fuss title. Then no matter what Brooklyn does the Braves have it.

The Dodgers, however, can't win it alone any more. They need help from the Cards. One Milwaukee loss could mean a tie. Two could give the world champs a repeat pennant.

Cincinnati? The Redlegs' best hope is a major league home run record (they need two more). They no longer can win the flag without a playoff—and they must sweep their remaining two games, starting Saturday at Chicago, and for hope for a Cardinal sweep and two Brooklyn losses for even a tie.

Chicago's last-place Cubs won 3-2 from the Cardinals, who had 15 hits, in 13 innings in the only other NL game scheduled Wednesday. Solly Drake's single did it. Old pro Murry Dickson, beaten dispite a five-hitter, not only lost his 11th but also was eliminated as a starter against the Braves.

In the American, southpaw Whitey Ford, scheduled to open the World Series for the champion New York Yankees, muffed his chance for a 20th victory with a wild pitch as Baltimore won 1-0 on a four-hit major league debut by right-hander Charlie Beamon.

Detroit, behind Paul Foytack's three-hitter, defeated Chicago 4-1; Boston smacked Washington 8-4, and Cleveland downed the Kansas City Athletics 8-4 to clinch at least a tie for second place.

A dropped fly ball by left fielder Sandy Amoros in a three-run second inning and Roberts' five-hit pitching beat the Brooklyns and 26-game winner Don Newcombe. The Phils rapped 10 hits—including a Del Ennis home run, Roy Smalley's two-run double and Willie Jones' two-run single. Newk, with only two days rest, left in the fifth trailing 4-2 for his seventh loss.

Roberts walked one, struck out 10 (his high for the season) and had trouble only with Duke Snider—who hit his 40th and 41st home runs and also added a double—in winning his 19th.

Pueblos Pressing Indians to Vote

Chimney Taken From Wrong House

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Dr. Henry O. Erbland noticed something missing from the roof of his home. The chimney was gone. His wife said a man had been walking on the roof all day and making a lot of noise. Under questioning by Dr. Erbland, the roof-walker—a mason—discovered he was supposed to be working across the street.

City Dads Forego Trip So Kids Can Swim Cheap

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Flint's nine city commissioners gave up a trip to the Michigan Municipal League meeting so children won't have to pay an extra 5 cents to swim in the city pools.

The commission turned over $1,350 set aside for the league trip when advised that a deficit in park funds would make it necessary to boost swimming pool fees from 5 to 10 cents.

Fishing-Boot Brigade Conquers Forest Fire

SHERIDAN, Wyo. (AP) — A fishing-boot brigade has been credited with controlling a lightning-caused forest fire in the Big Horn mountains near here.

When Forest Service fire guards arrived at the scene of a fire they found it was nearly out. Dick Bard of Story, Wyo., and a group of fishermen he was guiding were dipping water from Snow Lake in their fishing boots and dousing the blaze.

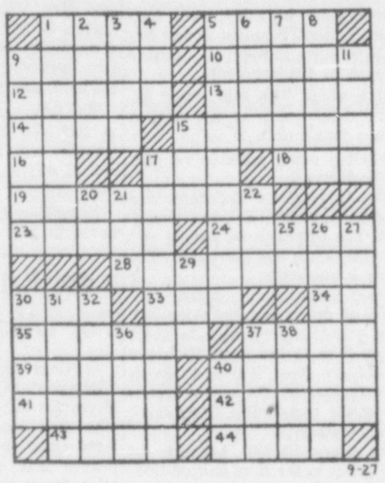
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

M G L M S V D G W Z B N L M X V V D X Y S

Ristine To Head Mental Program

COLUMBUS (AP)—Dr. Leonard P. Ristine has been appointed state mental hygiene commissioner at a salary of $22,500 a year. He has been acting commissioner since March 15.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, said Wednesday he made the appointment with the concurrence of the advisory council of the division of mental hygiene.

A native of Iowa, Dr. Ristine came to Ohio from Texas where he had been head of the Austin State Hospital for two years.

Oct. 14 Is Date Set for Willard Murals Showing

Historical Society, Commissioners Plan 'Open House' Event

At a meeting of the board of trustees of The Fayette County Historical Society, held Wednesday night at the home of Judge and Mrs. John P. Case, plans were made for a special showing of the Archibald M. Willard murals in the Fayette County Courthouse, Sunday, Oct. 14, from 1:30 p. m. until 9 p. m. The public is invited.

County commissioners are joining in sponsoring the event, and along with Historical Society officials will be on hand to extend a welcome to those viewing the murals.

After discussing plans at length, B. E. Kelley, secretary of the society, was named general chairman, and Mrs. Homer Garringer, chairman of hospitality. The president of the society, George Pensyl, was appointed chairman of the reception committee.

The new lighting system for properly illuminating the murals will be ready for the public showing, and invitations will be extended to organizations throughout Ohio, with indications that a large number of people from all parts of the state will be present as well as local residents.

BOARD MEMBERS contributed $50 at the meeting, toward defraying expenses of the "open house" to show the murals.

Other matters pertaining to the historical society were discussed. Mrs. Ed Fite, treasurer, reported a substantial sum in the treasury following a recent payment of $500 on the museum indebtedness, reducing the debt to $2,000. Plans for an early drive to wipe out the remaining debt were discussed.

Secretary Kelley gave a report on the present status of the effort to obtain the "point" where the Powell service station formerly was located, and the society hopes to acquire this property, although some time is expected to elapse before the differences between Earl Powell, the owner, and Socony Mobil Oil Co. are settled.

The secretary and President Pensyl reports on items acquired for the museum during the year to date.

Adventist Group Plans Offering for Trinidad Hospital

Members of the Washington C. H. Seventh Day Adventist Church will contribute funds Saturday to help establish a new hospital in Port-of-Spain, Trinidad.

Mrs. Della Ford, Sabbath School superintendent, in announcing the special offering, pointed out that "Trinidad is the most disease-ridden island in the Caribbean" and is known as "the white man's grave."

Mrs. Ford said that Seventh Day Adventist missionaries have met death there from malaria, typhoid and yellow fever, that government hospitals are crowded and that the clinic established there by the church cannot meet the needs, even though it has twice been enlarged.

The Port-of-Spain hospital, when completed, will be the sixth such mission hospital operated by the denomination in inter-America. The church has a total of 235 medical institutions throughout the world.

Cancer Kills Babe

her "Woman Athlete of the year" in the annual Associated Press poll. On the 1950 ballot, sports writers named her the Woman Athlete of the Half Century.

HER CAREER began as a player on the Golden Cyclones, a Dallas basketball team.

She was a thin, wiry girl of 17, weighing 105. In her first game she tossed 40 points through the hoop. She led the Cyclones to the AAU championship in 1931.

She ended her basketball career in 1932 when the Golden Cyclones lost to Oklahoma Presbyterian College in the AAU finals although The Babe scored 16 points. She was named All - America forward both years.

A few months later she won the national AAU women's track and field championship single-handed, taking five first places.

That brought her a place on the 1932 Olympics team and in the qualifying round she won 9 out of 10 firsts but was allowed to compete in only three Olympic events.

She won two of them, the javelin throw and 80-meter hurdles, with world's records.

She was shopping for a party dress when she saw a green-trimmed golf bag and a set of clubs. She bought them.

The first time out she shot a 95. Her caddy was Lloyd Mangrum, later to become a golf great himself.

Within a month she was in the low 80s. She won her first tournament with a 77 and was medalist. That was in 1934. Before long she was able to outhit her women rivals 100 to 150 yards off the tee.

She won some 90 tournaments.

She was an expert in everything she tried. She once played the out field for several innings with the Dallas professional baseball team, getting a hit and making some fine catches. She once toured the country as a billiards expert.

They wouldn't let her into the U. S. Men's Open, but she showed what she could do against the men linksters in a pro - amateur in Phoenix in 1946 when she shot a 67 to lead a field including such stars as Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Sam Snead.

Among her other feats: She hit three home runs in a women's amateur baseball game, scored 106 points in a basketball contest, could slam a golf ball more than 300 yards, once hurled a baseball 296 feet, pitched for the St. Louis Cardinals in an exhibition game against the Brooklyn Dodgers, and was an impressive left-footed kicker when she worked out with the Southern Methodist University football team.

Mrs. Zaharias was not an Amazon. She was a slim 5 feet 6, and was a graceful ballroom dancer.

'City Service' Area Expanded By Ohio Bell

Change Means Lower Charges for 368 Phone Subscribers

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co.'s proposal to enlarge the base rate area of the Washington C. H. exchange to take in several newly-built sections adjacent to the city, has been approved by the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

A "base rate area" is an area in which the density of homes enables the utility to supply service at a fixed rate because of the economy of operation in more densely populated sections.

According to Paul Dougherty, the company's commercial manager here, the expansion of the base rate area will result in a reduction in monthly charges for local service for approximately 368 Washington C. H. exchange subscribers. Total reductions for all subscribers affected will amount to $2,200. per year.

The new rate plan went into effect Sept. 21, Dougherty said, and telephone bills dated Sept. 21 and later will reflect the changes.

THE ENLARGED base rate area takes in several built-up sections on the city's outskirts. Subscribers who live outside the base rate area pay a monthly mileage charge based on the distance from the base rate boundary.

"We are studying the various areas in which we operate," Dougherty said. "The growth and development in and around Washington C. H. during the past few years has resulted in a steady demand for service in these new areas.

He also pointed out that telephone base rate areas are governed by the population and have no reference to the corporation lines of communities. Within the base rate area, urban grades of service are furnished at rates which do not vary with the distance from the central office.

Subscribers who are affected by the changes are now being notified by mail, Dougherty said.

2 Portable Radios Stolen from Store

Theft of two radios from the Yeoman Radio and Television Store, 141 S. Main St., was reported to police at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday.

One was a Zenith portable transistor set, either dark maroon or black with gold trim and the other was a CBS portable transistor set, dark blue with gold trim. Police said they were described as thinner than the ordinary set, but otherwise about the size of the average small portable radios.

The report said they are believed to have been taken by a shoplifter from a wall shelf behind the cash register some time during the day.

Police were continuing their investigation Thursday.

Major Crimes, Delinquency Both Show Increase in Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP) — Major crimes and juvenile delinquency both are on the increase in Ohio.

The Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction says the increase in juvenile delinquency is ahead of the national average.

The semi-annual report of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, compiled from local police records, shows murder, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft making a marked increase in Ohio.

Only major crime on the downgrade in the first six months of this year was robbery.

John Ferguson, chief of Ohio's juvenile correction division, said Wednesday the number of youths committed to state institutions during the first six months of this year increased 38 per cent over the same period last year. He said juvenile court cases climbed 15 per cent.

"The significant thing," said Ferguson, "is that not all of this delinquency can be charged to the increase in child population."

According to statistics, he said, counties with a population of more than 100,000 persons averaged a 79 per cent increase in delinquency from 1948 to 1955. But counties of between 50,000 and 100,000 population showed an average increase of 104 per cent.

Even more amazing, said Ferguson, is that counties under 50,000 population showed an average increase of 135 per cent.

"It is clear," he said, "that juvenile delinquency is not just a big city problem."

He cited some possible reasons for the increase:

"The insecurities of parents are sometimes passed on to youngsters. The emphasis on money and material things has increased. The future is uncertain.

"People are much more conscious of delinquent behavior and more prone to send kids to court earlier than in the past. Kids are more aggressive. They don't seem to be limited by the moral standards of the community. They seem to defy authority."

For every 100,000 persons in Ohio cities in the first half of 1956, the FBI major crime report shows, there were 2.3 murders compared with 1.4 in the same period of 1955.

On the same population basis, robberies were down from 25 to 23.2, assaults were up from 19.1 to 24.6, burglaries climbed from 148 to 162.5, larceny was up from 486.5 to 549.6 and auto theft up from 63.3 to 87.1

Staunton Cubs Get Advancement Awards

Cubs of Staunton's Pack 345 received advancement awards at a meeting Wednesday evening in Staunton School.

The Cubs stepped forward to receive credit for their work from their leader, Richard Curl.

Jerry Phillips received a Den Chief's cord for his outstanding work during the year. Curl gave gold and silver Arrowhead badges to Ray Hoppes, Johnny Bill Wilson, Mike Curl, John Grice and Jim McClure.

A Bear badge went to Jay Scott and Wolf awards went to Dennis Summers, Dennis Bowers and Billy Hall.

New member Dale Patton was greeted by the group.

A program followed with Mrs. William Bowers in charge.

Jim Fletcher reported on a recent fishing trip and Stevie Jennings told about the visit Game Protector Dave Krupla made to his Den.

Mrs. Ray Jennings showed slides of her trip through the West.

Refreshments were served by Den 1.

Heart Attack Fatal To Loren R. Chaffin

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, New Holland, for Loren Ray Chaffin, 64, of Route 2, New Holland, who died suddenly of a heart attack at 11 a. m. Wednesday.

Death came in the home of a neighbor, William Reisinger, where Mr. Chaffin had gone to summon a doctor.

Mr. Chaffin, a farmer, was born and had spent his entire life in the New Holland community. His wife, the former Edith Collier, died in 1943.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Ferne Eckle, New Holland, and Mrs. Virginia Hagerty, Washington C. H.; a son, Carroll, Jeffersonville; 10 grandchildren and two brothers, Floyd Chaffin, New Holland, and Paul, of Dayton.

The Rev. Glenn Robinson, pastor of the New Holland Methodist Church, will conduct the services. Burial will be in the village cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Last Rites Held For Miss Garnes

Services were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Gerstner Funeral Home for Miss Emma Garnes, 74, who died Sunday. The Rev. Edward Gray read the Scripture and prayer and delivered a sermon; Miss Pearl Brandon read "Does Jesus Care?", "Beyond the Sunset" and "I Cannot Drift Beyond His Care;" and Mrs. Emilie Thornton read a memoir.

Pallbearers were Stewart Quann, Robert Dixon, Roscoe Bivens, Carl Hargrave, Clarence Taylor and Joseph Stewart. Burial was in Washington Cemetery.

Oct. 14 Is Date Set for Willard Murals Showing

Historical Society, Commissioners Plan 'Open House' Event

At a meeting of the board of trustees of The Fayette County Historical Society, held Wednesday night at the home of Judge and Mrs. John P. Case, plans were made for a special showing of the Archibald M. Willard murals in the Fayette County Courthouse. Sunday, Oct. 14, from 1:30 p. m. until 9 p. m. The public is invited.

County commissioners are joining in sponsoring the event, and along with Historical Society officials will be on hand to extend a welcome to those viewing the murals.

After discussing plans at length, B. E. Kelley, secretary of the society, was named general chairman, and Mrs. Homer Garringer, chairman of hospitality. The president of the society, George Pensyl, was appointed chairman of the reception committee.

The new lighting system for properly illuminating the murals will be ready for the public showing, and invitations will be extended to organizations throughout Ohio, with indications that a large number of people from all parts of the state will be present as well as local residents.

BOARD MEMBERS contributed $50 at the meeting, toward defraying expenses of the "open house" to show the murals.

Other matters pertaining to the historical society were discussed. Mrs. Ed Fite, treasurer, reported a substantial sum in the treasury following a recent payment of $500 on the museum indebtedness, reducing the debt to $2,000. Plans for an early drive to wipe out the remaining debt were discussed.

Secretary Kelley gave a report on the present status of the effort to obtain the "point" where the Powell service station formerly was located, and the society hopes to acquire this property, although some time is expected to elapse before the differences between Earl Powell, the owner, and Socony Mobil Oil Co. are settled.

The secretary and President Pensyl reports on items acquired for the museum during the year to date.

Adventist Group Plans Offering for Trinidad Hospital

Members of the Washington C. H. Seventh Day Adventist Church will contribute funds Saturday to help establish a new hospital in Port-of-Spain, Trinidad.

Mrs. Della Ford, Sabbath School superintendent, in announcing the special offering, pointed out that "Trinidad is the most disease-ridden island in the Caribbean" and is known as "the white man's grave."

Mrs. Ford said that Seventh Day Adventist missionaries have met death there from malaria, typhoid and yellow fever, that government hospitals are crowded and that the clinic established there by the church cannot meet the needs, even though it has twice been enlarged.

The Port-of-Spain hospital, when completed, will be the sixth such mission hospital operated by the denomination in inter-America. The church has a total of 235 medical institutions throughout the world.

her "Woman Athlete of the year" in the annual Associated Press poll. On the 1950 ballot, sports writers named her the Woman Athlete of the Half Century.

HER CAREER began as a player on the Golden Cyclones, a Dallas basketball team.

She was a thin, wiry girl of 17, weighing 105. In her first game she tossed 40 points through the hoop. She led the Cyclones to the AAU championship in 1931.

She ended her basketball career in 1932 when the Golden Cyclones lost to Oklahoma Presbyterian College in the AAU finals although The Babe scored 16 points. She was named All - America forward both years.

A few months later she won the national AAU women's track and field championship single-handed, taking five first places.

That brought her a place on the 1932 Olympics team and in the qualifying round she won 9 out of 10 firsts but was allowed to compete in only three Olympic events.

She won two of them, the javelin throw and 80-meter hurdles, with world's records.

She was shopping for a party dress when she saw a green-trimmed golf bag and a set of clubs. She bought them.

The first time out she shot a 95. Her caddy was Lloyd Mangrum, later to become a golf great himself.

Within a month she was in the low 80s. She won her first tournament with a 77 and was medalist. That was in 1934. Before long she was able to outhit her women rivals 100 to 150 yards off the tee.

She won some 90 tournaments.

She was an expert in everything she tried. She once played the out field for several innings with the Dallas professional baseball team, getting a hit and making some fine catches. She once toured the country as a billiards expert.

They wouldn't let her into the U. S. Men's Open, but she showed what she could do against the men linksters in a pro - amateur in Phoenix in 1946 when she shot a 67 to lead a field including such stars as Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Sam Snead.

Among her other feats: She hit three home runs in a women's amateur baseball game, scored 106 points in a basketball contest, could slam a golf ball more than 300 yards, once hurled a baseball 296 feet, pitched for the St. Louis Cardinals in an exhibition game against the Brooklyn Dodgers, and was an impressive left-footed kicker when she worked out with the Southern Methodist University football team.

Mrs. Zaharias was not an Amazon. She was a slim 5 feet 6, and was a graceful ballroom dancer.

'City Service' Area Expanded By Ohio Bell

Change Means Lower Charges for 368 Phone Subscribers

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co.'s proposal to enlarge the base rate area of the Washington C. H. exchange to take in several newly-built sections adjacent to the city, has been approved by the Ohio Public Utilities Commission.

A "base rate area" is an area in which the density of homes enables the utility to supply service at a fixed rate because of the economy of operation in more densely populated sections.

According to Paul Dougherty, the company's commercial manager here, the expansion of the base rate area will result in a reduction in monthly charges for local service for approximately 368 Washington C. H. exchange subscribers. Total reductions for all subscribers affected will amount to $2,200. per year.

The new rate plan went into effect Sept. 21, Dougherty said, and telephone bills dated Sept. 21 and later will reflect the changes.

THE ENLARGED base rate area takes in several built-up sections on the city's outskirts. Subscribers who live outside the base rate area pay a monthly mileage charge based on the distance from the base rate boundary.

"We are studying the various areas in which we operate," Dougherty said. "The growth and development in and around Washington C. H. during the past few years has resulted in a steady demand for service in these new areas.

He also pointed out that telephone base rate areas are governed by the population and have no reference to the corporation lines of communities. Within the base rate area, urban grades of service are furnished at rates which do not vary with the distance from the central office.

Subscribers who are affected by the changes are now being notified by mail, Dougherty said.

2 Portable Radios Stolen from Store

Theft of two radios from the Yeoman Radio and Television Store, 141 S. Main St., was reported to police at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday.

One was a Zenith portable transistor set, either dark maroon or black with gold trim and the other was a CBS portable transistor set, dark blue with gold trim. Police said they were described as thinner than the ordinary set, but otherwise about the size of the average small portable radios.

The report said they are believed to have been taken by a shoplifter from a wall shelf behind the cash register some time during the day.

Police were continuing their investigation Thursday.

Major Crimes, Delinquency Both Show Increase in Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP) — Major crimes and juvenile delinquency both are on the increase in Ohio.

The Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction says the increase in juvenile delinquency is ahead of the national average.

The semi-annual report of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, compiled from local police records, shows murder, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft making a marked increase in Ohio.

Only major crime on the downgrade in the first six months of this year was robbery.

John Ferguson, chief of Ohio's juvenile correction division, said Wednesday the number of youths committed to state institutions during the first six months of this year increased 38 per cent over the same period last year. He said juvenile court cases climbed 15 per cent.

"The significant thing," said Ferguson, "is that not all of this delinquency can be charged to the increase in child population."

According to statistics, he said, counties with a population of more than 100,000 persons averaged a 79 per cent increase in delinquency from 1948 to 1955. But counties of between 50,000 and 100,000 population showed an average increase of 104 per cent.

Even more amazing, said Ferguson, is that counties under 50,000 population showed an average increase of 135 per cent.

"It is clear," he said, "that juvenile delinquency is not just a big city problem."

He cited some possible reasons for the increase:

"The insecurities of parents are sometimes passed on to youngsters. The emphasis on money and material things has increased. The future is uncertain.

"People are much more conscious of delinquent behavior and more prone to send kids to court earlier than in the past. Kids are more aggressive. They don't seem to be limited by the moral standards of the community. They seem to defy authority."

For every 100,000 persons in Ohio cities in the first half of 1956, the FBI major crime report shows, there were 2.3 murders compared with 1.4 in the same period of 1955.

On the same population basis, robberies were down from 25 to 23.2, assaults were up from 19.1 to 24.6, burglaries climbed from 148 to 162.5, larceny was up from 486.5 to 549.6 and auto theft up from 63.3 to 87.1
